ROSTER OF KLAN REVEALS NAMES OF NOTABLES

Chief of Police and Sheriff Are Included but Both Declare They Resigned Long Ago

Official records of the Ku Klux Klan, now under investigation by the District Attorney's office, yesterday disclosed the names of nineteen prominent Los Angeles men, including county and city officials, as applicants for membership in the "Invisible Empire." These were as follows:

Sheriff William I. Traeger.
Chief of Police Louis D. Oaks.
Perry F. Backus, attorney.
Ray Barnett, attorney.
A. T. Chapman, attorney.
Robert M. Dunsmoor, physician.
Arthur G. Graham, lieutenant of police.
Howard O. Nicholson, lieutenant of police.
Earnest Rhoads, captain of the fire department.
W. J. Morrison, captain of the fire department.
Arnold E. Carette, lieutenant of the fire department.
C. O. Hively, listed as captain of the National Guard.
Edward Beaumont, police sergeant.
C. M. McFadden, police sergeant.
Louis Rico, patrolman.
C. Sharp Minor, organist.
George Pross, manager Burns International Detective Agency.
J. B. Armstrong, private detective.
Robert McMahon, police detective sergeant.

That most of these men have resigned from the organization, many of them long before the Inglewood raid, and some after only a brief connection with the Klan, was disclosed by their statements and statements made by their friends last night.

The name of Joe C. Burke, attorney, of Santa Ana, was also found among the records seized at the office of Grand Goblin W. S. Coburn, according to attaches of the District Attorney's office. The name corresponds to that of the U. S. Attorney here. Across the face of the application, according to the investigators, was written "Nix. W. S. C." U. S. Attorney Burke was on his way to Los Angeles from Fresno last night.

IN ONLY SHORT TIME

Sheriff Traeger and Chief of Police Oaks had but a perfunctory relationship with the Klan. Sheriff Traeger, according to statements made in his absence by Undersheriff Biscailuz, was solicited some time last summer and resigned after a week's membership in the organization. His demand for the acceptance of his resignation was ignored for a while by the Klan officials, Mr. Biscailuz said. Sheriff Traeger then made a personal trip to one of the Klan meetings and there demanded that his name be taken off the membership rolls. Chief of Police Oaks's affiliation was only technical, according to his statement to The Times. He was asked by a personal friend to join, allowed the use of his name, and almost immediately afterward asked that it be withdrawn, which was done before any official action could be taken by the Klan officials. At that time Chief Oaks was a detective sergeant.

With the exception of Sheriff Traeger and Chief Oaks, the names made known yesterday were obtained from what purport to be original applications for membership, accompanied by signatures of the applicants.

Charges that the names of Sheriff Traeger and Chief Oaks were used by Klan Kleagles in obtaining new members long after both severed their connections with the organization, were made by their friends last night. In Sheriff Traeger's case, Undersheriff Biscailuz said, another effort to have him join the organization shortly before the Inglewood raid was made, but without success.

SAYS SHERIFF RESIGNED

"The Sheriff is in the desert country and cannot reach the city till late," Mr. Biscailuz said. "He told me when the investigation started that he resigned when he learned that the character of the organization was not in keeping with the duties of public officials. He said he is opposed to violence and mob rule and did not disclose his brief affiliation with the Klan any sooner because he did not want to hinder the investigation. His only reason for joining was the representation made to him that the Klan was to assist law enforcement officers in upholding the laws of the State and the nation."

GETS MYSTERIOUS PACKAGE

Considerable excitement was stirred up at the District Attorney's office when Rev. W. A. McCorkle, pastor of a negro church at 1252 East Twenty-fifth street, arrived with a suspicious-looking package. This, he said, came to him through the mail and he feared it was a bomb. The day before, he told Detective James Smith, he had received a letter stating that the Ku Klux Klan needed funds for attorneys and demanding that McCorkle place $1000 in a tin can and leave it in a pool near Naples. The letter, the pastor said, contained threats. When Detective Smith opened the package he found a tomato can with a piece of lead inside. The authorities did not take the matter seriously, but referred Rev. McCorkle to the Federal officials.

A glimpse of the "inside story" of the Inglewood raid was given the county grand jury yesterday. The intimate details, history and origin of the affair, with which the authorities plan to prove it was a masked mob outrage, while the participants hope to present it in the light of a "community enterprise," were read into the grand jury transcript from the testimony under oath given by Inglewood officers, citizens and members and officials of the Invisible Empire, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

The Klansmen and other known members of the raiding party arrived at the Hall of Records in the

JUSTICE IN HIGH GEAR

Short Shrift to Gotham Thugs

Crooks May Find Themselves in Sing Sing on Same Day of Crime

Court Delays to be Wiped Out in Swift Method Now Adopted

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, May 9.—A man who commits a burglary, hold-up or other crime of violence any morning before sunrise, may be in Sing Sing before sunset on the same day, according to an arrangement for the swift handling of criminals which was put into effect at police headquarters tonight, at the request of Dist.-Atty Jacob H. Banton.

Under this arrangement a detective who arrests a hold-up man or murderer will not wait for a hearing at the magistrate's court, but will go at once with his prisoner and witnesses to the District Attorney's office, where the case will be placed before the grand jury at once. In such cases immediate indictments have been returned recently, followed by speedy court action, especially when defendants pleaded guilty. A burglar caught in the act at 3 a.m. might easily be at Sing Sing in time for lunch on the same day, under this arrangement, or within nine hours.

CUT DOWN DELAYS

Although criminal cases have been handled with unprecedented swiftness in the last three weeks, it has usually required a week or ten days between the commission of the crime and action at the District Attorney's office. This will now be cut down to a few hours.

Inspector John Coughlin, in charge of the detective bureau, issued orders today that all detectives who had made arrests on Saturday or Sunday, or who should make arrests early Monday morning, should appear at the District Attorney's office with prisoners, witnesses and evidence, in the course of the morning.

A number of prisoners are already on hand to test the new high speed arrangement, which is expected to make New York justice in the handling of major criminal cases a little swifter than the traditional Jersey justice.

BANTON EXPLAINS

"We have nearly caught up to the criminals," Dist.-Atty. Banton said today, "and it is now possible to effect another saving of time in handling crimes of violence.

"Hitherto the procedure has been to take such criminals before a magistrate, where frequently there have been delays, so that it often required ten days or longer before the evidence could be submitted to the grand jury. New cases of this kind will be put before the grand jury at once. We intend to give burglary, robbery and other crimes involving violence and danger to life and limb the right of way over all other cases, so that each case may be considered by the grand jury without loss of time.

THE PROCEDURE

"The procedure will be that the detectives will take their prisoners and witnesses to the regular

MAY SURRENDER CHARTERS

National Banks, Hampered in Business, May Quit Federal System

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Unless Congress acts, the national banking system will soon be gravely menaced, according to Comptroller of the Currency Crissinger.

In great cities like Cleveland and Detroit, Crissinger points out, the situation is already serious. National banks unable to compete on equal terms with State banks and trust companies are surrendering the charters and reincorporating under the State laws.

The twenty-year limitation, he asserts, is operating practically to put the national banks out of business so far as the exercise of trust and fiduciary functions are concerned. State banks have unlimited charters in twenty-one States, including Ohio, and in many others charters run longer than twenty years.

In a letter to Senator William M. Calder of New York, a member of the Senate Committee on Banking and Currency, Mr. Crissinger calls attention to the constant surrender of their charters by national banks.

"I have just recently had the matter up with some of the leading bankers of Cincinnati," the letter says, "who are contemplating following the example of Cleveland, unless we can find some relief in the way of a perpetual charter which would enable them to carry on a trust business. It has real foundation in law and equity in the administration of long-continuing estates and the National Bank Act has got to be amended so as to afford this relief or the system will ultimately lose all national banks which desire to carry on fiduciary privileges and powers in such States where the same rights are accorded to State banks.

"It seems to me that if the Federal Reserve system is to be perpetuated and to become a permanent institution in this country the national banking system must be preserved in order that proper capitalization for the Federal Reserve banks can be maintained. We now have over $200 national banks in the system whereas the State system only furnishes about 1420 member banks out of a total of something over 20,000 State institutions. So it seems to me that encouragement by giving fair treatment and equal opportunity to national banks with State banks should be a policy that should meet the approval of Congress."

That the plan to give perpetual charters to national banks will meet with determined opposition is indicated by the hostile attitude of Senators Robert L. Owen of Oklahoma, former chairman of the Senate Banking and Currency Committee; Gilbert M. Hitchcock of Nebraska, and William H. King of Utah.

These Senators, all Democrats, object strenuously to the idea of a perpetual grant of power to any bank. Senator Pomerene of Ohio has suggested his willingness to meet this objection by a reservation in the proposed amendment whereby Congress would retain the power to revoke a national bank charter for cause. Comptroller Crissinger is understood to be willing to agree to this.

J. M. Elliott, chairman of the board of directors of the First National Bank of Los Angeles, said last night that so far as he knows the conditions referred to by Comptroller Crissinger do not obtain in Los Angeles. He stated that the only national banks hereabouts likely to revert to the status of State banks are small country institutions which have been absorbed by large city banks operating under State laws. A national bank may not legally be a branch of a State bank, and such absorbed institutions must relinquish their Federal charters unless some way around the difficulty is found. Mr. Elliott said that most of the big national banks hereabouts have affiliations with State banks which in effect give them the desired advantages of a State bank.

NATION OF SPENDERS

Bunghole Waste Too Great

Nonproductive Places to Throw Cash Growing, is Manufacturers' View

Too Many Middlemen Taking Down Profits Also Curse of Common People

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, May 9.—Americans are "saving at the spigot and wasting at the bunghole" at a period when they should be discarding nonessentials and clinging to necessities, John E. Edgerton, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, declared at the annual convention of the organization here today.

"High priced hotels, theaters, ball parks and other camping grounds of amusement and nonproduction are enlarging their capacities to accommodate the ever-increasing army of refugees from the storms of life," he declared.

Golf clubs, cigar factories, jewelry establishments, walking cane emporiums, pet dog kennels, canary bird dispensaries and bootlegging joints are flourishing as never before. Every street and highway throughout the land is teeming with automobiles that are burning expensive gasoline in the presence of self-imposed idleness.

"And all this time the costs of north, south, east and west are teeming with the multitudes of the weary. The constructive forces of society, with marvelously increased demands upon them, are at this moment suffering for the lack of adequate nourishment."

Mr. Edgerton asserted that the chief economic problem of the day is there are too many middlemen in the industrial fabric, with too many persons engaged in distributing the products turned out by the farmer and the manufacturer.

"When you add to this excess of distributors the countless number of others whose chief activities are to reform, regulate, inspect, denounce, tax, plunder and otherwise live upon those who are trying to produce something, it will not be difficult to discover the principal factor in the continually high cost of living," he said.

Referring to the tariff legislation now under consideration in Congress, J. R. Howard of Chicago, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, offered a plea for revision "sufficiently flexible to meet the rapidly changing conditions and not the result of long drawn out hearings at which the interest which talks longest and loudest wins."

W. Averill Harriman, shipowner, said there would never be an American merchant marine unless the Shipping Board analyzes its fleet, defines what part of it is necessary, within maximum and minimum limits, to develop our commercial trade, and sets the balance aside to be sold as promptly as possible to foreign buyers, or to be scrapped.

"It is a very severe policy, but it must be done or we won't have any American shipping," he added.

REDS REFUSE TO YIELD, BILLION LOAN DEMANDED

Tchitcherin Also Hedges on Restoration of Property; Allies' Plans Again Upset

BY SAMUEL SPEWACK
[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

GENOA, May 9.—Just before putting the finishing touches to the Russian answer to the Allies, which will decide the wobbly course of the conference, George Tchitcherin this afternoon gave me an exclusive interview outlining specifically the soviets' stand and making frank comments on the Allied position.

The Bolshevist answer will not be made public until tomorrow. Tchitcherin's interview is a statement of what Premier Lloyd George must face in his feverish sprint to save his show. These points were heavily emphasized by the head of the Russian Delegation:

SOVIETS' DEMANDS

(1.) Russia will not be satisfied unless her treasury is given $1,000,000,000 in either money or goods. (Lloyd George told correspondents yesterday such a loan is impossible.)

(2.) The Russians refuse to recognize the principle of compensation for confiscated property but they consent to it in practice. However they reserve for themselves the right to judge how much and when to pay.

(3.) Russia will not consent to general negotiation on the question of her frontiers, but will settle this question with the nations concerned.

"Whether or not this will be satisfactory to the Allies, I cannot say," Tchitcherin told me. "Satisfactory is a vague word. We have tried to be conciliatory, but these things we must have if the negotiations are to proceed. It is for the Allies to decide."

OBVIOUS SIGNIFICANCE

The Russian leader's statements are of obvious significance in view of the prevalent belief that the conference is near its end. Seated in the reception room of the Hotel De Genes, his characteristic alert expression on his face, this tributing the new diplomats, whose role at the conference is second only to that of Lloyd George, was himself noncommittal as to the duration of the negotiations.

"If our terms are accepted, we are willing to negotiate for a long time if necessary," he said, emphatically. "We are conciliatory, but we must have something concrete to take home in return for recognition of debts, something different from the vague proposals of the Allies."

Asked whether he thought France could be persuaded to consider the Russian reply, he said with a smile:

SLAPS AT FRANCE

"France is looking for mischief. One cannot tell what she will do."

Of the Japanese, who wrote a sharp note to the Russians, rebuking them for mentioning Korea in their note on the Georgian question, Tchitcherin said:

"Japan is at war with us. Naturally she assumes an arrogant tone."

In effect Tchitcherin's statements mean that the whole Allied memorandum must be rewritten to be acceptable. His reply is neither the yes or no answer demanded by Louis Barthou. It is, however, an affirmation of the Russians' last stand.

"We must have a loan," Tchitcherin repeated. "We must have it for the treasury of the soviet government. We do not care if it comes from banks associated with the governments or from the governments themselves. But $1,000,000,000 is the necessary definite figure, not the vague proposals of the Allies.

CONFISCATED PROPERTY

"On the question of confiscated property we refuse to recognize the principle of this. We have numerous precedents of bourgeois nations. But because we are conciliatory we are willing to give concessions, but we must reserve judgment as to when compensation is justified."

This stand on the loan and compensation is directly contrary to the France-Belgian position as officially announced. Unless the situation changes miraculously overnight, it constitutes a final deadlock in the bitterly fought conference.

Turning to the question of frontiers, Tchitcherin thus expressed the Russian view:

"Russia will settle her boundary disputes with Rumania and other boundary disputes with the nations involved. She will not consent to general negotiations."

Discussing private agreements if a general understanding is impossible, he said, Russia had been willing to make them before the conference, but in the event of a rupture, such procedure would be more difficult.

Then I asked him my last question, after he had made clear his position:

"In view of the unsettled situation have you received assurances that this will be satisfactory to the British?"

"Satisfactory—" was his answer, "is indefinite. Now we must have definite answers."

Registration of Manila Voters is Disappointing

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MANILA (P. I.) May 9.—The voters registered in Manila for the third general election under the Jones law number only one in twelve of the population. It is estimated that the provincial reports will not exceed the Manila ratio.

It is reckoned that the total registration will be around 650,000.

One element in keeping the figures down is the necessity of repaying the poll tax. This requirement is made this year because of the government's financial difficulties,

DAVISON IS LAID AWAY IN VILLAGE

Simple Funeral Service is Held for Financier; Red Cross Honors

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

LOCUST VALLEY (N. Y.) May 9.—Multimillionaire and simple villager met today at the little ivy-clad chapel of St. Joseph's of Lattingtown for the funeral of Henry P. Davison, banker and philanthropist. Present also were men and women of the American Red Cross to pay tribute to the man of affairs, who, during the World War, had directed the organization's efforts to keep alight the spark of life or ease the final hours of the dying.

The Red Cross wreath occupied the place of honor at the bier; the Red Cross flag floated from the rafters in the tiny Long Island church, a group of Red Cross nurses stood with bowed heads on the church lawn during the simple Episcopalian ritual, and a delegation from the Red Cross war council officially represented the organization.

J. P. Morgan, head of the banking house in which Mr. Davison had been a partner, led the procession into the church, to which only the nearest relatives and close friends were admitted. About the chapel were men and women internationally prominent who had come by motor or special train for the ceremony. At the graveside were only the closest friends.

Daugherty Says Officials of Wilson Administration Covered Up Frauds

Declares Department Handicapped in Investigations by Lack of Funds

BY GRAFTON S. WILCOX
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Disclosure of the names of "influential personages" in the Wilson administration, who protected contractors charged with defrauding the government of millions of dollars during the war and who "were personally interested in concealing them," was promised today by Atty.-Gen. Daugherty in a report to President Harding explaining delay in prosecuting war contract frauds.

President Harding transmitted Daugherty's report to Congress with an expression of hope that it would prove helpful to the House in acting on the Woodruff resolution for an investigation of Daugherty's failure to proceed against those who robbed the government in war contracts. Representative Mondell, Wyoming, Republican leader, had the report read to the House. A lively row ensued during which charges were made that the President's action was designed to kill off the proposed investigation.

SMELLS TO HIGH HEAVEN

Representative Woodruff, Republican sponsor of the resolution, asserted that the war contract scandal "smells to high heaven" and declared that the Republican Congress could not afford to face the country at the approaching election without "cleaning it up." Representative Garrett, Tennessee, Democratic leader, called upon Representative Mondell to state whether the President's letter and Daugherty's report meant the death of the Woodruff resolution, but Mondell did not reply.

The Attorney-General laid the blame for failure to prosecute upon Congress and promised an energetic campaign against war profiteers as soon as necessary legislation is enacted. He called for prompt action on the measure creating twenty-three additional Federal judgeships, the bill establishing a special grand jury in the District of Columbia to grind out indictments against accused contractors and an additional appropriation of $500,000 to

BOMB WAR IN CHICAGO

Two Policemen Slain, One Wounded, Building Wrecked by Unionites in Wage Award Battle

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, May 10.—Two policemen were shot to death, one was wounded, a garage was bombed with a $5000 loss and a wild chase after the bombers was participated in, all between midnight and 1 o'clock this morning.

Patrolman Thomas Clark, 30 years old, was shot and killed in a fight with bombers in front of the glaziers' establishment of Sharp & Partridge, at midnight.

Within a few moments the assassins, fleeing from the scene, fired upon four West Park policemen, killing Acting Lieut. Terence Lyons, and wounding Patrolman Albert Moeller.

The shooting of Patrolman Clark came with the third attack upon "the glaziers" establishment. Several days ago a bomb was thrown at the place and a portion of the wall demolished, and much damage done inside. James Collar, a watchman, narrowly escaped with his life. Since that time police protection has been afforded the place.

Last night Patrolman Clark was told that the garage of Tyler & Hippach had been bombed. This was the twelfth of the Landis bombs regarded as violent protests against the Landis award. The bomb rocked the whole lower

GERMANY TO GET BILLION

Allies Understood to Be Ready to Make Loan to Avoid Crisis Over Reparations Payments

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PARIS, May 9.—The reparations commission—meaning the Allies and any other countries willing to participate—will grant Germany a loan of 5,000,000,000 gold marks (about $1,250,000,000,) according to the scheme under discussion.

The German Finance Minister, Hermes, is due in Paris Thursday to negotiate for this loan.

Germany will guarantee the loan, stipulating payment in a term of years, thus enabling it to avoid a crisis over the reparations installment, due May 31. A 5,000,000,000 gold mark loan will cover the cash reparations due for the next four years, leaving Germany to pay the balance in manufactured materials.

The British, Italians, Japanese and Belgians, and Roland F. Boyden, unofficial American observer at the conference, approve of the scheme, and French adhesion is expected, owing to the growing unpopularity over the prospects of calling up a class of troops for the occupation of the Ruhr, as Premier Poincare intimated, if the Germans failed to make the reparations payment due on May 31.

Although the Chamber of Deputies is pretty well solidly reactionary, and is ready to back Premier Poincare in going into Germany, France as a country is becoming more and more Socialistic and the cantonal elections on May 14 are expected to reveal a sharp movement to the left. Reports from the country indicate that the idea of troops being called to the colors for service in Germany is distasteful, and with 2,000,000 men involved, the government is hesitating.

In the meantime, however, Marshal Foch, Gen. Weygand and Gen. Buat, chiefs of staff, have completed plans for operations to extend the military occupation in Germany and Premier Poincare is reported as having approved these plans.

President Millerand's return may change the situation slightly, as he is not so sanguine over the results of occupying Ruhr as Premier Poincare and the military leaders.

WAR PLANNED ON ILLITERACY

State Conference Being Held at Phoenix, Ariz.

Indians and Mexicans Cause of High Totals

[PRESS WIRE DISPATCH]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) May 9.—The first illiteracy conference ever known in Arizona is being held in Phoenix, called by State School Superintendent Hiele Toles. The principal speakers are Dr. J. J. Tigert, U. S. Commissioner of Education, and Dr. Frank C. Lockwood, acting president of the University of Arizona.

Arizona, though spending at least three-fifths of her State and county tax income for education, is badly placed in the illiteracy statistics, with 39,131 individuals above 10 years of age, or 16.3 per cent, classed as illiterate. Only 9223, white and 538 negroes were found illiterate, most of the lacking being Mexicans or Indians. So it is appreciated that most of the work to be done must be directed toward the Mexican part of the population. Most of the illiteracy was listed as rural, though in Tucson the individuals numbered 1175 and in Phoenix, 810. By counties, Maricopa was found to have 7476, largely among the cotton pickers; Apache, one of the least populous of the subdivisions, 6543, and Pima, 4347. The best county record is that of Mohave, 487, and the best town record that of Prescott, 102.

Announcement is made of the completion of a stretch of causeway and trestling on the California side of the Colorado River at Blythe this in time to avoid trouble from the early summer flood in the stream. The Blythe route to California heretofore has been closed during May, June and July, of each year, owing to the stoppage of ferry operation. Now the ferry will operate steadily from the bluff side at Ehrenberg to the end of the causeway and will be open the year around.

This routes the shortest from Phoenix to Los Angeles. Blythe is made easily on the first day and Riverside or Los Angeles on the second. Most of the travel is via Buckeye. There are only occasional rough or soft spots, the worst stretch of any considerable length being between Blythe and Mecca and this is to be bettered at an early date.

Travel between Phoenix and Yuma, via Gila Bend, is pronounced feasible, though the driver who values his car will not exceed ten miles an hour between the end of the Yuma highway, near Wellton, and Gila Bend. A new and good highway soon will be available between Gila Bend and the Gillespie dam, whereon is a good crossing, now with several inches of water on the dam apron, which is in use as a bridge.

MANY TRUE BILLS

PHOENIX (Ariz.) May 9.—The Federal grand jury now sitting is finding a large number of true bills against individuals who have stolen motor cars on the Coast and who have thought to find haven here. Two special officers detailed by Sheriff Montgomery thus far in the fiscal year have recovered twenty-eight stolen cars elsewhere; twenty-seven men have been arrested, and twenty-two have been convicted. Of 168 auto thefts reported, 128 have been recovered.

Maricopa county is far in the lead in Arizona in automobile registration, with about 11,400 cars, of which 9000 are owned in Phoenix. The county average is a car to every 7.8 persons. Mohave, a mining county, leads the State in its average of a car to every 6.3 residents, though the cars number only 846. The whole State has registrations of about 35,300 motor cars and trucks, from which license collections thus far have amounted to nearly $200,000. Plates for next year's licenses are to be ordered soon by Secretary of State Hall. He wanted them made of copper, but lack of adequate appropriation will leave them of steel, with blue lettering on white ground.

TEMPE (Ariz.) May 9.—The Normal School of Arizona at Tempe hereafter will require for admission evidence of completion of at least three years of high-school work. It is intended eventually to admit to the institution only high school graduates. At Flagstaff there is to be a change in the curriculum of the Northern Arizona Normal as soon as the Flagstaff schools can take care of the high school courses.

BIGAMIST GETS PRISON TERM

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, May 9.—Not less than one nor more than three years imprisonment was the sentence imposed today upon Virginius St. Julian Mayo, New Haven manufacturer convicted last Saturday of bigamy. Under the good conduct and commutation rules of the State prison, Mayo may be paroled in about eight months.

JAPANESE PICTURE-BRIDES ENTERING HAWAIIAN ISLANDS MUST PASS LITERACY TESTS

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

HONOLULU, May 9.—Literacy tests that will cut down the incoming flood of Japanese picture-brides by at least 40 per cent are to be put into effect here immediately, according to R. B. Halsey, immigration inspector. The new order is the result of a decision by the Department of Labor, which holds that "so-called proxy marriages, where one of the principals is in the United States and the other in a foreign country, cannot be recognized as valid."

The recent decision, Halsey said, reversed the policy in effect with regard to picture-brides since the passage in 1917 of the act providing a literacy test for all aliens. Heretofore exception has been made in favor of the picture-brides on the ground that, since a proxy marriage was regarded as legal by the Japanese government, it should be taken by the United States as valid.

Picture-brides have been coming to Hawaii at the rate of 1000 each year, Halsey's figures showed.

staff of the indictment bureau, who will review the evidence, and if they find it sufficient will draw the indictment, and place the case before the grand jury.

"Recently, indictments in such cases have only required twenty or thirty-five minutes on the average. If the indicted man sees fit to plead guilty, it will be possible for him to be taken into court at once.

"In the case of a man who pleads guilty, it might be that he would be in Sing Sing before the close of the day on which he was arrested. If he decided to fight the case, he would be entitled to forty-eight hours before trial, so that in cases which present no special difficulty, the prisoner might be convicted in less than three days after his arrest."

OLD METHODS

Until the acceleration of methods in the courts took place recently, it had been a common thing for burglars, robbers and others guilty of desperate crimes, to get free on bail and go forth committing other crimes for two years or more before being brought to trial.

Mr. Banton said that while criminals suddenly had become inactive when the courts became extraordinarily active, he had noticed a "flare up" of crime in the last few days, which showed that extreme vigilance on the part of the police department, the District Attorney's office and the courts, must continue.

SENTENCE MME. BRUSILOFF

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

MOSCOW, May 9.—According to Russian newspaper men, Mme. Brusiloff, daughter-in-law of Gen. Brusiloff, was the woman sentenced to death yesterday among eight priests and two laymen, for having opposed the requisitioning of church treasures and for alleged participation in disturbances.

FIVE MEN TELL PLANS OF RAID

Witnesses Volunteer to Go Before Grand Jury

Inside Story of Night's Work is Bared

afternoon, after men whose names did not appear on the list furnished the District Attorney by Paul Barksdale D'Orr, attorney for the thirty-eight participants, finished their testimony. These men, Mr. D'Orr pointed out, came up voluntarily, to tell all they know of the "enterprise."

Kleagle Nathan A. Baker, the confessed leader of the raid, and official of the Ku Klux Klan; L. L. Bryson, druggist - constable of Huntington Park; Harry A. Wait, proprietor of the garage in Inglewood, where the raiders met and discussed their plans; Charles Casto, Venice amusement man, and W. A. Alexander, building contractor, were the five voluntary witnesses. They arrived at the Hall of Records in a body and awaited their turn to testify. None was willing to discuss what his testimony would be.

KNOW THE INSIDE STORY

According to Attorney D'Orr the quintet knows more about the "inside story of the raid" and the immediate circumstances surrounding it than do any of the others whose names appear on the list and for that reason were the first to go to the grand jury.

"Grand Goblin William S. Coburn is anxious to tell the grand jury anything he may know, and told me that he is ready to appear before that body any time," Mr. D'Orr said. "His plans to testify tomorrow morning."

He added that Capt. Coburn stated he knew nothing about the raid other than what he had learned from his own independent investigation made after the raid.

The "masked part" of the raid was revealed to the jury in the testimony of Deputy City Marshal Frank Woerner, Frank Vannatta, R. D. Knickerbocker, Don Parker and Motorcycle Officer Blake E. Shambeau. They were the first witnesses of the day and told what the investigators termed "the outsider's inside story."

Woerner, the youthful officer who routed the masked raiders and killed one and wounded two in the party, and Vannatta, witness, followed Woerner. The two, according to reports, related the story told by them at the Coroner's inquest, and told how they were stopped by masked men on the road toward the Elduayen home when they answered a call for help from a Japanese rancher in the vicinity. Both are said to have reiterated their original stories that Constable Medford Mosher, the officer slain by Woerner, and his assistants on the road outpost, were masked.

Knickerbocker and Parker, Los Angeles Examiner reporter and photographer, who testified at the inquest, then were given an advance trip that the raid was to be staged and were allowed to watch the organization of the mob just before the raid, also told, in detail, the stories related by them at the inquest.

TELLS OF KU KLUX OATH

The testimony of Officer Shambeau, considered by the District Attorney of great importance, was given to the grand jury after the noon recess. Shambeau, the reports were, told of the Ku Klux Klan ceremony in the undertaking chapel at Inglewood the night before the raid, of the Ku Klux Klan oath administered to him by Kleagle Baker on the night before the raid, and of the discussion and organization for the raid at that time. He also stated that he was advised where to wait for his prisoners and gave additional details which with the authorities expect to prove that the "enterprise" was far from being a regular, lawful, orderly investigation and arrest.

Dist.-Atty. Woolwine joined Chief Deputy Doran, in the grand jury room during Shambeau's testimony. Mr. Doran questioned the other witnesses.

Kleagle Baker entered the grand jury room immediately after Officer Shambeau left. Reporters and investigators who watched the exit and entry failed to note any "Goblin's call" or "Kleagle's squawk" exchanged between the two. Shambeau is the man who recently sent in his resignation to the Klan.

Bugler Lewis Found Drowned Near Manila

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MANILA (P. I.) May 9.—The body of Private Tom Lewis, bugler of the Thirty-first Infantry at Fort McKinley, the man that sounded taps over the grave of President McKinley, was found today floating in the Pasig River. Officers of the regiment had searched three days for the missing bugler, who was about to sign honorable discharge papers awaiting him.

Private Lewis has a sister living in New York City. He arrived in Manila a week ago from San Francisco on the transport Sherman. His honorable discharge was more than a year overdue. He had been absent without leave for three days. It is believed he fell accidentally into the river.

The bugler had twenty years of service to his credit, and he had been offered a noncommissioned grade upon his retirement. But he told his superior, "Sir, I have always been a bugler and I will die a bugler."

The body will leave Manila for the United States sometime in June.

THIRTY-ONE STEEDS BURNED TO DEATH

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

LEXINGTON (Ky.) May 9.—Thirty-one thoroughbreds, belonging to former United States Senator Johnson N. Camden, and J. C. Milan, were burned to death when a fire of unknown origin destroyed the Camden and Milan stables here early tonight. Only three of these horses escaped death in the fire, early reports indicate.

Tell of Their Parts in Inglewood Raid

KLAN PLAN IS BLOCKED BY HERRON

Federal Prosecutor Denies Request for Warrants to Arrest the Elduayens

The plans to arrest Fidel Elduayen and his son, Mariano, the Inglewood raid victims, on the charge that they had on the night of April 22, last, violated the national prohibition law, struck a snag in the office of the United States Attorney yesterday.

A complaint had been sworn out against the two men, signed by Kleagle N. A. Baker of the Ku Klux Klan, and L. L. Bryson, before U. S. Commissioner Long, charging that on the date mentioned they had sold two quarts of wine and one quart of liquor in disregard of the prohibition law, and that later on they contributed a half dozen drinks for the pleasure of the subscribing witnesses, the entire cost of the transaction being $9.50.

Under the new rules relating to the prosecution of violators of the liquor laws, promulgated by U. S. Atty. Burke, it is necessary to secure the approval of that office in all such cases before a warrant is issued for the apprehension of the defendants. In other words, it is up to Asst. U. S. Atty. Herron, who has charge of the liquor cases, to say whether any case shall be pushed.

In this instance Mr. Herron has refused to O.K. the complaint sworn to by Baker and Bryson. It is understood that it is the intention to do nothing in the Federal court with the K.K.K. matter until after the State has acted, and if, as a result of such action, the government is interested, the issues will be threshed out there. It is argued that the Elduayens are a fixture in Inglewood, and if they are later on wanted, they can easily be apprehended. Meanwhile the matter is to be allowed to remain in a state of suspended animation.

MASONS OUT TO CURTAIL KLAN CAPER

Taft Council Rules Out Masks; Bakersfield is on Job Also

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BAKERSFIELD, May 9.—Unqualified indorsement of the sentiments expressed by Samuel Edgerton Burke, Grand Master of the Masonic order in California, in his letter to the Masons in the State condemning the Ku Klux Klan, was given here today by Arthur S. Crites, grand senior warden of the State Masonic body. Mr. Crites's stand was in answer to the last paragraph in the Grand Master's letter. He expressed the hope that he may receive from each lodge in the jurisdiction "full assurance that all lodges concur with him in maintaining that orderly government must prevail, and that mob law shall not be given countenance."

The Senior Warden's action was accompanied by several definite developments here and in Taft. The outstanding ones of these were:

In Taft, with four Klansmen sitting on the City Council, the Council passed an antimasking ordinance designed to curtail the Ku Klux Klan activities. A large and insistent crowd was present.

The Bakersfield City Council continued its action against the Klan by appointing a committee to thoroughly investigate the Klan and the relations of the city officials to that secret order.

Councilmen L. S. Robinson, H. H. Smith and W. J. Carlisle were the men appointed by Mayor Hougham.

In the meantime the grand jury investigation is being whipped into shape by Dist.-Atty. J. R. Dorsey, who is working night and day.

R. L. Deeds, formerly a member of the Klan; H. E. Crayton, a carpenter, and J. C. Reasner, union official of Taft, were called by Mr. Dorsey as witnesses.

With two more indictments expected in the next few days the Ku Klux Klan is the chief topic of conversation and public excitement is at high pitch.

TRIAL OF GOVERNOR IS RESUMED TODAY

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WAUKEGAN (Ill.) May 9.—The trial of Gov. Small, halted two days by the illness of Judge Edwards, is expected to resume tomorrow morning. The jurist's physician announced tonight the judge probably will be able to attend court tomorrow.

When court resumes tomorrow work of filling the jury panel for the trial will start again. Two of the four men for the final panel have been tentatively seated. No hope of completing the jury this week is seen.

FIVE KILLED WHEN HOME IS BURNED

Father Saves Three, Then Dies in Effort to Rescue Four Others of Family

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MARENGO (Ill.) May 9.—August Borke, Jr., 40 years old, a railroad employee, qualified early this morning for a Carnegie hero medal, but lost his life in the effort. He made the supreme sacrifice on a flaming altar of paternal love, after saving his wife and two of his children by bundling them in blankets and throwing them out of the windows of his burning home. Borke could have followed them and saved his own life, but screams of "Daddy, Oh, Daddy, save us," came from the attic, where four other children were trapped by the flames.

Borke, weak from the heat and smoke, dashed into the attic. What he found will never be known. From the position of the bodies, he had gathered all the children in his arms, but while he was trying to grope his way through the smoke-filled attic, the floor gave way. All five perished.

Mrs. Borke, 44 years of age, and Marie, 6 months old, escaped with a few bruises when thrown out of the window. Walter, a 9-year-old boy, struck on his head and likely will die of a fractured skull. Those who died, beside the father, were Harold, aged 8; Helen, aged 6; Peter, aged 7, and Verne, aged 2. The house, a story and a half frame structure, stood off the new Grant highway, twenty miles northeast of Elgin. A passing automobilist saw the flames and aroused Borke by hammering on the door.

HUSBAND IS SHOT DOWN AT COLLEGE

Was Leading Fellow-Student Said to Have Insulted Wife at the Time

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

STILLWATER (Okla.) May 9.—Beckham Cobb, 23 years old, Federal student at Oklahoma A. and M. College here, was shot and killed just outside the campus today by Earl Gordon, 25 years old, another Federal student, while escorting the latter home at the point of a revolver to demand an apology to his pretty young wife for an alleged insult offered by Gordon. Both Gordon and Cobb served in the Army during the war. Cobb served overseas.

Gordon is held in jail pending an investigation by county authorities, but tonight no charges had been filed against him.

Bertie Sue Cobb, 18-year-old wife of Cobb, declared tonight that several nights ago Gordon met her on the street and insulted her. She refused to give the nature of the alleged insult, but said she told her husband. She declared that he was not unduly jealous.

Records show that Cobb was on the transport Otranto when it was torpedoed during the war. He was injured and suffering from chronic bronchitis. Mrs. Cobb said she thought her husband had been gassed in France.

Gordon did not make a detailed statement. "Cobb was after me," he said.

Cobb's home is at Birmingham, Ala., and that of Gordon is at Miami, Okla.

PASSION PLAY STAGE SET

People of Oberammergau Will Produce It Again Today, First Time in Twelve Years

BY FLOYD GIBBONS

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

OBERAMMERGAU, May 9.—The simple Christian people of this little mountain hamlet are ready to redeem their 300-year-old vow to God. Already the audience, which is to be drawn from the four corners of the world, is beginning to assemble for the most famous dramatization of Christ's life—the Passion Play—which will have its first public presentation in twelve years tomorrow.

Every train arriving is bringing hundreds of religious spectators, who are eager to take advantage of this opportunity, which occurs once in ten years, but which has not been presented since 1910, due to certain un-Christlike disturbances only too well known.

All rooms already have been taken in the home of Anton Lang, who will play the part of Christ as he did twelve years ago; domiciles of the villagers playing Pontius Pilate, Herod, Judas, Mary and Mary Magdalene, as well as the Apostles and Disciples, all have been spoken for in advance.

There is a Christian cleanliness in the air. The snow-clad peaks of the Bavarian Tyrol look down through their bristling groves of pine trees while the warm sun glistens on the mountains' snowy mantle and pours down real heat on the clean village streets through which the villagers go about bare-headed and bare-kneed in their picturesque Tyrolean dress.

All is activity in the village. There is a sound of pounding hammers and up against almost every house are several ladders on which are sturdy burghers busy with pot and brush, putting the finishing touches to the mural decorations, most of which run to religious motives, surprisingly well executed.

The long pointed shoes of American women are to be seen now in the village streets through which oxen driven by picturesque highlanders smoking long stemmed pipes with painted china bowls and ornate tops proceed with seemingly studied dignity.

This is the scene as the stage is all set for the presentation of the great spectacle tomorrow in the big semi-covered amphitheater where the drama of Christ's sacrifice is played and as it has been repeated every ten years since 1634. That was the year in which the village, almost wiped out by the plague and reduced to the direst extremity, called upon God for relief and promised to produce the story of Christ's sufferings every ten years. Their prayers were answered and tomorrow Oberammergau keeps its vow.

SERIOUS FIRE STARTS IN PARIS THEA

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, May 9.—A fire started shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon in the Casino de Paris, one of Paris' leading music halls, while the actors were rehearsing. The fire is believed to have been caused by a short circuit.

At 5 o'clock, the efforts of firemen to combat the blaze appeared to be successful, but the fire was said not yet to be entirely under control. Another theater, the Apollo, is near the Casino.

STEIN-BLOCH SUITS—$37.50 TO $60

—when your daughter marries

It is sometimes difficult for a wife to refuse financial aid for her husband's projects—yet such aid is often inadvisable. It may even reduce the family to straitened circumstances.

A wise way to turn over a certain amount of money or property to your daughter, at her marriage, would be to place it with this company in a Voluntary or Living Trust.

This would protect it against her own business inexperience and family importunities. It would relieve her of embarrassment, as the fund would be under our control.

Our sound and efficient management of this money or property would provide her an independent income, while the principal would be safeguarded against loss.

SWEDEN SEES LIGHT AHEAD

Economic Recovery Forecast Official Report

Strength of Krona Increases Optimism of People

Unemployment is Gradually Decreasing

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

STOCKHOLM, April 20.—Sweden's complete future recovery from a series of painful operations for post-war ills is forecast in the official economic report of the Swedish Foreign Office Commerce Department just made public. Its principal note of optimism is the Swedish exchange. After a year and a half of deflation and international liquidation still under way, the Swedish krona is virtually at par.

The government experts find that the greatest obstacles to economic recovery lie in the competition of countries with depreciated currency and in the fact that wages have not yet been sufficiently reduced. Countries with low exchange can dump goods in Sweden at prices against which Swedish manufacturers cannot compete. Likewise, in the foreign markets, Sweden is severely handicapped because of her high exchange rate.

TENDENCY TO REVIVAL

The report states that there is a strong tendency toward revival in many lines of industry but that the natural process of building up is delayed by unsettled conditions in Central and Eastern Europe, the monetary troubles and the incompleted process of wage adjustment.

The Foreign Office finds that during the second half of 1921 and the first quarter of this year there was observed a slight increase in the activities of Sweden's basic industries accompanied by expansion in foreign trade, especially in timber, pulp and paper.

Although great interest has been shown in an early return to the gold standard, the Foreign Office reports that doubts have been expressed of the wisdom of adopting the American dollar as basis of parity, as suggested by some financial experts.

BANK DEPOSITS DROP

Bank savings and deposits show a marked drop during the first quarter of the year. This is attributed to consumption of capital during the period of depression.

Never has the Stock Exchange witnessed such drop in values of stocks, the market having been affected, says the report, by the heavy losses suffered by industrial corporations and the nonactivity of others.

Sweden is still suffering from a the sinking-price level and most industries are working on a scale of one-third to two-thirds capacity. The signs of improvement in unemployment are weak. However, the number of unemployed is going down. There were 158,700 jobless on January 31 and only 154,000 idle at the close of February and unemployment continues to decrease. Of these more than 65,000 were receiving government aid.

The report emphasizes that although large cuts in wage scales have been made, real wages, that is wages compared with cost of living—are still above pre-war standard and must be lowered further. This is held to be likely in view of the imports in the United States and England.

FORD MUSCLE SHOALS OFFER IS DENOUNCED

SENATOR NORRIS DECLARES NO CORPORATION SHOULD GET PROJECT

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Henry Ford's proposed contract for purchase and lease of the government's power and nitrate projects at Muscle Shoals, was denounced today by Chairman Norris of the Senate Agriculture Committee as unconscionable and a cinch by which he would obtain "unregulated control of valuable properties," and cause those who negotiated the contract "to be condemned by future generations."

The Nebraska member declared that no corporation would get the Muscle Shoals properties with his consent.

"That applies to any corporation," the Senator exclaimed. "I don't care if it's Fords' or any other."

Turning to Gray Silver, Washington representative of the American Farm Bureau Federation, who had spoken in favor of the Ford offer, the Senator said:

"You know that if Rockefeller, or the International Harvester Company was making the some proposition Ford makes, you would be here condemning it, charging that Congress was giving away the people's property to a corporation.

"Why you could take the Ford offer to Wall Street and get an advance of 1,000,000 per cent on it as a valuable contract, if it was accepted.

"We will be condemned by future generations just like those are being condemned now who gave away lands to corporations in the past."

LILLIAN SHAW WILL GET DIVORCE DECREE

SO STATES JURIST WHO HEARD OF BAY CITY MAN'S ALLEGED ACTS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, May 9.—Mrs. Lillian Shaw Goldstein, known on the vaudeville stage as Lillian Shaw, testified today in her divorce action against John Goldstein, San Francisco manufacturer, Superior Judge Sabath indicated he would grant her a decree.

"We were married in Sacramento, Feb. 5, 1922," she said. "Mr. Goldstein had previously been the husband of my stepsister, who died, leaving him with a 14-year-old daughter. I knew him for many years, and while I was playing in Sacramento, he came there and we were married.

"Two days after the marriage, in a hotel in Sacramento, we got into an argument over money matters and he struck me. I fainted from the blow. On March 23 he struck me again, and I left him. I continued my appearances in other cities and Mr. Goldstein went back to San Francisco."

CIUDAD DE MEXICO, mayo 9. No se ha recibido con favor la reciente innovación del gobierno, de contar las horas por el sistema continental, dando a las doce de la noche el nombre de "las veinticuatro." Sólo unas cuantas oficinas de gobierno lo han adoptado con gusto. Se ha notado que el público olvida a la antigua nomenclatura, en la que se divide el día en dos partes de doce horas cada una.

Amparo Contra Obregón

CIUDAD DE MEXICO, mayo 9. La Suprema Corte, con sólo un voto discordante, concedió amparo a la International Petroleum Company contra actos del Presidente Obregón y del Ministerio de Comercio e Industria. El caso era análogo al de la Texas Company, que se resolvió hace varios meses, sentando en aquella época que no era retroactivo el artículo 27 de la Constitución, que dispone la nacionalización de los depósitos petrolíferos.

NOTAS LOCALES

Se Cuenta la Historia Secreta del Asalto

Ayer se dió al Gran Jurado del Condado un vislumbre de la "historia secreta" del asalto de Inglewood. Los detalles íntimos, la historia y el origen del asunto, con los que las autoridades piensan probar que fué un atentado de enmascarados, en tanto que los actores piensan presentarlo como una "empresa de la comunidad," fueron leídos y agregados a los autos del Gran Jurado, tomándolos del testimonio juramentado dado por los oficiales de Inglewood, los ciudadanos, y los miembros y consejeros del Imperio Invisible, Caballeros del Ku Klux Klan. Las autoridades del Condado revelaron una lista de nombres tomada de los archivos oficiales del Ku Klux, que pretenden tener miembros entre muchos funcionarios de la Ciudad y del Condado.

Se Pospone el Picnic del Radio Club

El picnic del Radio Club del Times, anunciado para esta noche en Sycamore Grove, ha sido aplazado, a causa del amenazante e inclemente tiempo, hasta la noche del jueves 8 de junio. Ya con los preparativos casi terminados ayer en la tarde, los miembros del club fueron interrumpidos en sus planes por el golpeteo de la lluvia y por un informe de la Oficina Meteorológica de los EE.UU., que predecía "probable tormenta." Los panaderos, que estaban fabricando 4000 "doughnuts," hicieron a un lado sus cucharones, en tanto que el pedido de 250 galones de café ardiendo fué igualmente cancelado. Más tarde se darán a conocer los planes completos para el picnic del entrante mes.

Una Cicatriz Puede Salvar a Burch

Tal vez salve la vida de Arthur C. Burch una cicatriz en la mano. Ayer, en el lecho que, en opinión de los médicos, puede ser el de su muerte, declaró la Sra. Emma Elderton, mujer de negocios de esta ciudad, que vive en el 1340 de la calle West Forty-fifth, a un pequeño grupo congregado junto a su cama, que Burch estaba en el Pike, de Long Beach, el 5 de agosto último, a las 8:35 p.m. La identificación era segura, añadió ella, porque se había fijado de un modo especial en el aspecto de la mano de Burch, que aparecía tiesa y con cicatrices.

DEPORTES

Pugilato

Jack Dempsey es el campeón del anillo que ha sido encomiado más exageradamente que cuantos han poseído el título, declaró James J. Corbett, antiguo rey del boxeo, en una entrevista con un reporter del Times. En opinión de Corbett, la famosa bofetada fatal de Dempsey se ha exagerado grandemente.

Juegos Atléticos

Ayer se anunció que William May Garland saldrá el domingo para París, a fin de solicitar allí se le permita celebrar los Juegos Olímpicos de 1924 o 1928 en el nuevo Coliseo del parque de la Exposición.

George Schiller, famoso campeón del cuarto de milla de la Universidad de Sudcalifornia, fue ayer declarado el más grande de los atletas de pista de los círculos escolares de la California del Sur, en el año de 1922.

Baseball

Los Angeles derrotó ayer a Sacramento, en la ciudad de este nombre, con anotación de 4 a 3.

Tennis

Los jugadores de tennis con rango nacional no tuvieron dificultad en ganar ayer sus primeros matches en las tandas preliminares de los campeonatos de la Costa del Pacífico, en Berkeley.

Soccer

CENSORSHIP FOR FILMS ADVOCATED

Preacher Says Congress Should Free People from Thralldom of Industry

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Urging passage of the Senate resolution calling for an investigation of the alleged political activities of the motion-picture industry, the Rev. S. Patterson Todd of Milwaukee, Wis., declared today before a Senate Judiciary Subcommittee having the resolution in charge that Congress should regulate the motion-picture industry, which he described the third largest in the country.

The present Federal law prohibiting the transportation of prizefight films in interstate commerce is not effective, the witness said, because in its enforcement the Federal courts imposed fines "which become licenses," and did not impose prison sentences. He stated that he favored a strict Federal film censorship.

Dr. Todd's suggestion that the use of the silver screen in the conduct of political combinations should be regulated, brought from Senator Shortridge of California, chairman of the subcommittee, an inquiry as to how that could be lawfully done and whether if it could be enforced it would not also involve an attempt to restrict the "political activity of newspapers."

Dr. Todd insisted some measure of relief should be provided by Congress "to relieve the people from thralldom of the motion-picture industry."

SALARY DEADLOCK IS BROKEN AT LAST

SENATE CONFEREES AGREE TO ACCEPT PAY LIMITATIONS OF HOUSE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 9.—The deadlock between the House and Senate on the dependent officers bill was broken late today when Senate conferees agreed to accept the House limitation on salaries of Shipping Board officials. The agreement would permit employment of six officers or attorneys at not to exceed $25,000 and two at $20,000, while the maximum rate to be paid other officers would be $11,000 a year.

The Senate had added an amendment to the appropriation measure permitting the employment of thirteen officials at salaries in excess of $11,000, but did not fix limitation on the amount that could be paid. The House refused to adopt that provision and conference committees compromised with the expectation that one officer might be paid $15,000.

On resubmission to the conference committee the $15,000 salary was struck out, and if the House now accepts the report of its conference committee the annual appropriation bill probably will receive the approval of the Senate.

STEVENS-DURYEA IN RECEIVERSHIP

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SPRINGFIELD (Mass.) May 9. Receivers of Stevens-Duryea, Inc., automobile manufacturers of Chicopee Falls, were appointed today in response to a bill in equity filed in Superior Court by the Fisk Tire Company, Inc., of Chicopee Falls. Harry G. Fisk, vice-president of the Fisk Rubber Company, and Frank H. Shaw of Chicago, representative of banks that are creditors of the Stevens-Duryea Company, were appointed receivers.

The bill alleges that the company owes $1,100,000, and has assets of $4,134,471.94, but finds difficulty in converting its assets into cash.

INDIAN BANDIT DEFIES POSSE

Former Sharpshooter Says He Won't be Taken Without Battle

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

EUREKA, May 9.—Marion Rube, suspected Indian bandit, wanted in connection with the robbery of the Bank of Fortuna last week, is still in Humboldt county, heavily armed and determined not to be taken without a battle, was the information received today by Sheriff Ross from another Indian.

Rube was a sharpshooter in the overseas army and his ability with the rifle is respected by members of the posse seeking him.

Rich with sentiment of the past,

Keeping pace with progress of the future.

The Steinway Piano is the result of scientific development. It was only by years of experiment and persistence, fifty years of endeavor, that this supreme musical instrument has been accomplished.

The Steinway's exquisite tone, delicate as a bird's song, nevertheless has the strength of perfect craftsmanship to uphold it, through long yeats of delightful service. Its dignified appearance is in keeping with its aristocracy.

The Steinway won its enviable leadership through the recognition of the world's greatest musical artists. They admit it to be essential to their success. Such artists as Paderewski and Hofmann, pianists, Galli Curci, singer, Fritz Kreisler, violinist all peers of their kind, share their fame at every performance with

INDIAN CONDITIONS BAD, SAYS HARRISON

SULLEN ANIMOSITY TOWARD ENGLISH GREAT, STATES-CHICAGOAN

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

SHANGHAI (China) April 11.—India is "sunk in misery, poverty and ignorance such as I never could have believed might exist anywhere, and conditions are serious," in the view of Carter H. Harrison, former Mayor of Chicago, who is homeward bound from a trip around the world. Mr. Harrison, with Mrs. Harrison and his sister, Mrs. Heaton Owsley of Chicago, will tour China, Korea and Japan, and sail in June from Yokohama for the United States.

"We saw much of India," said Mr. Harrison. "The people have developed a sullen animosity for the British everywhere, and this feeling even is stronger in Burma.

"Wherever we went this animosity was apparent, and was thrust against us until, mysteriously, it was removed by a speech from our guide. 'They thought you were English,' he said. 'I tell them you are Americans.'"

VICTIM OF TRAGEDY AT SEA IS BURIED

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 9.—The funeral of John R. Hanify, wealthy lumber and shipping man who, with Edward A. Christenson, a business acquaintance, and Capt. Peter Anderson, was drowned in the overturning of his knockabout yacht, the Quart, Saturday night, was held today from St. Mary's Roman Catholic Cathedral. The funerals of Christianson and Anderson will be held later.

Business and club acquaintances of Hanify made up the list of pall bearers. Flags were half masted on many city buildings and vessels in the harbor.

VALLEJO INVITATION ACCEPTED BY GREGORY

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

VALLEJO, May 9.—The Chamber of Commerce received today an acceptance from Admiral L. E. Gregory, chief of the Navy Department Bureau of Yards and Docks, of an invitation to attend a banquet to be tendered him by the people of Vallejo on the occasion of his forthcoming visit to the Coast.

Admiral Gregory said in the letter that he expected to leave Washington early in the summer for an inspection of the Mare Island Navy yard here.

TAXI DRIVER IS WOUNDED

First Serious Violence in Bay City Strike

Alleged Assailant is Hunted by Policemen

Companies Place Guards on Vehicles

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 9.—One man was wounded in a kidnaping and revolver duel early today as a result of the taxicab drivers' strike. Arnold Karr, mechanic for the Black and White Taxi Company, was taken to the Central Emergency Hospital with bullet wounds in the knee and elbow. He charged they were inflicted by Edward Shayer.

Shayer, according to the police, worked for the Black and White company as a nonunion driver, but was won over to the strike, though not a member of the union. He is said to have been in fear of a gang attack. Karr was the victim of the first violence of the strike on Saturday, when he was beaten by two men.

Early today Karr, who lives at 860 Ellis street, drove in a cab to a restaurant at 191 Ellis street to get his lunch. He told the police Shayer entered, drew a pistol and forced him to re-enter his cab. Karr drove out Ellis street, but refused to obey other commands, fearing an ambush when the other ordered him to turn up Jones street.

DRIVER WOUNDED

Karr says Shayer again menaced him with the pistol. Karr then drew a revolver from a window flap and, as he jumped out, the men exchanged shots. Karr was wounded. A search for Shayer was begun immediately.

The Industrial Association, active for the open shop, is standing behind the taxi companies that have refused to make peace with the union, according to Max Kuhl, attorney for the association. Kuhl charged that the strikers have a "wrecking crew" to crowd nonunion drivers to the curb, and said the association had identified the men who took a taxi to Lone Mountain and burned it.

Guards accompanied nonunion drivers on the cars of the Yellow, Black and White and Atlas companies today. The companies operated a merged service. They had fifty cars running yesterday and more today, according to the employers. These, according to Kuhl, do 10 per cent of the city's taxi business.

According to S. T. Dixon, business agent of the Chauffeur's Union, only 150 of the union's 600 members are involved in the strike as a result of the agreements made by several companies.

ARMY FOOD ONLY FARE FOR PATS

Collie, Given to Civilian, Defies Gotham Traffic to Re-enlist

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, May 9.—Pats, a collie, re-enlisted in the United States Army today. Pats blocked traffic on the West Side elevated lines for a time this afternoon while he was making his way back to Governor's Island and his master, a first lieutenant.

For reasons not on record, the collie was given a few days ago to a man who lives at Ninth street and Riverside Drive. But Pats did not care for the luxury of scientific feeding, a beribboned collar and private bath. He headed back for happy, comparative poverty in the Army at Fort Jay today.

How he made the trip from uptown is a mystery. He did not attract attention until he ran up the steps of the elevated station at Bowling Green at the entrance to Battery Park. Eluding the ticket chopper at the gate, Pats leaped down to the track level and proceeded to pick his way along the ties in the direction of South Ferry.

A train, also southbound, caught up with him. The motorman halted when Pats turned about and barked defiance. When Pats would face about and trot a few yards down the ties, the train would start up again, following him closely. Many times this was repeated, the dog frequently turning, standing his ground and barking the train to a standstill. Finally Pats reached the South Ferry station, leaped up to the platform and dashed through the ferry house.

He just missed boarding an outbound Governor's Island ferry. Two soldiers recognized him and took him with them on the next trip of the Fort Jay boat. After a joyful reunion, Pats's old owner declared this was the second time the collie had found his way back to the Army station from the home of a civilian.

MASTODON BONES FOUND IN TEXAS

Drillers Unearth Fragments of Skeleton Believed Ancient Monster

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WICHITA FALLS (Tex.) May 9.—What are believed to be fragments of a mastodon's bones have been unearthed by oil drillers in Gray county, according to reports here. The fragments were found imbedded in strata of dry sand and are said to be large enough to indicate they were a part of a skeleton of a prehistoric monster.

plicated as it was in the beginning and it is visibly worrying the Senatorial leaders. Several of them are of the opinion that the measure should not be sent to the President unless it conforms to his wishes and specifically provides means for raising the funds necessary for its operation. So far no provision to cure this defect has been offered to the President.

President Harding will communicate in detail on this subject with Chairman McCumber of the Senate Finance Committee within a day or so and, unless there is a complete change in the administration attitude, will reiterate his previous position that any bonus legislation at this time must provide for the funds needed in some other manner than provided for at the present time in the raising of revenue for Federal use.

BONUS PROTESTED

Most of the Senators and Representatives are hearing from home and much of the information is to the effect that the people do not want a soldiers' bonus. Representatives and Senators are remarking about the great loss in the number of members of the American Legion and point to that as a lack of interest on the part of former members in the bonus and other matters of legislation.

World War veterans who have political ambitions are not in favor of the bonus for they are certain that the passage of a bonus bill to cover all World War veterans will place the men who volunteered and the men who were drafted all in the same class and will deprive them of the distinction of volunteers who enlisted before the draft and who could probably build a political career on this fact.

Senatorial leaders are anxious to get the bonus out of committee and if possible out of the Senate so that there can be no interruption to the early return of the tariff. Primaries and elections are now engaging the attention of the members of Congress and many of them are becoming more and more anxious to clear the decks and adjourn until December. Some of the leaders still believe that they can get through by July 15 at the latest, but the best informed in Washington are skeptical.

TO ENTERTAIN HARDINGS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 9.—President and Mrs. Harding will leave Washington Friday for New Jersey to be the guests of Senator Edge of that State over the week-end at the Seaview Golf Club at Secon.

The party, in addition to the President and Mrs. Harding, will include Speaker and Mrs. Gillett, Senator and Mrs. Frelinghuysen of New Jersey, Atty.-Gen. Daugherty, Brig.-Gen. Dawes; Senator Phipps of Colorado, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. McLean of Washington, George B. Christian, secretary to the President, and Brig.-Gen. Sawyer, the President's personal physician.

REDDING, May 9.—Miss Ivy Henderson is recovering today after having been knocked senseless yesterday by a lightning bolt charging the chimney and cook stove of her home while she was in the act of lifting a stove lid. She was taken to a hospital.

QUARRELING COUPLE STAGE DEATH DUEL

MICHIGAN MAN AND WIFE FIGHT WITH AX AND BUTCHER KNIFE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BAD AXE (Mich.) May 9.—A quarrel that brought Joseph Lobert and his wife back from a picnic on Sunday ended with the finding of their bodies in one of the rooms of the farm house, through which they had fought, she with a butcher knife and he with an ax.

The bodies were found when their eldest child returned from school late yesterday, but the news and the explanation only became generally known today. It all was explained by Edward, aged 4, who had sat with his little sister and a baby brother, 6 months, in a baby carriage in the yard of the farm house, which is located near Elkton. They had seen the start of the trouble through a window. They had not seen the finish. Edward said his father and mother had started their fight in the kitchen.

From the eldest, a boy of 10 years, the authorities learned that on Sunday the father and mother, seemingly on good terms, had gone on a picnic. When they returned they were quarreling. The boy said that things appeared better Monday morning when he left for school.

At that point little Edward's fragmentary story of the start of the fight came. The authorities had to imagine the rest. That was relatively simple. The interior of the house was blood spattered. Chairs and tables were wrecked. Broken dishes were scattered about.

The condition of the bodies told the rest, the story of a hand-to-hand fight. Lobert's throat was cut and he had been stabbed several times. Mrs. Lobert's head was cut open from the blow of an ax, and the marks of blows showed on her arms and shoulders. Bruises showed that crockery and pieces of furniture had been used in the fight before the two duelists closed in.

Neighbors say they do not recall that the couple had previous fights. They were regarded as prosperous.

RECLAMATIONISTS HAVE POOR CHANCE

CONGRESSMEN FROWN ON LARGE EXPENDITURES THIS SESSION

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, May 9. — Congressional leaders have turned their thumbs down on any reclamation legislation at this session. The steering committee of the House has had two futile sessions with the advocates of reclamation in the past two days, and has another scheduled for tomorrow. All formal reports from these conferences say that no agreements have been reached, but on the highest authority it can be stated that the Smith-McNary bill, which seeks to create a revolving fund of $120,000,000 to be used in developing irrigation and drainage projects in the West and South, will not be on the program for legislation at this session.

Leader Mondell and Speaker Gillett take the position that Congress would not be sustained by the people in any big sums from the Federal treasury for any purpose at this time.

While there may be no formal announcement to this effect it is known now to the men who have been pushing the reclamation legislation that there is not one chance in a hundred of getting the bill considered seriously now, and possibly not until the new Congress to be elected this fall has begun its deliberations. The experience of some of the reclamation projects has delayed the repayment of sums advanced by the Federal government for many years after the time promised for repayment, and much of the East and Central West is opposed to further extensions of Federal credit until some of the earlier projects are on a better basis.

MISPLACED HAIR DYE BRINGS MAN TROUBLE

CONVICTED BIGAMIST LOSES CITIZENSHIP; RICH BRIDE ASKS RELEASE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

AURORA (Ill.) May 9.—Calvin Wampler, now in prison for bigamy and who was sued today for annulment by his recent bride, Mrs. Anna Minnich Wampler, owes all his trouble to a misplaced bottle of hair dye.

He had posed as 38 years old, and as such, won the affections of a wealthy woman of Sandwich, a town near here. All went well while the hair dye was ready at hand. But it was mislaid. The head of the bridegroom became gray. The bride was startled. She asked, "How old are you?"

Some one, probably not the groom, replied, 63 years old. This started further inquiry, and led to charges that Wampler, who lived here, had another wife living. On that charge he was convicted and sent to prison. Now since he has lost his hair dye and his citizenship, he is about to lose his wealthy bride.

GEN. WOOD TO REMAIN AT MANILA

Governor Gives Up University Post to Finish Important Work in Islands

BY WALTER ROBB

["Times" Special Correspondent.]

MANILA (P. I.) May 9.—Gen. Wood has decided to remain as Governor of the Philippines, at least until the end of the year, and this will necessitate his giving up the offer to become provost of the University of Pennsylvania. The Governor-General said this today in a message answering President Harding's communication praising Wood's services in the islands. The University of Pennsylvania had advised Gen. Wood he must assume his duties before the end of September. The general says:

"It is necessary for me to remain until the end of the year, and possibly longer. Certain things must be finished here. Among them are the bond said and restoration of funds rehabilitating the finances of the islands."

Gen. Wood's decision is universally approved, and he is receiving much praise for doing what he deems his duty to the injury of his personal benefit.

MERCHANT MARINE ATTITUDES ABROAD

GERMANY AND ENGLAND NOT HOSTILE TO AMERICA'S PLANS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 9.—The American merchant marine program will meet with no hostility in either England or Germany, according to a verbal report on the attitude of shipping interests in these two countries made to Chairman Lasker of the Shipping Board by Edward F. Farley, vice-president in charge of ship sales, who has just returned from a trip to Europe.

In Germany, Mr. Farley reported, no interest is taken by shipping interests in either American or British merchant-marine plans, as the German interests feel they have an extraordinary advantage in their efforts to rebuild their merchant marine from the ground up, on scientific lines. The very penalties imposed on Germany as a result of the Allied victory in the war, influential German shipping men informed Mr. Farley, are now operating to make it certain, in their opinion, that ultimately Germany will regain her place upon the seas. German shipyards are now crowded with new construction.

Mr. Farley was assured in England that British shipping interests recognized the right of the United States to establish a merchant marine with her war-built tonnage, even though determination of this country to carry out that project would compel a revision of the operating plans and arrangements of the British merchant marine. Mr. Farley told Mr. Lasker that the British attitude, as he learned it in private conference in England, was one of fair play toward the United States so far as war-built tonnage was concerned, and the indicated intention of this government to create a merchant marine of seven to eight million tons in the aggregate. In England, however, Mr. Farley found that the shipyards were very generally closed down for lack of work, in contrast with the situation in Germany.

AMERICA SPONSOR OF LATIN PEACE EFFORT

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Acting under the impartial sponsorship of the United States, Chile and Peru today consummated final plans for a new effort to settle their forty-year-old controversy over Tacna-Arica.

The Ambassadors of the two South American governments, between whose foreign offices diplomatic relations have been severed since 1910, called together at the State Department, and in conference with Secretary Hughes, selected next Monday, May 15, as the date on which negotiations over the old disputes are to be resumed in special conference here.

At their request Mr. Hughes will formally open the conference with an address of welcome. The session will be open to the public, and it is possible that other similar meetings will be held later.

The two Peruvian delegates to the conference, Hernan Velarde and Dr. Milton Porras, reached Washington tonight from New York, where they have been in consultation for several days.

ANNOUNCEMENT SHOCKS CITY

Real Estaters Promote Parade of Bathing Beauties

Council Refuses to Pay Bill for Publicity

Advertising Men Hear the Opinions of Expert

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONG BEACH, May 9.—A bathing girls' parade in Long Beach!

The city has not yet recovered from the shock of such an unheard-of proposal. But since the suggestion to align the city's surf queens attired in appropriate costume in one long procession, was made only this afternoon, and it is not proposed to hold the parade until Saturday, May 20, there is plenty of time for civic organizations to resolute and protest against it.

Only once in recent years did one ever suggest the holding of a bathing girls' parade in this city, and the proposal was immediately buried under and avalanche of criticism and protests that prevented it being carried out.

Therefore, the fate of the one proposed today is being watched with interest. According to present plans Long Beach's shapely mermaids will be on exhibition for the delectation of the realty dealers of the entire Southland, when the land salesmen hold their annual picnic here, May 20.

The bathing girls' parade is scheduled as the piece de resistance of the afternoon's program. It is also announced that "liquid refreshments" will be served, but mention is made by the program committee that one may get a kick out of the parade, but not out of the refreshments.

This is regarded as more than plausible, since the parade, if it is held, will be one largely of "kicks" and that which is attached to nem. There will be a short business session of the Realty Association, following an afternoon of sports and entertainment. Officers for the coming year will be elected.

HOLD UP BILLS

The City Council today refused to pay certain bills for advertising presented by the Chamber of Commerce. City Attorney Hoodenpyl sustained City Auditor Myrtelle Gunsul's objections to paying the claims. He holds with the auditor that no proof of a contract has been forthcoming. He adds: "In order for these demands to be legal claims against the city the services represented by them must have been performed pursuant to contracts, none of which were in excess of $800 in amount, entered into by a duly authorized representative of the Reed Miller Company, Inc., with one of the officials of the city of Long Beach, who is authorized by ordinance to enter into contracts without advertising for bids in amounts not exceeding $300."

AD MEN MEET

The difference between advertising a community to acquire industrial growth with population and advertising the same city as an ideal convention center was explained by J. W. Sutphen of the Hammel Sutphen Company, Los Angeles, at the meeting of the Advertising Club today. He declared that earnest co-operation of all classes was essential to the success of any city and warned against the fallacious belief that population meant growth.

F. Marshall Sanderson, for many years a representative of the American Chamber of Commerce in Peking, China, gave a three-minute talk on "Why an Advertising Club is an Asset to a Community." He said that any agency that helped build a foundation was conducive to the city's progress and great good.

E. G. Lewis, promoter of the Palos Verdes project, was the principal speaker at a Chamber of Commerce gathering at the First Christian Church tonight. Mr. Lewis gave a graphic word picture of the now famous enterprise, a colonization project unsurpassed in size and importance by any similar undertaking in America, it is claimed.

COLLEGE PLAYERS COMBINE TALENT

ACTORS FROM MANY SCHOOLS TO PUT ON SHOW AT WHITTIER

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

WHITTIER, May 9.—Much interest centers in the intercollegiate vaudeville to be given at the Scenic Theater, here, Friday evening, by the seven colleges of Southern California, each college putting on an act. The idea of the colleges combining talent in an entertainment and forming a circuit composed of the cities where the schools are located, took form at the beginning of the second semester, and the entertainments began some six weeks ago. Whittier has the closing program for this year.

The Southern Branch of the State University, Los Angeles, puts on a clever sketch, "Furniture Movers de Luxe;" Occidentaly made a big hit with her "Tigers' Hi Jinx," but in changing this act for an impersonation for the final entertainment; Pomona puts on a ventriloquist act; California School of Technology very appropriately puts on "Technicalities;" Redlands University's act is a comedy "Words Have No Meaning," and the University of Southern California has added an attraction full of pep and pleasure.

Whittier College will contribute William Cecil de Mille's celebrated one-act tragedy, so-caleld, although the title is provably reverse English, "Food." The plot is founded on an incident fifty years hence, when eggs have risen to the price of $4000 each. There are but three people in the cast, just enough for the eternal triangle. Charles Cooper, a freshman at the Quaker College, takes the part of Basil, the husband; Miss Jessamine West, a junior, has the part of the wife, and the third character is taken by Albert Bishake, who is also a freshman. The cast is coached by Prof. H. E. Harris, head of the department of oral art at Whittier College.

ELKS SCORE HIT

Annual Show of Redlands Goes Over With a Bang

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, May 9.—The premier event in local theatrical circles each year is the Elks' show, which was presented tonight at the Wyatt Theater. It was "Daddies," and was in charge of Willis Marks of Los Angeles, who has been director of the Elks' entertainments for several years.

It proved to be one of the best ever given by the lodge, a clever comedy in four acts. Included in the cast were Frederick Gilbert, Hal Smith, Walter McIntosh, Jackson Rigby, Herbert Spoor, John Hesser, G. Louise Ford, Carroll Marshall Marks, Mary Elizabeth McCracken, Mrs. Henry Darling, and Hazel Truslow, all popular in former productions of the lodge.

One of the features this year was J. Hopkins Flinn and his eccentric orchestra. There were about twenty-five pieces and they made good on a promise that they would play popular numbers in a way never before played.

REIGNS .. AT .. FOOTHILL .. FIESTA

City Chooses Popular Girl to Head Court of Honor

Miss Mary McCune,

Who as queen of Monrovia's birthday celebration will rule over the joyous throng which will visit the city to participate in its annual celebration, May 20. [Photo by MacDougall, Monrovia.]

MONROVIA, May 9. — Good Queen Mary will reign the Foothill Fiesta crowds at the coming Monrovia Day festival on Saturday, May 20.

Elected at the close of an exciting popularity contest over half a dozen rival candidates, Miss McCune, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McCune, has been adjudged the most attractive young woman in Monrovia, and as such will act as royal hostess on Monrovia Day to the thousands who are expected to visit the foothill city.

Serving as maids of honor with Queen Mary will be four of her recent opponents in the battle of ballots. They are: Marion Harvey, Irma Moore, Ethel Crall and Grace Hoerner.

Friday night the American Legion, under whose auspices the queen contest was held, will give a ball in honor of her royal highness and her maids of honor.

Monrovia is already beginning to decorate for the coming Foothill Fiesta, still ten days distant. Soon the town will be a mass of bunting. Indications are that the morning floral parade, with which the fiesta opens, will break all records for length and elaborateness of entries. Representatives from practically every city of the San Gabriel Valley have already accepted the city's bid to enter a float in the civic division. Prizes valued at more than $1000 will be awarded the winners in the various events. A specially gorgeous queen's float is now in preparation.

The afternoon program is to be held on the city's new recreation park site, and will feature Bob Anderson and his Universal City cowboys and cowgirls in sensational roping, riding and animal stuff. A Spanish barbecue dinner will be served free to all who attend the rodeo.

The Monrovians have the reputation of putting on a good show, and at this, their thirty-seventh annual civic birthday celebration, they have salved the last for the best. In planning the big street dance with which it has been for years the custom to close the festivities they have devised new schemes of flood lighting and colored illuminating on the order of a gigantic May-pole that promises to eclipse anything heretofore attempted.

VOTE OF CONFIDENCE

Ontario Legion Men Refuse to Accept Resignations

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

ONTARIO, May 9.—Members of Ontario Post, American Legion, in one of the most largely attended meetings of the year, last night refused to accept the tendered resignations of Post Commander J. A. Downey, Adjutant Archie D. Mitchell and Clayton H. Dyke, member of the executive board, but instead gave them a unanimous vote of confidence.

The three post officials tendered their resignations last week because of criticisms from the outside to the effect that the Ontario Legion was not headed by overseas men, and reports that a recent bond issue for the purpose of erecting a memorial hall and home for the Legion, failed for that reason.

Last night's meeting was largely attended by men who saw service overseas, many of whom lauded the splendid work of the present officers in glowing terms, and scouted the idea of their being discriminated against for failure, due to no fault of theirs, to get across the water, during their term of service in the World War.

The post outlined plans for a complete service census of the city in order to get a check on all former service men and their possible needs.

VENTURA, May 9.—E. A. Christenson, well known here in the old days, was drowned off the Alameda shore this week, according to word received here. Two other men were with him. The boat capsized and all three met their death.

Christenson was associated with the Sudden interests here in shipping. At the time of the gold rush to Alaska, Christenson and Robert Budden went north with the gold seekers.

RANCHER HELD FOR KILLING

Autoist Responsible for Girl's Death, Says Santa Barbara Coroner's Jury

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SANTA BARBARA, May 9. — Fleming Franklin, wealthy Owensmouth rancher, was held responsible for the death of Miss Annie Proctor, who was killed here in an automobile accident Sunday, according to a coroner's jury at the conclusion of an inquiry held today.

At the inquest City Physician Hartwell testified that he examined Franklin an hour after the accident and found him "mildly lit up," the rancher having told witnesses he had imbibed some fig brandy.

A conductor on a street car testified an automobile believed to have been driven by Franklin passed his street car at a speed of almost fifty miles an hour. Late today Franklin gave $5000 bond to secure his release while pending examination on a charge of manslaughter. His bondsmen are J. L. Waring, president of a bank at Owensmouth, M. Zuckerman, produce man of Los Angeles, and Jess Franklin, relative, of Owensmouth.

ILLNESS CAUSE OF RESIGNATION

Pasadena Banker Forced to Give Up Active Work

Crown City to Have New Fire Alarm System

Bobbed Hair Popular, Says School Paper

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, May 9.—Because of ill health L. A. Boadway, well-known Pasadena merchant, capitalist and banker, has resigned as a vice-president of the Security Trust and Savings Bank of Los Angeles and as manager of the Pasadena branch bank.

Joseph Caunt, who has been in charge of the bank three months, during which Mr. Boadway has been absent from his desk on account of illness, has been elected vice-president in his stead and will continue to conduct the Pasadena branch.

NEW FIRE ALARM SYSTEM

Lewis Degen of Berkeley was today appointed by City Manager C. W. Koiner to design and lay out the new system of fire alarm signals to be constructed in Pasadena. The master switchboard will be in the new $50,000 central fire station at Holly street and Broadway, construction of which is to start at once.

Cyril Bennett has completed the plans for the structure, which are expected to be approved this week. Bids for the construction of the fire station will then be asked by the Municipal Board of Directors.

BOBBED HEADS INCREASING

The number of Pasadena High School girls who bob their hair is increasing every week. "Each Monday morning another bevy of the fair sex as P.H.S. comes onto the campus and into the classrooms with fair locks bobbed," remarks the Chronicle, the students' weekly. Editorial supervision of the Chronicle is masculine and in an editorial the publication says some unknown Delilah is spreading the craze.

"Although new cases appear each day, the spoiler remains in the dark," laments the editor of the Chronicle. Perhaps it is that each new victim, like the fox in the fable which lost his tail in the trap, keeps telling those unshorn how nice it is to be freed from nature's most beautiful ornament."

PRIZE PLAY PRODUCED

The prize-winning play in this year's contest, held by Pasadena Center of the Drama League of America, had its premiere at the Community Playhouse tonight in the presence of a large audience. It is called "No Other Way," and is by Anne Murray, formerly of Los Angeles, but now of Altadena, is the author. The play deals with a domestic problem that is causing much complication in modern American families. Gilmor Brown produced it. The cast is headed by Virginia Lykins, George Bratt, Samuel S. Hinds, Mrs. A. H. Palmer and Margaret Fitch McCarthy. The final performance will be given tomorrow night, when the Playcrafters of Los Angeles will attend in a body, as a courtesy to the author, who is a fellow-member.

Victor Jory, member of Co. H, Pasadena unit in the California National Guard, was fined $25 in Judge Ben C. Strang's Justice Court this afternoon for failure to attend company drills. Capt. W. R. Jackson, commander of the company, was the complaining witness.

STILL MAY SPOON IN CITY LIMITS

South Pasadena Refuses to Pass Ordinance Aimed at Lovers

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SOUTH PASADENA, May 9.—Auto "spooners" may now hug their girls in perfect safety en route through South Pasadena.

Last night the City Council defeated a proposed ordinance whereby single-handed drivers using the other arm for displays of affection would be subject to arrest.

It was ruled that public carouses do not necessarily lead to reckless driving. Furthermore the "one-arm" ordinance was deemed undesirable "freak legislation."

Councilman Harold Ryerson offered a resolution to the effect that as Mayor Phillip Dodson is the only single man on the Council, the proposed law would be class legislation within that august body.

SAILOR CONFESSES

Navy Man Tells Police of His Part in Assault and Robbery

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, May 9.—Arrested on suspicion that he might know something about the brutal murder of Walter Bower, a boatman, here Saturday, Forrest Esken, 19, a sailor on the U.S.S. Renshaw, confessed under severe grilling that he and a sailor friend slugged and robbed another boatman last December, the police announced today. Esken denied knowledge of the death of Bower.

Similarity of the methods used in both crimes was pointed out by the police. Jack Ripley, who was victimized in December, was left with 75 cents and a gold watch. Bower was murdered for his money, the assailants leaving 95 cents and a gold watch.

Water-front men stirred by the murder, have raised a large fund which they are offering as reward for the apprehension of the slayers.

RAIL HEADS TO MEET HARDING

President to Discuss Rates With Executives

Will Ask Chiefs to Consider Revision Downward

Interstate Commerce Body Cannot Legally Act

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 9.—President Harding has summoned fifteen of the leading railroad executives of the country, it was said today at the executive offices, to attend a dinner at the White House, May 16, for the purpose of discussing the rate situation.

It is understood the President will ask the transportation chiefs to consider the possibility of adjusting railroad freight rates downward as a voluntary matter because the Interstate Commerce Commission membership is said to have concluded that it cannot legally compel reductions to an extent satisfying to sections of public and business sentiment.

TREATING DIRECTLY

The administration accordingly, is said to have decided to resume again the method of treating directly with the railroad organizations to consider what can be secured in the way of a satisfactory rate policy. Similar conferences were held last summer and fall.

Two semi-judicial government bodies have jurisdiction in railroad regulation, the Railroad Labor Board, as well as the Interstate Commerce Commission, in the fixing of wage rates which enter into operating expenses. President Harding, however, is said to have concluded, as he did last fall, that the Executive might be of some service in dealing with the problem, though not interfering with the judicial standing of the two tribunals.

The commerce commission has had for weeks in its chambers discussion over the decision to be reached by it in the general investigation of transportation-rate levels. This investigation was instituted last November and continued throughout the winter. Nearly every industry and locality in the country was represented in the record, by a demand for some degree of relief from freight charges as they stand now, with war and post-war increases included.

COMMISSION HANDICAPPED

President Harding has been told that the commission, in adjusting rates, is obliged to give reasonable return by edict of law to capital invested in necessary railroads under efficient and economic management, and that this requirement, notwithstanding recent increase in railroad earnings, ties the hands of the commission in attempting to lower rates. Although no longer required to fix rates which would assure railroads a 6 per cent return on capital, that provision of law having expired this spring, the reasonable requirement still governs.

Moreover, if the commission did establish lower rates its decision could be tested in the Federal courts, resulting, at least, in delay.

In addition, there was presented to the commission, notably by Secretary Hoover, the suggestion that it might meet economic requirements in transportation matters by radical revision of transportation schedules, on the principle of putting sharply charges levied on basic raw materials and bulky low-priced commodities, while leaving alone, or even increasing, tariff on expensive finished goods. How far this principle might be serviceable and amicably accepted by railroads probably will enter into the President's discussions.

No list of the guests invited to the White House dinner has been made public.

Royal Pair Visits Belgium

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONDON, May 9.—King George and Queen Mary left London yesterday for Brussels, ostensibly for a ceremonial visit to the battlefields, but as many keen political observers believe, on a high diplomatic mission. This mission is no less than wooing Belgium back to the sphere of British influence which it occupied for many years before the war. It is felt here that now the relations with France are not so good as formerly, it is all the more important to recapture the political and military control of Belgium.

MANY YANKEES VISITING INDIA

Increase in Trade Expected to Follow as Business is Combined with Pleasure

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CALCUTTA, May 9.—Despite the unsettled condition of the country, visitors continue to arrive in India in large numbers. Americans seem to predominate and many of them are combining business with pleasure and it is expected that as a result there will be a considerable increase in the trade between the United States and India.

ARIZONA DEMOCRATS HOLDING MEETINGS

NEW CONVENTION SYSTEM IS INITIATED; MANY ASPIRE TO HIGH OFFICE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PHOENIX, May 9.—Initiation of the new convention system in the Arizona Democracy started today in county conventions at fourteen points. Here the organization was captured by interests favorable to the nomination of Judge R. C. Stanford for Governor, with seating of Frank Descosa as chairman.

Possibly in deference to the strong protest of State Chairman McCalla, there was no specific indorsement for Governor. A majority of the delegation to the State convention is for Stanford, and there is instruction to vote the county as a unit.

Today there was announcement of the candidacy for Governor of Lon L. Harmon, lately elected Mayor of Phoenix. The gentlemen are reported in favor of C. B. Ward of Phoenix. Former Chief Justice Alfred Franklin, who has been internal revenue collector, also is willing.

The largest degree of complication in the State convention will come from the attitude of former Gov. Hunt, who has made declaration against the whole convention system, and who demands immediate return to the direct primary. He has been quoted as stating his willingness to have the Tucson convention next week adopt a platform and lay plans for the campaign, but he objects to any indorsement of candidates, as has been planned. He will ask that the convention absolutely condemn the proposed constitutional amendments, including that which proposes abolition of the direct primary, and that the party be placed on record as supporting many labor propositions, directed against the use of court injunctions in strikes and for elimination of private detectives, while vigorously attacking all features of national and State Republican administrations.

Three hundred Republicans, representing every section of Arizona, banqueted this evening at the Hotel Adams and started the campaign amid much enthusiasm. Supreme Justice Cunningham presided. Senator Ralph H. Cameron was the especially honored guest and principal speaker. His address mainly dealt with Arizona's reclamation needs and with his own work in furtherance of the building of the San Carlos dam and of storage on the Colorado River.

FLAPPER CHAMPIONED BY HOTEL MANAGERS

MUCH-LY MALIGNED MODERN GIRL IDEAL GUEST, SAY BONIFACES

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, May 9.—Sturdy champions of the much maligned flapper arose today in the convention of the National Hotel Association. Numerous delegates arose and paid tribute to the flapper as their best and most desirable guest.

John Burke, managing director of the Congress Hotel Company, said:

"I have only one way of judging the flapper, and that is by the condition in which she leaves her room. A great many women leave their apartments in anything but a tidy condition. Not so the flapper. She is neatness personified. The Congress Hotel has yet to have its first disagreeable experience with a flapper."

Herman Mack, president of the Chicago Hotel Men's Association and proprietor of the Lexington Hotel, said a number of flappers reside at his house, and they were the most fastidious of guests; always neatly dressed, extremely clean in habit and manner, strictly honest, and in every way desirable guests.

R. E. Pollow and Percy Tyrrell, Texas hotel men, championed the flapper.

"No matter what sins they may say about her," said Mr. Tyrrell, "she is educated and fastidious. We have an abundance of them in the Southwest, and we are strong for them, first, last and all the time."

LOGAN COUNTY WAR EXPERIENCE TOLD

WITNESS AT TREASON TRIAL RELATES CAPTURE AND DEATH THREAT

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHARLESTON (W. Va.) May 9. Lives of Logan county defenders who were captured were in such danger that leaders of the attacking forces hid the prisoners in the mountains for safety, Sam Hulme, one of the prisoners, testified in the Circuit Court today. Other witnesses heard in the treason case in which William Blizzard is on trial testified about seizure of supplies and conscription of men by marchers. The prosecution placed three rifles in evidence, causing the defense to bring out as a counter exhibit the casing of a bomb said to have been dropped by an airplane.

Hulme said he was one of a scouting party of three sent out from the Logan forces and captured by five of their opponents. He was stood against a barn, told he was to be shot, and a negro in the party fired a shot at him, but the weapon was knocked down by another of his captors, saving his life. Later in a near-by farm house he was struck on the head with a rifle butt when he refused to give information as to machine guns in the defenders' possession.

CROP REPORT MADE PUBLIC

Agriculture Department in May Forecasts

Winter Wheat is 83.5 Normal and Rye 91.7

Pasture, Plowing, Planting Below Average

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Agricultural conditions existing on May 1 were set forth today by the Department of Agriculture in its May crop report forecasting the winter wheat, rye and hay crops for this year from their condition on May 1, the amount of last year's hay crop remaining on farms on May 1, and the percentage of spring plowing and planting completed to that date. The report follows:

WINTER WHEAT

A total crop of 584,793,000 bushels is forecast on the condition of the crop May 1, which was 83.5 per cent of a normal, and on the area remaining on that date to be harvested, which was 38,131,000 acres. Last year's crop was 657,-023,000 bushels, the condition on May 1 was 88.8 per cent of a normal, and the area harvested last year was 42,702,000 acres. A month ago a crop of 572,794,000 bushels was forecast from the condition on April 1, which was 78.4 per cent of a normal, and based on the assumption of average abandonment of acreage since last fall, when the area sown was 44,292,000 acres. The average production of the last five years is 578,575,000 bushels, the average condition for the last ten years on May 1 is 87.1 per cent of a normal, and the average area harvested in the last ten years is 36,789,000 acres.

RYE

A total crop of 79,152,000 bushels is forecast on the condition of thec rop May 1, which was 91.7 per cent of a normal. Last year's production was 87,918,000 bushels, and the average condition on May 1 was 92.8 per cent of a normal, while the average production for the last ten years is 57,040,000 bushels, and the average condition on May 1 for the last ten years is 90.2 per cent of a normal. A crop of 49,867,000 bushels was forecast a month ago from the condition on April 1, which was 89.0 per cent of a normal.

HAY CROP

A total crop of 103,579,000 tons is forecast on the condition of meadow (hay) lands on May 1, which was 90.1 per cent of a normal, and an expected hay acreage of about 74,246,000 acres this year. Last year's production was 96,802,000 tons, and the ten-year average production is 97,331,000 tons, while last year's May 1, condition of meadow lands was 91.8 per cent of a normal and the May 1 ten-year average is 89.6 per cent. Stocks of hay on farms May 1 are estimated at 10,792,000 tons, compared with 18,771,000 tons, so held a year ago, and 12,417,000 tons, the average May 1 stocks for the last five years.

PASTURES

The average condition of pastures on May 1 was 84.5, compared with 91.8 on May 1 last year, and a ten-year average on May 1 of 85.6.

SPRING PLOWING

Plowing was 62.5 per cent completed up to May 1, compared with 77.5 per cent on May 1 last year, and a ten-year average on May 1 or 70.0 per cent.

SPRING PLANTING

Planting was 53.6 per cent completed up to May 1, compared with 63.5 per cent on May 1 last year, and a ten-year average on May 1 of 57.8 per cent.

WHEAT BY STATES

The condition of winter wheat on May 1 and forecast of production based on that condition and on the acreage remaining on that date to be harvested by principal producing States follow:

Kansas, 74 and 106,338,000; Texas, 71 and 12,375,000; Colorado, 80 and 17,320,000; Idaho, 88 and 9,020,000; Washington, 95 and 18,404,000; Oregon, 91 and 13,505,000; Pennsylvania, condition, 93; forecast, 25,612,000; Ohio, 89 and 41,483,000; Indiana, 89 and 32,974,000; Illinois, 89 and 48,094,000; Michigan, 84 and 18,204,000; Missouri, 87 and 43,044,000; Nebraska, 82 and 54,218,000; Oklahoma, 76 and 32,894,000.

WEALTHY DENTIST BRUTAL, SAYS WIFE

STINGIEST MAN SHE EVER KNEW; BEAT HER, DRANK, SHE CHARGES

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, May 9.—Mrs. Marguerite Huff, wife of Robert Eugene Huff, millionaire dentist of Wichita Falls, Tex., and son of the president of the First National Bank of Wichita Falls, today described her husband as the stingiest man that ever existed. She is suing him for divorce in the courts here. She says he is an inventor of unusual cruelties, a "white mule" drinker of such earnestness and capacity that she had to accompany him abroad to make sure he would return home.

"Dr. Huff spent three-fourths of his time drinking," she testified, "partaking at times of 'white mule' he manufactured himself, and again of a corn juice concoction he procured from drug stores."

"When intoxicated on this stuff, he usually beat me. Once he blackened both of my eyes and broke my nose. He invented the torture of beating me with a heavy Turkish towel, knotted and soaked in water, so that it would not break the skin, but hurt terribly."

ACCUSED JAPANESE FOUND NOT GUILTY

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEWARK (N. J.) May 9.—A jury in West Orange police court today acquitted Taisen Tsuji of a charge of assault and battery on Mrs. Amelia Cartheuser.

Tsuji, a Japanese newspaper man, testified that he had been tricked into making a confession of the attack on the pretense that he would be protecting the good name of a woman and had been promised a speedy release if he signed the confession. The West Orange police issued a statement denying Tsuji's allegations.

—18 DAYS—

Los Angeles Grows Seaward!

Palos Verdes Estate, 25 square miles, commands the sea with a fourteen-mile ocean frontage, at the very apex of the DIRECTION OF GROWTH OF LOS ANGELES.

Here Are the Facts:

In ten years the volume of population in the direction of Palos Verdes Estates and the ocean has increased more than One Thousand Per Cent. This is vastly greater than in any other direction.

Property values toward and along the ocean have increased correspondingly. Dpwntown real estate in Long Beach, for example, is conservatively valued at an average of $660 a front foot. The average cost of improved land in Palos Verdes is estimated at Fifteen Dollars a front foot.

New population, pouring into Los Angeles by the thousands every month, will continue to increase values, IN THE DIRECTION OF GROWTH AND POPULATION, and Palos Verdes Estates are at the very summit of this growth.

Woman's Side of the Story

Home-making embraces an intimate knowledge of 88 distinct fields of housewifery —some inside the home—some outside. The dovetailing of these creates a home

EIGHTY-EIGHT distinct accomplishments to make a house a home!

An exhaustive analysis of the housewife's activities reveals the astonishing fact that here is not a mere routine of automatic action, but a dovetailing of vast stores of accumulated information.

An understanding of basic facts of the decorative and culinary arts, of hygiene and sanitation, dietetics and child-rearing enters into her work—an unending hoard of facts branching out into 88 diversified fields.

Preparing for housewifery

What sources does a woman tap for this vital information?

Where formerly she had spent her girlhood days in a sort of apprenticeship to her mother, today the lure of the pay-envelope or the desire for greater spheres of action has drawn her to the trades, the offices, the professions.

With what results? Marriage finds her totally unprepared for the surprisingly complex profession of home-making. Hard biscuits, ruined digestions and confusion, the first year, are not phantasies of fiction, but hard realities.

Confronted with the problem of gaining this knowledge speedily, eager to apply her systematic business training to household management, she finds herself leaning more and more heavily on the same form of medium that solves man's business problems.

Two-thirds of a million women turn for specialized information on homecraft to the one magazine that devotes more of its space to strictly instructional articles than all other leading women's magazines.

Woman's trade journal

The housewife's trade journal is Modern Priscilla.

Only fourteen per cent of its contents is fictional. The great body of Modern Priscilla is devoted exclusively to data covering household and decorative problems, such as the selection and preparation of foods, the planning of budgets and menus, embroidery as applied to napery, home decoration and dress, practical handicrafts like weaving, knitting, and crocheting—in fact, all those things through which a woman's touch invests a home with charm.

So significant is this information to the modern housewife that she would no more think of destroying old issues of Modern Priscilla than a professional man his scientific journal. It is the woman's household scientific journal—her encyclopedia of homecraft. Investigation shows that 90% of Modern Priscilla readers retain their back numbers indefinitely, not infrequently as long as ten years.

THE PRISCILLA PROVING PLANT where household products and devices run the gamut of a rigorous test to insure their efficiency and utility under typical home conditions

Data contained in Modern Priscilla is not haphazard conjecture. Not an article, not a recipe, not a product recommended to Modern Priscilla readers, but that it runs the gamut of a rigorous test in a home laboratory.

The home laboratory

Supplementing the work of Modern Priscilla, a modern suburban home, in the environs of Boston, is completely equipped for the strenuous testing of every type of household article and device. The "Priscilla Proving Plant" is used by the household editors of Modern Priscilla under typical home conditions.

Every article and device after passing a chemist's or engineer's analysis, is then tested by (1) an expert housewife, with scientific training; (2) an expert housewife, without scientific training; (3) an inexperienced housewife.

Such articles or household devices as establish their reliability and home utility are awarded the PPP seal and the certificate of the Priscilla Proving Plant.

Advisory Council

The science of home-making, developed by Modern Priscilla, is aided by university specialists and college faculties throughout the country. The following members of Modern Priscilla's Advisory Council are included in its list of prominent contributors for 1922:

ALONZO E. TAYLOR of the Hoover Foundation for Food Research at Leland Stanford University.

MARY A. SWEENEY
head of Home Economics Dept., Michigan Agricultural College.

THOMAS NIXON CARVER
a foremost authority in the field of Economics and Professor at Harvard College.

Over 600,000 modern housewives

Fully two-thirds of a million women read Modern Priscilla to guide them in household management and the manifold refinements that make a house a home.

DAILY TRADE TALK

Telephone Company Seeks Partnership of Public; Harbor Bonds Sold

BY CHAPIN HALL

The Southern California Telephone Company is the latest great public utility to realize the importance of public understanding and partnership, and, according to N. R. Powley, commercial superintendent of the company, arrangements have been concluded whereby local telephone users, or any other investor, may become partners in the business by the purchase of stock of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company at the current market price in large or small allotments for cash or upon a reasonable deferred payment plan.

Details of the plans, which has many elements of attraction, will be handled through the Los Angeles office, and Mr. Powley said yesterday that it was the hope of the company by opening this new channel for the outlet of small investments to contribute to the promotion of community and national thrift.

Already a large majority of employees are stock partners under practically the same plan of acquirement that is now offered the public at large. With only one sixteenth of the world's population the United States now has two-thirds of the world's telephones, and some idea of the development of the business is found in the following statement, which was given Trade Talk by Mr. Powley:

"The net earnings of the American company during the past twenty-one years after providing for all interest due, have averaged $10 per share per year. For forty years the American company and its predecessor have paid dividends to the public of not less than $7.50 per share per year. Nine dollars is now the established annual rate paid in quarterly amounts of $2.25 per share on January, April, July and October 15. Nine per cent on the company's capital stock is less than 1 per cent on the company's equity in the property of the Bell system.

"Year after year the earnings remaining after the payment of dividends to the stockholders and the capital stock premiums received, as above stated, have been kept in the business as surplus and reserves. These have been invested in new telephone property which has increased the usefulness and earning capacity of the entire Bell system.

"American telephone stock, practically speaking, is the stock of the telephone industry of the nation. It is all of one class. The par value of each share is $100.

"The value of the assets underlying the capital stock of the American company, including its interest in the assets of its associated companies, based on cost, is more than $185 for each share of stock.

"More than 186,000 individuals own American telephone stock. More than half this number are women. Over 60,000 stockholders own from one to five shares each. Nearly 140,000 own twenty-five shares or less each, and more than 165,000 own less than 100 shares each. Comparatively speaking, there are no large holdings, no stockholder owning as much as 1 per cent of the total stock. The average number of shares held by stockholders is thirty.

U.S.C. RECOGNIZED

Emery E. Olson, assistant director of the college of commerce and business administration at the University of Southern California, has telegraphed the college that U.S.C. was the only college of commerce elected to the National Association of Collegiate Schools of Business this year.

This election to membership means distinctive recognition of the college of commerce at the University of Southern California, for only full-fledged collegiate institutions are elected to membership in the national association.

The meeting was held in Philadelphia. Assistant Director Olson represented the University of Southern California. The association, which numbers but twenty-four schools, includes Harvard, Yale, Columbia and Wisconsin. The unusual growth of the local college of commerce is shown by the enrollment figures for the second year, which reveal an increase of 63 per cent over those for last year. This year 943 students have enrolled, while last year the number totalled only 581.

After traveling in different points in the East, studying conditions, Prof. Olson will return to the university the first of July to give his courses in the summer session on corporation finance and principles of economics.

HARBOR BONDS SOLD

The City Council yesterday sold $1,600,000 of 1921 harbor improvement bonds to Drake, Riley & Thomas, the highest bidders, who offered par and a premium of $20,592, the bonds to bear 4½ per cent interest. City Treasurer Powell said that the sale was the most advantageous one made by the city in many years and proved the soundness of his contention that the city should give the widest publicity to its bond sales and that they should be conducted under strictly competitive bidding. The sale was the first one of the city bonds at 4 1-2 per cent interest made since the outbreak of the World War eight years ago.

The bids were as follows: at par with interest at 4½ per cent—Drake, Riley & Thomas, premium, $20,592; National City Company, premium, $19,344; Girvin & Miller, premium, $17,720; Guarantee company of New York, premium, $12,440.80; Citizens' National Bank, premium, $12,320; Anglo-California Trust Company of San Francisco, premium, $12187; First Securities Company, premium, $8884.55; while the Harris Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago offered par and a premium of $39,840, the securities to bear 4¾ per cent interest.

GOO LUMBER YEAR

With the advance of spring it becomes more and more evident that the lumber industry is to have a good year. Buying by retailers shows steady expansion, and very little of it is speculative, for lumber is going out of the retail yards as fast as it is being brought in, and, according to the American Lumberman, in some cases stocks are being sold more quickly than they can be replaced, requests for rush shipment being numerous. A number of the larger softwood producers have as much business on their books as they care to take on for some time, some having called their traveling men in off the road. Many of the large mills are very careful about accepting business for future delivery.

MARKET REVIEW

William Cavalier & Co.'s financial news letter says:

"Transactions on the New York Stock Exchange continue to average about 1,500,000 shares a day. Money for speculation and investment continues plentiful at low rates. New bond issues at declining interest rates are enthusiastically received. Public participation continues to dominate the stock market. Progress of the upward trend of prices is sporadically interrupted by profit taking and there are signs of a sizeable short interest which should add strength to the technical position of the market. A plentiful supply of money means continued strength in investment issues and this strength will doubtless be evident for months to come, or at least until pronounced industrial revival takes money out of securities for investment in industry. There seems no reason to anticipate this much before early fall, however."

BUSINESS NEWS

Bank Deposits Show Great Increase; Housing Finance Company Forms; Bonds Sold

Deposits in Los Angeles banks have increased 15 per cent in a year's time.

They have increased approximately 2 per cent during the last two months.

These amazing figures, remarkably illustrative of the city's business growth, are arrived at through the combined totals of the figures submitted by the various State and national banks of Los Angeles in response to the calls of the State Superintendent of Banks and the Comptroller of the Currency for their condition as of May 5.

Credit for this notable increment to the financial strength of the community belongs to both the State and national banks. The gains were also distributed with a fair degree of proportion among the individual banking institutions.

The figures compiled for the State banks, which appear below, show an increase of approximately $10,000,000 in deposits and $30,000,000 in loans and investments since the previous call on March 10. The increase in loans is taken by financiers as a healthy sign, reflecting the active demand for industrial capital which now rules in this district. So far, the building and commercial activity in Los Angeles has prevented the somewhat stagnant national money-market conditions from affecting the local banks. There are still plenty of prospective borrowers here for all available capital, it is said.

Available cash item also showed a moderate increase over the previous call and over that of a year ago on April 28. The gains in this department come as a natural concomitant of the greatly increased deposits.

Following are the comparative figures on the condition of the State banks of Los Angeles as of May 5, March 10, and April 28, 1921:

HOUSING FINANCE

Announcement of the organization of a $5,000,000 corporation to provide funds for financing home construction in Southern California was made yesterday. The new concern will be known as the Security Housing Corporation and contains on its list of officers and directors several well-known local capitalists and business men. Offices have been opened in the Pacific Mutual Building.

It is the purpose of the Security Housing Corporation, as announced in an introductory prospectus issued yesterday to bridge the gap in the cost of dwelling construction between the funds advanced by the home builder and the money advanced on such security by the banks. The banks can furnish 40 to 50 per cent of the cost of construction, and if the home builder can put up 50 per cent out of his own capital, the housing corporation will undertake to advance the 10 or 20 per cent that remains.

Besides providing this financing method, it is also within the present plans of the Security Housing Corporation to furnish a building supervising service designed to cut the costs of construction through working on a quantity production basis. It will also finance builders and contractors who have contracts with home buyers, thereby making it possible for them to purchase all materials for cash.

The original $5,000,000 capital is to be used as a revolving fund. With it mortgages, trust deeds, contracts and conveyances will be acquired which in turn will be used as collateral for the issuance of se-

MARKETS ARE CONFUSED

Advancing Foreign Exchange Rates Furnish the Only Accurate Reflection of Realities

BY ALEXANDER DANA NOYES
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, May 9.—Out of the confused and vacillating movement in nearly all of today's markets, financial and commercial, the only intelligible drift was that of foreign exchange rates. Sterling, and with it, French and Italian exchange, regained most of Monday's losses. Considering the part that pure speculation plays in the exchange market, Wall street was very possibly right in ascribing this recovery to the overnight cables reporting the delegates' indignant denial of the story that the British Prime Minister had threatened the breaking of the French entente. These varying versions, official language exchanged between statesmen whose nerves are overstrained by a month of diplomatic irritations, are taken by most people as neither indicating nor foreshadowing events, but as reflecting moods. But there always will be some one in the market who imagines international collision, or, if not, then some one who thinks that some one else will imagine it. This would perhaps be quite enough to explain Monday's decline in foreign exchange rates as well as today's recovery. Sterling got back to $4.44⅛, as against Monday's low point of $4.42¼; Francs to 9.11 cents as against 8.93, and other rates accordingly.

No reason appeared for believing that today's stock market, any more than Monday's, was influenced by this exchanging of compliments at Genoa. In business done, today's market was smaller than that of the day before, and it appeared to be wholly in the hands of professional speculators. The results were entirely confused; some stocks even in the oil group, would be falling while others were rising. A break of some severity at midday was followed, later on, by repetition of the morning's contradictory movements. The day ended with mere declines than advances and with a few of the losses considerable. But such a market has little serious meaning.

Most other markets were in the same condition. Prices for investment bonds displayed something more of uncertainty, with numerous fractional losses, especially among the railway bonds, which had lately risen sharply. The cotton market began by rising violently, until several "future delivery months" reached prices touched only once or twice in all of last autumn's excited advance; but the market was back below Monday's closing before the day was over. Wheat for the May delivery was at one time down one-half cent, then up 1 3-4, ending a cent higher for the day.

With wheat as with stocks, this erratic performance clearly indicated doubt as to the actual speculative position; which is a matter of no very vital concern. But the wheat market may also have been making alternate guesses at the government crop report which was not given out until after the close of business. That report was pretty much what the trade had looked for. The losses in acreage through "winter killing," was much beyond the average, but even that loss left the area under the growing winter wheat considerably larger than what was estimated in May of 1920, or in the three years, 1916-1918, inclusive, or in any year before the war. The crop's average condition of 82⅛ per cent comparing with 78 3-4 in April, was higher than the trade had generally expected, and so were the government's figures of indicated yield, which were only 2,225,000 bushels under last year's actual harvest.

"Black Diamonds" Are Good Security

Coal is one of the basic necessities of modern civilization. In the east, coal bonds are held in very high favor by investors who appreciate the advantages of unusual safety combined with high yield. Here is a strong issue of western coal bonds, now offered to western investors:

Spring Canyon Coal Company
$1,000,000 First (Closed) Mortgage 7½% Gold Bonds

Security for this loan is a first closed mortgage on property estimated to contain 25,000,000 tons of high grade bituminous coal, valued at $6,994,577.77, together with buildings, machinery and other equipment worth $1,022,632.13. A sinking fund is provided by the payment of 17½ cents per ton of coal mined during the first five years and 20 cents per ton thereafter, which is used to retire bonds. The equity of remaining bondholders is thus being constantly increased.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, May 9. — Alternate recessions and rallies attended today's session of the stock exchange, an irregular to heavy tone prevailing at the close. The market's scope contracted visibly and total sales again fell slightly under the familiar 1,000,000-share line.

There was less selling pressure among leaders, the occasional reversal apparently resulting more from an absence of buying power than from any concerted efforts of the short interest.

Pools continued their maneuvers in several of the more obscure industrials and specialties, but their operations elicited little or no outside support. In active miscellaneous shares which followed in the wake of the March-April rise sustained extreme losses of one to three points. Rails were the day's only substantial features, their rebound in the final hour going far to reduce the average of declines. New Haven made a new high record for the year at 36 3-8 and several of the investment transcontinentals and coalers also improved. Sales amounted to 935,000 shares.

Further actual and prospective advances in prices of raw and refined oils were announced, but reports of another upward revision of fabricated iron and steel were not confirmed. Traders were not inclined to pay much attention to the proposed Senate inquiry into the steel merger now under way.

The April tonnage report of the United States Steel Corporation will be made public tomorrow. Movements of steel shares today gave no hint that bookings would show an increase over those disclosed in the March statement.

On the lighter inquiry money rates eased, call loans being made at 4 per cent. All private loans for thirty to ninety days were made at slight concessions from the open rate, but long-time accommodations remained unaltered.

Advices received by banking interests respecting developments at Genoa indicated less tension in that quarter. All foreign exchanges were substantially above yesterday's minimum quotations excepting remittances to Central Europe, bills on Czecho-Slovakia, Poland and Austria showing weakness.

"Uncharted Seas"

No sane sailor ventures on the seas without a chart or compass. If he did, he would sooner or later wreck his craft upon the rocks or shoals.

The investor, who risks his capital in securities, must have his compass also, or sooner or later he will wreck or lose his fortune upon the rocks or shoals.

The modern investor's compass is the Moody Rating Service, which enables every purchaser of bonds and stocks to sail his investment ship with safety and security.

If you stick to Moody's high-grade ratings, you are bound to sail in safety, and your investing voyage will never be a losing one.

How much better it is to keep your capital than to lose it, and to keep it making a sure and substantial income.

Write us today for full details of this Rating Service.

Oil at Genoa

Pouring oil on the troubled waters of the Genoa Conference seems only to have them all the more troubled. The biggest nations represented there are in a scramble to get at least a foothold in the great Russian oil fields.

And no wonder! The urgent need of petroleum is increasing daily, forcing into paramount importance the discussion of ways and means of finding new sources of supply.

The man who invests in oil now buys on a rising market. And the man who makes that investment through the Foster plan of direct oil ownership has the best chance for the biggest profits.

curities, thereby creating a constant fund for the continued construction of homes.

Harold H. Braly will act as president of the new company. Officers and directors include Charles B. Hooper, vice-president; Arthur H. Braly, treasurer; George G. Griffin, secretary, and J. A. Jayne, T. W. Hendrick, and Harry M. Haldeman, who will serve on the board.

BUY BOND ISSUE

Blyth, Witter & Co. were the successful bidders yesterday at the sale of $125,000 Garden Grove Union High School District 5½ per cent bonds, due from 1924 to 1943. A premium of $10,350, equivalent to a yield basis of 4.48 per cent was offered by the bond house. The W. R. Staats Company offered $9038 premium for the issue, and the Citizens' National Bank, $8251.50.

WANTED BOND SALES MANAGER

Wanted to secure the services of an experienced bond sales manager, a man who has large acquaintance throughout the United States and knows how to wholesale bonds of industrial enterprises. None but men able to furnish the highest class references need answer. See

J. A. M. ROSS, Room 207 Marsh-Strong Building.

NEW INVESTMENT FIRM

The Cass Company is the latest investment house to enter the local financial community. It is headed by A. B. Cass, president of the Southern California Telephone Company and will be managed by Quincy Cass, who has been identified for several years with Blyth, Witter & Co. in this city. Offices have been opened in the Van Nuys Building.

FOOD IN STORAGE

A sharp decline in cheese supplies and an increase in the local potato holdings were the notable features of the weekly Los Angeles cold storage report issued yesterday. Following are the totals of the various commodities now held in Los Angeles warehouses: eggs, 114,923 cases; butter, 491,306 pounds; cheese, 393,505 pounds; apples, 74,007 boxes, and potatoes, 57,881 sacks.

OIL FIELD REVIEW

First copies of the 1921 number of the Oil City Derrick's annual review of oil field operations reached this city yesterday. The booklet contains a complete statistical review of the past year's work. It is taken by oil men as a recognized authority on refining, production and marketing matters.

EXTRA DIVIDENDS

California Rand Silver, Inc., has distributed a regular April dividend of 2 cents a share and an extra dividend of 10 cents a share to stockholders of record May 4. A total of $152,600 was expended from the treasury in making this dividend distribution. Cash on hand is now $341,482.

WIRES FROM EAST

A strong bond market, which is showing increased absorption power day by day in spite of the great volume of new issues, is reported from New York by Garretson Dulin of Hunter, Dulin & Co., in a wire received here yesterday. The present demand for high-class securities continues unabated in the East, according to the local bond man.

COMMERCIAL PAPER

A newly formed commercial paper house to be known as Lahey, Fargo & Co., has taken over the note business formerly conducted by Campbell, Heath & Co. The head office of the new firm will be in New York with branches in several eastern and Pacific Coast cities, including Los Angeles. E. B. Kilburn will be the resident partner on the Coast.

TICKER TICKS

George M. Reynolds says that the improvement in trade and industry in the Chicago section has been more marked than anywhere else.

Bankers in convention at White Sulphur Springs find a much greater feeling of optimism as to the business outlook prevailing throughout the country with production in most lines increasing.

President Teagle of Standard Oil of New Jersey says an agreement has been reached placing oil taxes in Mexico upon a sound and permanent basis.

Chile Copper for the year ended Dec. 31, 1921, shows a deficit of $5,678,941, against a surplus of $151,594 in 1920.

The Senate defers action on the resolution asked by Senator La Follette for inquiry into the proposed merger of independent steel companies.

Average price twenty industrials, 92.84, off .75; twenty rails, 84.30, off, .35.

OATMAN DIAMOND DRILLS ARE ACTIVE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

OATMAN (Ariz.) May 9.—Diamond drilling operations in the Oatman mining district are second in extent only to work of like character being done in the Rand district of South Africa. Eighteen properties here are now being tested for pay ore, bodies with diamond drills and the results attained amply warrant continuation of such research and its extension to many other properties located along the trend of the so-called throllite quartz contact, which has proved such a prolific source of high and medium grade gold ores on the Oatman United estate. The pioneering done by the Oatman United management in a section of the Oatman district hitherto considered to be off the trend of the main ore channel has again brought Oatman to the favorable attention of mining men. As a result the camp is prospering in a mining and general business way as it did in 1915, when high-grade gold ore was struck in the United Eastern mine at a depth of 250 feet.

There is a steadily growing demand for mining properties and, transfers of acreages are increasing. The current week a financially powerful syndicate, headed by M. B. Dudley, one of the most influential mining men in the Southwest, took over the Summit property which is considered to be one of the most promising estates of the throllite belt. It is understood that Dudley will be general manager of the Summit and that the extensive diamond drilling and general mining work will be done under his supervision. The requisite mining equipment has been ordered and will be in commission within thirty days.

Wheat Selling at Winnipeg Firms Market

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, May 9.—Buying of May wheat here against sales at Winnipeg by spreaders caused the May to tighten up. The average was higher with the finish at a net gain of 1¼ cents. Deferred deliveries fluctuated in an unsettled manner and closed ¼ to ¾ cent lower. Liquidation was on in May corn and it finished 1 cent lower with July and September off ¾. Oats lost 1¼ to ¼ cent while rye was unchanged to ¼ cent lower.

Sentiment in wheat was inclined to the bear side but with a governmental report impending the pit element kept close to short lulings and breaks followed each other with rapidity without the market getting very far in either direction. There was some buying of July to remove hedges against sales of new-crop wheats for export, but the details were not given. Crop reports from the Southwest continue favorable.

Considerable improvement was noted in the milling demand for cash wheat here and at Kansas City, Omaha, Toledo and Minneapolis, with samples prices higher.

The outside trade in May was limited, and in addition to the buying by spreaders there was removal of hedges by millers. Receipts were 422 cars including 69 cars of No. 3 red from Kansas City. The latter shipped 5257 cars of all wheat Monday, of which the bulk was to Chicago.

Corn showed a heavy undertone from the start and at no time were prices as high as the previous day's finish on the active futures. The finish was about at the bottom. Commission houses sold May and July and were then often the reports that 700,000 bushels had been sold for export via Montreal on overnight offers. Weather favors field work, except in the Southwest where there has been too much rain in parts. Receipts, 236 cars with the bulk unchanged to ¼ cent lower, the latter on No. 3 yellow.

Trade in oats was mainly of a local character with the public contributing more in spreads with other grains than anything else. Receipts were 144 cars with shipping sales of 150,000 bushels. Rye showed a firm undertone with fair buying credited to the seaboard. The latter did a fair export business, but failed to give out the quantities.

TWO ARE BANKRUPT

The following petitions in bankruptcy were filed in the United States District Court yesterday: Joe S. Brasil, formerly a silversmith, of Lemoore, liabilities, $43,005.39; assets, nothing; Ozbie Griffith, a mail carrier of San Pedro, liabilities, $450; assets, nothing.

PRODUCE MARKET

On account of the weather produce trading was light yesterday and supplies of many home-grown lines of vegetables were limited. Very few price changes were made with the exception of new potatoes, which advanced 25 cents per sack to close at $1.75. Strawberries were slightly lower, but stock selling at $4.50 per crate. Other fruits and vegetables were practically unchanged, but there was a strong undertone to the market, as continued rain would have a tendency to restrict supplies and advance prices.

DAILY MARKET REPORT

These are the actual prices obtained yesterday by Los Angeles wholesalers from their sales to retailers, peddlers, hotels, restaurants, cafeterias, etc., Telma Cash on the walk. There may be slight fluctuations during the day's trading. Higher prices are frequently obtained where credit is given or goods are delivered.

PROFIT TAKING RULES IN COTTON MARKET

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, May 9.—There was pronounced profit-taking on an early bulge of 35 to 50 points in today's cotton market, and all of this advance was lost by midafternoon, in the last hour the market gave further ground before renewed liquidation and realizing, closing off 5 to 20 points from yesterday's close.

Business was exceedingly active in the morning. Demand came from trade interests, commission houses, and Liverpool, while selling was largely profit-taking for old long account coupled with new speculative pressure on the short side. Toward the close movements were narrowly irregular and final bids were around the low. Spot quiet, 15 points decline, 20 spots for middling upland.

Southern spot markets: Galveston, 10c; unchanged; New Orleans, 10 7-8c, 26 points advance; Savannah, 10.65c, unchanged; Augusta, 10.65c, unchanged; Memphis, 10.75c, 25 points advance; Houston, 10.85c, 5 points decline; St. Louis Spot, 10.80c, unchanged.

RUSS PEASANTS SAVE ANIMALS

Ample Live Stock in Samara to Work Fields

Horses, Camels and Oxen Have Pulled Through

Starving People Hold on to Beasts to Last

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

SAMARA (Russia) April 13.—There is ample live stock in Samara province to work the fields and harvest the crop of 1922, despite the fact that it suffered most severely from the famine. The rugged, shaggy, little horses, great, growing camels and slow-moving oxen of the famine regions have withstood the winter's hunger as well or even better than the sturdy peasants.

FALL DEAD IN ROAD

In isolated spots totally lacking in food the livestock, as well as the people has suffered tremendous mortality. Thousands of draft animals have fallen dead in the road, while hauling precious food over the snows to the villages. Others have been slaughtered for food, but by far the great proportion have gone through the winter and now, with green pasture only a month or so off, are in fair shape for work.

M. Ryasnoff, Commissioner for Agriculture of Samara province, says there are still more than 300,000 head of workable love stock left or 90 per cent of those available in 1921.

Peasants who have seen members of their own families and neighbors die of hunger have saved their camels, horses and oxen. Except in villages where starvation knew no bounds, they have not killed their beasts, even when they knew that a few pounds of horse flesh might mean a week's life to them selves.

WORTH MORE THAN HUMANS

Horses were more precious than humans. Without livestock, no food could be brought from the railways and the seed for the next year's crop would lie useless in the box cars far from the fields.

Ragweed and other vegetation ordinarily considered of no food value, have been used for forage. The animals have been able to do only about half the work that a well-fed beast would do. Most of them, particularly the camels present a woebegone appearance. These dromedaries groan continuously as they lumber along the snow roads at a rate of three to four miles an hour, protesting over every bump or snow drift in the road.

Nevertheless, they drag loads of more than a ton, fifteen to twenty miles a day. The horses pull at least half of this load.

FORTUNE ON PAPER

Even with the scarcity and dearness of forage, the peasants whom the correspondent encountered were not selling their livestock cheaply. Before the revolution, a good big camel in Samara province could be bought for forty or fifty rubles. This represented $20 to $25. The $6,000,000 to $6,000,000 rubles now asked for camels in this district represents only about half that amount when figured in gold, but, compared with prices asked for other commodities, livestock is still held at a high figure.

Seize Mrs. Rowe at Oakland on Murder Attempt

Mrs. Jessie Rowe of Willowbrook was arrested in Oakland yesterday on a telegraphic warrant from this city charging her with having attemped to kill the wife of the man accused of the murder of Mrs. Rowe's husband.

For the past two weeks, Oakland dispatches said, Mrs. Rowe and her small child have been living at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Scroggins at 823 Fifth avenue, Oakland. She has been employed as a telephone operator at an Oakland hotel.

Mrs. Rowe, who would not discuss her predicament, beyond declaring her innocence, is asserted to have attacked Mrs. Nellie Hensel with a butcher knife.

Mrs. Hensel's husband, Robert W. Heabel, is in the Los Angeles County Jail awaiting trial on the charge of having slain Mrs. Rowe's husband at his home during a quarrel on the night of April 1, last.

Sheriff Traeger in requesting Mrs. Rowe's arrest informed the Oakland police a deputy would be sent for Mrs. Rowe, who is held in jail there.

"LULU BETT" AT DALTON'S

According to the Daltons, the play chosen for their first production under the new stock policy at their Broadway theater is "Miss Lulu Bett." As was announced a few days ago, the Daltons have secured the Smith-King players of Pasadena for a season of stock. The opening performance will be on the 21st inst. The Smith-King players close their engagement in Pasadena Sunday and will then start rehearsals immediately for their Los Angeles debut. "Miss Lulu Bett" is from the novel of the same name by Zona Gale. The book enjoyed one of the largest sales of a novel and its popularity here in play form will no doubt be worthy of notice.

TO ENTER BUSINESS

Robert L. Mock, former director for Spain, Portugal, their insular possessions and part of Africa, of the United States Shipping Board, is a guest at the Gates Hotel and plans to make his home in Los Angeles. He will enter business here as an associate of J. R. Coffman, general secretary of a number of commercial associations, with offices in the Higgins Building.

Robinson, president of the First National Bank, will be toastmaster. The speakers will be Dr. Flavel S. Luther, ex-president of Trinity College, Hartford, Ct., and Dr. Remsen D. Bird, president of Occidental College.

ADMINISTRATION HOPEFUL

Harding and Cabinet Satisfied With Attitude of Allies Regarding Russia

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 9.—The general principles laid down by the Genoa conference in formulating its policy toward Russia have been subjected to closest scrutiny by President Harding and his advisers and have been found to be in substantial accord with the views of the United States.

Without taking sides in the controversy which is now dividing the conference over certain questions of procedure, a high administration spokesman declared today that this government found itself in virtual agreement with the conference plan to make recognition of the soviet government contingent upon its fulfillment of international obligations.

AMERICAN PRINCIPLES

So thoroughly has the accomplished work of the conference thus far met with the views of officials here that it was asserted that from the start the conference leaders had followed to a great degree the principles announced by the American State Department more than a year ago.

This declaration, which was the first comment to come from administration circles since the conference began, was made after President Harding and his Cabinet had discussed the Genoa situation and the Russian problem throughout most of a two-hour meeting. Their considerations are understood to have been of a most comprehensive character, Secretary Hughes laying before his colleagues all the confidential information received by his department from Ambassador Child, and the other secretaries expressing freely their opinions regarding the possible effect on the United States.

NO CHANGE IN POLICY

So far as the Cabinet discussion led to any decision, it was in favor of continuing the present policy of nonintervention in the Genoa proceedings and standing firmly on the American demand that Russia must assume her international obligations and establish a stable internal government before she can expect recognition by the United States. It was said the administration still was hopeful that the conference would agree on a recognition program to which this government could give its support, but otherwise the United States must continue to deal with the question as a separate one between this country and Russia.

CHINA IS HIT BY GRAFTERS

ernment have been signed without the approval of the government, that arrangements have been made for loan obligations without the knowledge of the government and that in order to further their own selfish ends they have made settlements regarding various bonds and treasury bills without the approval of the government.

ARRESTS DEMANDED

The memorial then goes on to demand that the guilty parties be arrested and handed over to the courts for prosecution and that they be severely punished. The Vice Minister points out that the accounts and statements submitted to the board of audit have been delayed months and years, and that some of the accounts have never been submitted at all.

The publication of this memorial fell like a bombshell in Peking official circles, but among foreigners acquainted with what has been going on for years, it caused no surprise. Corruption and graft on a gigantic scale have been the order of the day since the establishment of the republic. If the investigation is carried out, without consideration of rank or person, nearly every minister and vice-minister of finance who has held office for the last twelve years will be implicated. Minor officials as well as the provisional financial officials doubtless will find themselves in the same position.

FIRST REAL ATTEMPT

This is the first real attempt on the part of any republican official to put an end to corruption and graft. How far he will succeed it is difficult to say. The hands of the majority of the officials will be turned against him, for so many of their political associates, relatives and friends will be involved that it cannot be expected that they will submit to the exposure without a struggle. It is stated in the press that this exposure of corruption is nothing more or less than a political move brought forward with the object of trying to weaken the government.

The Vice-Minister of Justice is said to have the support of Wu Pei Fu, but the President is not showing the keenness expected of him in the matter. It is said that some of his relatives are more or less connected with some of the actions complained of and it is only natural that he should protect them.

In view of this expose it is easy to understand why the banking consortium and other people lending money to China demand that they have supervision of the expenditure of the money they advance.

UPRISING OF FANATICS

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

TIEN-TSIN, May 9.—On the heels of Gen. Wu Pei Fu's victory a new menace has appeared at his rear, but advices to his headquarters tonight say the latest enemy is being surrounded. The leader of the new insurrection is Chao-Hieh, a brother of Chao Ti the military governor of Honan province. His outbreak is alarming because of its fanatical nature, but Gen. Wu is confident that he will be able to suppress it quickly.

Chao Hieh employs a necromancer, whose advice he follows punctiliously. Chao Hieh got a vision that he was to become Emperor, so he erected a temple where he spends three days a week conversing with the gods regarding his imperial ambitions. As commander of the first Honan division, he has a force of 16,000 men, which he has been recruiting from among the fanatics. Gen. Chang Tso Lin took advantage of the situation by bribing the necromancer to advise Chao Hieh to join Chang's forces, so when Gen. Wu began his northward movement, Chao Hieh began fighting. He was quickly suppressed, but now he appears to have revived and is making things lively.

When Gen. Chang began his retreat south, he sent word to Chao Hieh's necromancer, who advised Chao Hieh that twenty-four stars had changed to human beings and were ready to set him on the throne at Peking. Thereupon Chao Hieh cut the railway near Chenchow.

Gen. Wu has sent Gen. Feng Yuh Siang, a Christian, to Honan with the eleventh division. Gov. Chao Ti has denounced his brother and is sending a force against him. Hard fighting occurred Monday and Tuesday, but Gen. Feng reports that he has been joined by Gen. Chin, so the crazy Chao Hieh will soon be overcome. However, there is some fear that, unless all his adherents are captured, the fanatics may form in other sections, causing additional trouble.

TELLS OF RUM SYNDICATE

Convicted Prohibition Agent Declares Well-Known Men Involved in Detroit Ring

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

DETROIT, May 9.—Robert L. Crinnian, former Federal prohibition enforcement agent, convicted of bribery, today revealed details of what he said was a gigantic conspiracy to set at naught the workings of the prohibition law.

"Patrick T. Roche, the special intelligence officer of the Department of Internal Revenue, who is conducting the investigation here with twenty special operatives, visited me eight times," said Crinnian at the County Jail, where he is awaiting transportation to the Federal prison at Atlanta. "He intimated that the government would make things easy for me, if I told all—I refused."

RUM RUNNING SYNDICATE

Crinnian told of a million dollar rum running syndicate, which, he says, extends into some Detroit public offices. This syndicate, he said, is backed by wealthy men and has offices in Detroit, Chicago and Waterioo, Ont., and agents scattered along the river front.

"If a prohibition agent here wanted to be dishonest he could clean up $20,000 a month from this syndicate," Crinnian stated. "I have had as much as $10,000 offered me by a single agent to overlook a cargo of whisky which was known to be coming over from Canada at a designated time. Other prohibition officers know these agents, I am certain.

PERFECT SPY SYSTEM

"This syndicate has perfected an espionage system that is beyond comprehension. They have spies right in the Federal building. They know where Federal agents are going before the agents themselves get the orders. There is a leak some place."

Referring to his own conviction, the former agent declared:

"I know too much. They put me in jail to keep me quiet. They got me out of the way because I refused to step on the bandwagon. When this rum running syndicate feels you are becoming dangerous they get you out of the way. Some of the heads of this syndicate are well known men, men with positions of public trust."

Two Nabbed in Raid on Radical Meeting Hall

Raiding a hall at 113¼ South Spring street last night, John Dymond, Luke Lane and Morris Pesner of the District Attorney's office and a police squad, arrested E. Pfister and H. S. Carroll on charges of criminal syndicalism, and confiscated large quantities of literature portraying the preamble and tenets of the Workers' International Industrial Union and the One Great Union.

A meeting of the W.I.I.U. was in progress at the time. Pfister, according to the investigators, is the literature agent and Carroll the financial secretary of the organization.

The W.I.I.U., according to the investigators, and the One Great Union have been working for several months along the same lines as followed by the I.W.W. and the One Big Union. The raid was planned when it was learned that pamphlets containing the W.I.I.U. preamble and a structural map of the O.G.U., under the caption, "The New Form of Government," had been publicly distributed. According to the investigators of the District Attorney's office, all of the literature confiscated contains matter in direct opposition to lawful government.

Year's Work is Reviewed at "Y" Annual Dinner

More than 10,000 men and boys have been served in the past twelve months by the Los Angeles Y.M.C.A., according to reports read last night at the annual business meeting of the organization. The meeting followed a dinner at the Central "Y" building.

Figures showed that 4018 men registered in the physical department, 1919 students attended educational classes, more than 200,000 visitors were registered, 1324 men were placed in employment, 3706 attended Bible classes, 1788 emergency problems were solved in private interviews, and 1261 voluntary workers aided the religious department.

The following directors were chosen: Judge Walter Bordwell, J. G. Bullock, A. B. Cass and J. O. Smith.

MINING NEWS.

BY CHARLES F. WILLIS, Editor "Arizona Mining Journal."

COPPER SITUATION. An increasing firmness in the market with a larger price for June delivery marked the copper market for the past week. The leading feature, however, during the last several weeks, has been a larger foreign demand and we must recognize that the future of the copper industry depends largely upon the use of copper abroad. Authorities on expert business are confident of the future with a steadily increasing demand, as practically all scrap copper is now consumed.

JEROME. The United Verde Copper Company has had orders to start mining and shipping to the smelter. This makes the last of the large copper mines to start, their extremely advantageous financial position enabling them to wait and avail themselves of the better price of the metal.

CROWN KING. There is an increasing activity in Crown King section following closely upon the announcement of the opening of the Humboldt smelter, the Springgreen, Fairview, Blue Jacket, Springfield, Nelson, and other properties now working and preparing for shipping.

FIERRO. Shipments have started from the Hanover-Bessemer iron mines at the rate of 15,000 tons per month at the present. This ore goes to the Colorado Fuel and Iron plant at Pueblo, Colo. The working force is now about 100 men under the direction of L. M. Kniffen, general manager.

MORENCI. The detailed plans of the remodeling of the No. 6 concentrator of the Phelps Dodge Corporation Morenci branch will be completed about June 1 and forwarded to the New York office for approval. The plans contemplate increasing the capacity of the plant about 1000 tons daily.

AJO. Speed is being made in the water development for the 10,000 tons flotation plant of the New Cornelia Copper Company which is to be erected shortly. The development of water is an essential preliminary to the erection of plants in the Ajo district.

BISBEE. Interest is centered in the Chicago meeting of the Shattuck Arizona Copper Company directors, which was held recently in Chicago, as it is presumed that this meeting may mean the starting of this company. Some very high-grade ore was encountered just preliminary to the shutdown.

CHLORIDE. The Dardenelles is about ready to resume operations with all new electrical equipment and adequate power to go to a 1000-foot depth. This mine has been well developed in the upper levels and showed some very fine ore bodies and the new equipment will permit of development at depth.

KINGMAN. Reports from the Nancy Lee show that that property has encountered fourteen feet of ore running $15 per ton. This strike, which was reported several weeks ago, is at a 200-foot depth.

MAYER. The workings of the United Arizona Mining and Smelting Company are being kept clear of water in order that development work may start on short notice. This property has been developed to a depth of 1000 feet by a shaft and by extensive diamond-drill work.

THE COUNTRY OVER

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CLEVELAND (O.) May 9.—Reports from all over Ohio show that more industrial plants are reopening and that those already in operation are employing more men to keep pace with increasing business. The McKinney Steel Company of this city, started six new open-hearth furnaces to enable the plant to keep up with orders. The Otis Steel Company reports a steady increase in operations with the sheet mill running at 100 per cent capacity.

The Mahoning Valley Steel plants have been able to increase production in spite of the coal strike. The Brier Hill Steel Company started another furnace today and steel men say there are supplies of fuel on hand for two or three months.

Employment in 100 Cleveland plants used by the Chamber of Commerce as a basis for estimating conditions now is within 438 persons of the peak of employment in 1921.

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) May 9.—The weather, which remains cool and rainy, continues to be a dominating factor in current business and has curtailed retail trade. Viewing the situation broadly, however, there is a decided increase in confidence in future activities. Farmers are from two weeks to a month late with their customary spring planting, but the rain has aided in developing the alfalfa, wheat and other crops already in the ground.

Reports from the Ozark region of Missouri say the estimate of the strawberry crop has been increased from 1900 to 2500 cars. This means an output of 30,000,000 quarts, the largest in the history of the region. The Kansas Horticultural Society predicts a bumper fruit crop in that State. In Wyandotte county the crop appears in danger from insect pests.

Building contractors and employees are still deadlocked on wage scales for next year. The old contract expired May 1. Contractors threaten open-shop operation unless a reduction in wages of 15 per cent is accepted.

SEATTLE (Wash.) May 9.—The unemployment situation has ceased to be a problem in the Northwest because of seasonal demand for workers in basic industries of Washington and Alaska. There is no oversupply of common labor, according to a statement today by the superintendent of the city employment bureau. The demand for skilled workers in the sawmills fully equals the supply and spring planting by farmers has taken a lot of migratory workers out of the cities of the Pacific Northwest. The building crafts are working at smaller wages than last year and the outlook for building activity this summer is better than at any time since November, 1918.

Buying of new issues of investment securities is on a broader scale than ever. In many of the high-grade issues subscribers have had to be content with one-fourth of the amount they desire to buy.

The wholesale dry-goods trade for the first four months of this year shows gains of about 35 per cent in dollars over the business for a corresponding period of last year. Retailers are showing a desire to buy all staples close at home and collections have improved.

Standard Oil Dividend

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEODESHA (Kan.) May 9.—The directors of the Standard Oil Company of Kansas have announced payment of the regular quarterly dividend of $3 a share would be made June 15 to stockholders of record at the close of business May 31.

SHIPPING and Los Angeles Harbor NEWS

New Schedule Announced by Johnson Line

With the departure from Christiana, Norway, late this month of the crack motorship Balboa, bound for Los Angeles Harbor, the new thirty-day service of the Johnson line will become effective, and local shippers thereafter will have the advantage of direct freight and passenger service between the local port and Norway, it was announced yesterday by H. R. McLaurin, local representative of the line.

At present the Johnson line vessels have been operated on a non-liner basis, and have called at South American west coast ports before doubling back to Los Angeles Harbor and thence to San Francisco and northern ports. The vessels under the new schedule will remain on the Pacific Coast about thirty days, loading at the various ports.

Included in the big fleet are the Balboa, San Francisco, Lima, Canada, Buenos Aires, Pacific, Kronsprincessin Margaret and Kronsprins Gustavo Adolph. All are motorships, ranging from 8000 to 12,000 tons, and each has accommodations for from ten to twelve passengers. Passenger fares from Los Angeles Harbor to the first European port of call will be about 75 pounds sterling, or about $340.

Under the new schedule the vessels will be operated on the liner basis to the local port on the outward trips only, and will call here on the return trips only when cargo offers.

Departure of Tug Decreases Tender Fleet

After several months of service with the Pacific Fleet, during which she towed targets for the battleships to shoot at, ran errands, went to the aid of distressed ships and performed other duties, the navy tug Pinola sailed last night for San Francisco to go out of commission. With her departure there remains but three tenders at the local base for service with the big battle fleet. These are the mine sweepers Cardinal and Kingfisher, and the tug Sonoma.

The Pinola, with a crew of forty-one men, is commanded by Chief Boatswain Van Pelt. Officers and men of the tug will be transferred to the receiving ship at Mare Island navy yard after the work of decommissioning the Pinola is completed.

Sailor Washed Overboard but Escapes Death

William Branbon, a seaman aboard the dreadnaught Oklahoma, had a narrow escape from drowning yesterday morning at Los Angeles Harbor when he was swept overboard from motor boat No. 1 by a heavy sea. Branbon, a member of the motor sailer's crew, had attempted to walk to the stern of the boat when a sea caught him and washed him over the side.

Handicapped by heavy rubber boots and a rubber coat, the seaman struggled for several minutes in the water before he freed himself of the encumbrances. He was rescued by Coxswain William Bayna, in charge of the boat, and other members of the crew.

HARBOR DEPARTMENT UNDER CIVIL SERVICE

COMMISSIONERS ORDER ALL BUT LABORERS TO TAKE EXAMINATION

The Board of Civil Service Commissioners yesterday ordered all employees of the City Harbor department except common laborers placed under civil service. Examinations will at once be ordered for all men now working for the department whose positions were heretofore exempted from the regulations applying to all other city departments.

To assist the harbor department in securing men quickly from the civil service lists the commission will place a representative at the city offices in the harbor district, and many of the examinations will be held there.

The order issued yesterday becomes effective in ten days, and affects about 250 employees, including foremen, blacksmiths, painters, carpenters, engineers and roofers.

PORT NOTES

The Johnson line freighter Steel Ranger, due in Los Angeles Harbor yesterday, en route from northwestern ports to the Atlantic, is being held up at San Francisco because of a leak which the ship sprung recently in her after hold. The entire cargo of steel laid by the vessel here before the leak was made known, and all of the vessel will hold it at the Bay City port for several days, according to dispatches from the north.

Vessels in the intercoastal trade have been taking on cargo here such as Port Costa, Lehi instead of at San Pedro the past few weeks. The steamer Oriflamme, operated under charter by the Robinson Line, and which recently made its first trip to the west coast, took on a cargo of wool cloth at Port Costa Lehi and will call direct to New York from that port.

Evidence that Germany shipping circles are making a strong effort to regain profitable trade with the Philippine Islands, which formerly was theirs practically undisputed, is found in the reported arrival at Manila of two German vessels, the first of what is said to be a large fleet. Information to the effect that the two vessels are to be followed by many more, and that with the arrival of the latter four of the Hamburg-American Line freighter fleet and the corrected arrival of the steamers of the same line, Manila's share of the trade will have shifted since the outbreak of the war to Germany, getting 30 per cent of the business. Behind Dollar Company, operator of Admiral Oriental Line, and the North German Lloyd, considered a combination of American cargo goods in the Orient, the German line is the strongest of the foreign lines now operating in the Philippine trade. The Schleswig, one of the steamers recently in Manila and the North German Lloyd liner Sachsen, which arrived there on a similar visit last month, are the first ships ranging from 11,000 tons down to 5000 tons to be sent to the Philippines since the fleet has expanded, the steamers now being sent in addition to the two fleet steamers which have been operating for some time. The Admiral Oriental Line has entered the field with six steamers operating between New York and Manila via Suez and Europe. The Pacific Mail and the Robert Dollar Line operate to the Philippines from San Francisco and Honolulu on the one hand, and Seattle and Tacoma on the other. The Admiral Oriental Line has been operating between the Pacific Coast and the Orient.

Another steamer has been added to the William Lines international service in order to meet the demand for space to the Orient. The company formerly operated a fleet of seven steamers, but the number was reduced to six when the Willamette, which was sunk in collision with the Admiral Oriental liner President Jefferson off the coast of China, was lost. The William Line is slightly short of vessels for its international service, the same company's steamer Willamette Valley having been withdrawn from the service for repairs. Another steamer will be added to the fleet as soon as the Willamette Valley is ready for service, it is said. The Willamette Valley has been undergoing repairs at Seattle for several months.

WHAT IS A BARGAIN?

"AN ADVANTAGEOUS PURCHASE."

This does not always mean something bought at the lowest possible price.

Especially is this true with used automobiles where the most sensible mechanical conditions, appearance, equipment and the dealer's reputation for square dealing.

IT PAYS TO BUY HERE.

SUNSET AND PICUEROA.

This main corner is the choicest Sunset Blvd. property on the whole block and for $22,500 it is unusual with a 2-story frame building, 4 flats and 2 stores. Rents $225 per month. Why pay rent when you can buy at the present price of $22,500 and get the income? Why not look at such a fine proposition? Property now pays all expenses and over 7% net on the investment. It will be worth $30,000 in a few years. Sunset and Figueroa are booming and the business district is moving this way rapidly. This corner situation is rare, very desirable. This is an investment you will be proud of. Terms to responsible party. Inspect today with an 479 to the corner. Careful buyers only.

enable the Department of Justice to continue its activities.

Daugherty insisted that the Department of Justice has made "Very substantial progress in war contract cases notwithstanding the lack of adequate facilities in funds and men."

CONNIVED AT PLOT

"All patriotic citizens are agreed that the persons and corporations who took advantage of the extraordinary opportunities afforded by the war to defraud and despoil the government should be vigorously prosecuted to the full extent of the law and should be made to disgorge the unholy profits of their treasonable conduct," said Daugherty. "These crimes and offenses are all the more reprehensible when committed or connived at by sworn officers and employees of the government.

"The transactions out of which the cases grew, in a vast majority of instances, took place during the preceding administration. Naturally little or nothing was done during that administration to bring these matters to light. As the country will soon have reason to know, influential personages in the government who had knowledge of these transactions and were in a position to make disclosure, were personally interested in concealing them. It is not to be wondered therefore, that upon coming into office I found not only that practically nothing had been done in the way of investigating and prosecuting these offenses, but that no machinery had been set up for handling the cases in an orderly and systematic way."

TWO CASES READY

Daugherty stated that two cases of "first magnitude are ready for prompt submission," and that others are in the "course of preparation." He stated that government claims in civil actions, without element of fraud, aggregated about $100,000,000. The War Department, with the assistance of the Department of Justice, has already recovered millions of dollars in overpayments to contractors.

Taking up the case of the Lincoln Motor Company of Detroit, Mr. Daugherty stated that the government's claim for $9,000,000 had been filed, after delay necessitated by a request of the receiver for a further hearing.

"The record of the Department of Justice calls for no apology and none is intended," Daugherty concluded.

"The work has been pressed to the fullest extent that the funds at my disposal would permit. The plans are laid, the work is under way and all cases will be energetically prosecuted."

WOODRUFF PESSIMISTIC

Representative Woodruff said he was not "optimistic" of increased activity in the Department of Justice. He insisted that the case against the Lincoln Motor Company is in such shape as to warrant the beginning of proceedings against it months ago. It was placed in the hands of the United States Attorney at Detroit, he said, but was brought back to Washington "at the request of two United States Senators."

"Since that time," Woodruff declared, "attorneys of the company have been whispering around that they have the case 'all fixed up.'"

Woodruff asserted also that the case against the Wright-Martin Company was withdrawn from the hands of the United States Attorney in New York at the request of Secretary of War Weeks.

Replying to Daugherty's statement that prosecution has been handicapped by lack of funds, Woodruff stated that Representative Graham, Illinois, chairman of the committee which investigated war expenditures, advised Daugherty to ask Congress for more money six months ago.

"Now Daugherty is trying to pass the buck to Congress," said Mr. Woodruff.

HOLD SIX IN LIQUOR CASES

the Federal grand jury tonight against M. N. Cosulich, head of the Central California Vineyards Association; James Robertson, his partner; M. Kriham, business associate; Edward Baffico, truck driver, and A. B. Levinson of Oakland.

They are charged with conspiring to violate the Volstead Act by the withdrawal and illegal sale of wine intended for sacramental purposes. Cosulich's bond was fixed at $10,000, and those of the other defendants at $5000 each.

Cosulich is accused by Federal officers of negotiating with Rabbi Fishel Ganish for the use of the rabbi's permit to withdraw liquor, and in return to have promised to supply members of the rabbi's congregation with sacramental wine.

FIND BODY OF MISSING MAN

WILLIAM J. BLOOD OF LA VERNE ENDS LIFE IN RESERVOIR

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

POMONA, May 9.—The body of William J. Blood, who disappeared from his home at 319 East Second street, La Verne, early yesterday morning, was found today in a reservoir, north of that city, which two years ago he assisted in building.

W. C. Perham, a brother-in-law of Mr. Blood, and Frank Sheldon, located the body after searching parties had hunted for him all day yesterday and throughout the night. The reservoir is about a mile from the Blood home. Mr. Blood had been in ill health for a long time and had worried constantly over his condition. He was subject to occasional mental lapses. He also brooded over the fact that he could not find regular employment.

After a thorough search of the near-by country, and the foothills and mountains north of La Verne without finding a trace of the missing man, Mr. Perham noticed this morning that the manhole on the top of the reservoir, which is enclosed, had been moved out of place. Further investigation resulted in the discovery and recovery of the body.

The body was brought to the Todd & Patterson parlors here, and the coroner's inquest has been waived. Funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

Mr. Blood was well known in La Verne, and is survived by his wife and a daughter, Florence, who is a student in Pomona college.

REDLANDS DRESSED IN HER PRETTIEST

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, May 9.—Redlands, having a reputation for being one of the most beautiful of the Southland cities, has donned her most beautiful garb and is now outshining herself for the tourist. For Redlands is now buried under a mass of roses, all kinds, all colors, all sizes, and growing under all conditions.

There are great trellises with rose bushes almost hiding the houses, rose bushes, rose trees, miles and miles of rose hedges in Cherokee, Gold of Ophir, and Beauty of Glazenwood, pergolas covered with roses and the whole city fragrant with the perfume.

Also, the orange trees are in bloom now. The prettiest festival of the season, the Fiesta of the Flowers, was held at the Church of the Sacred Heart, with Msgr. T. J. Fitzgerald in charge, the little children singing hymns and carrying garlands of blossoms dressing the whole church in roses and orange flowers.

BREAK UP FILIBUSTER ON TARIFF

Senate Will Go on Twelve-Hour Basis in Order to Speed Up Action

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 9.—The Senate went on a twelve-hour basis today in its struggle with the tariff bill, and word was sent around by the Republican leaders that beginning tomorrow there would be night sessions. The plan is for the Senate to meet at 11 a.m. and remain in session until 10 or 11 p.m.

Leaders on the majority side said there was no question about their ability to maintain a quorum after sundown. They explained that it was not the purpose to shut off debate on the tariff, but to afford additional time for discussion, and thus to speed up action on the remaining 2000 odd committee amendments.

Only one item—formic acid—was disposed of today. After five hours of debate, which covered a wide range, the Senate voted down without a roll call an amendment by Senator McCormick, Republican, Illinois, to make the duty on this acid 6 cents a pound instead of 4 cents as proposed by the committee.

After another hour of discussion an amendment by Senator King, Democrat, Utah, to reduce the rate 2½ cents was rejected, 18 to 38. The committee amendment then was approved without a roll call.

TO TAKE UP CHARGES AGAINST CULBERSON

BRITISHER IN LOVE WITH SENATOR'S DAUGHTER TELLS STORY AT EMBASSY

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 9.—After a conference with Alexander E. Robertson, British war veteran, who charges an attempt was made to kidnap him because of his affection for Miss Mary Culberson, daughter of Senator Culberson of Texas, British Embassy officials issued a brief statement tonight declaring that "certain aspects" of the case seemed to call for "further investigation."

Counsellor Craigie stated that Robertson was expected to confer again tomorrow with embassy officials and that in the meantime it would neither advisable for Robertson to discuss his case with newspaper men.

Robertson would remain in Washington, Craigie admitted, while the embassy investigated his charge that private detectives kidnaped him and attempted to force him to leave the country at the instigation of Senator Culberson, who was said to have objected to the man's attentions to Miss Culberson.

Robertson's war record, as described by him, was verified today by the embassy. The veteran's presence in this country, so far as immigration and other regulations were concerned, was said to be proper in every respect.

No effort has been made by Robertson, it was said, to communicate with Miss Culberson, who was reported to be at her parents' home in a fashionable Sixteenth-street apartment. No statement was forthcoming from the Culberson family.

PARENT-TEACHER MEET IS OPENED

MASSACHUSETTS WOMAN AT TACOMA HAS VISION OF WORLD ORGANIZATION

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

TACOMA (Wash.) May 9.—Enrollment of every home in the United States and ultimately the entire world was the program of the future outlined today by Mrs. Milton P. Higgins of Worcester, Mass., in her report as president of the National Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Associations, which opened the twenty-sixth annual convention here this morning.

"People say we can't get into every home," she declared. "Let's take that as a challenge and try it. What we can't do today we can do tomorrow, and we will soon be organized throughout the world."

In her national report Mrs. Higgins also advocated the dividing of the United States into fourteen districts. She also stressed the point brought out recently by Mrs. Thomas G. Winter of Minneapolis, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, who stated that women's clubs should not try to solicit the Parent-Teacher Associations as members of their organizations. Mrs. Higgins described the trip she is making throughout the United States, reporting forty States with organized Parent-Teacher circles and eight in which she and other national workers are endeavoring to institute the movement.

Reports of State presidents were given by Mrs. John B. Cleaver of Delaware, Mrs. Harry Ewing of California, Mrs. J. Langdon of Arizona, Mrs. S. E. Oppenheim of New Jersey, Mrs. A. D. Miller of Ohio and Mrs. Isaac Hillis of Iowa. Other State presidents will probably be heard at tomorrow's session, it was announced.

Three sectional meetings were held during the morning. Tonight a reception was given for the visitors at the Scottish Rite Cathedral.

ASK PEGGY TO LEAVE, IS REPORT

French Citizens Are Said to be Eager for Banishment of American Girl

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, May 9.—Peggy Joyce has been requested to leave Paris and not to return for twenty years, according to a report reaching Chicago today. It is understood that Mme. Errazuriz, mother of William Errazuriz, who committed suicide last week, and Judge Merillon of the French Appeals Court, father of Pierre Merillon, Peggy's former fiance, have been eager to secure her banishment and have been active in bringing official pressure to bear on her case.

Peggy is scheduled to return to America next week, but she had planned to go back to France in June. It has been reported that she is then to wed Henri LeTellier, wealthy Paris newspaper owner. Peggy recently said she was sick and tired of all the excitement and tragedy and wanted to get back to the quiet home of her mother in Virginia and hide. Official France may make this possible and mandatory.

RIVER GOES OVER LEVEES AT WACO

PEOPLE IN LOWLANDS WARNED BY SOUNDING OF SIREN

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WACO (Tex.) May 9.—Late tonight a siren was sounded here warning persons in the low sections of East Waco that the Brazos River had gone over the levees and that lives and property in that section were in danger.

FORT WORTH (Tex.) May 9.—Flood conditions here were slightly improved late today, but rises coming down both forks of the Trinity River were expected to again inundate the lowlands. It is believed that none was killed in the present flood, since those living in the lowlands were warned in time to escape. The Red Cross forces continued working, caring for the refugees, feeding them and providing sleeping quarters for more than 400.

WINNIPEG (Man.) May 9.—Seventy-five thousand acres of Manitoba's finest wheat land is threatened by flood waters of the Assiniboine River between this city and Portage, La Prairie, and already thousands of acres have been inundated, according to reports today.

HOUSTON (Tex.) May 9.—A special relief train carrying a number of boats was sent to Sandy Point in Brazoria county today to rescue about forty families who were reported to be trapped by the high waters in the Brazos bottoms and in danger of being drowned.

DALLAS (Tex.) May 9.—Two hundred residents of West Dallas abandoned their homes today and took refuge on near-by hillsides from the waters of the rapidly rising Trinity River.

PAYNE FUNERAL HERE

Don't Envy Beauty! Cultivate It—
Says Mme. Anna Bergeron

Women whom men admire and other women envy always have a good complexion. Striking beauty will lose its charm if the skin becomes dry and lifeless, or harbors blackheads, wrinkles or pimples. Cracked lips, rough hands, blackheads and pimples are nearly always caused by neglect of the skin, or by the use of something that is not agreeing with the skin, for the needs of the skin to the sex are very different from the sex.

The Key to Beauty toilet preparations are compounded to prevent the bad effects of western out door life and hard water, and positively will not grow hair.

RIVERSIDE BIDS G.A.R. WELCOME

Aged Defenders of Nation Gather in Reunion

Overcast Skies Fail to Dampen Enthusiasm

Three Veterans Enter Race for High Office

BY JAMES WARNACK
[EXPRESS DISPATCH]

RIVERSIDE, May 9.—More than 800 of the men who helped to preserve the unity of the United States in the crimson sixties gathered here today to attend the fifty-fifth annual encampment of the G.A.R., which promises to be the most enthusiastic and largest attended gathering of Civil War veterans held by the Department of California and Nevada for many years. Besides the G.A.R. members, nearly 700 delegates and members of the Woman's Relief Corps are in attendance, with more than 600 ladies of the G.A.R., 300 Daughters of Veterans, 200 Sons of Veterans and scores of members of the Auxiliary of the Sons of Veterans.

"Don't it beat ——" began one of the Sons of Veterans as he jumped from the Pacific Electric car at Riverside. "I don't expect anything but rain in Los Angeles these days, but what's the weather man got against Riverside."

"Quit your grumbling, kid," said H. M. Crouch, chief mustering officer of the department, who had come up on the same train.

"Didn't you hope for a wet welcome, and haven't you got it?"

At the Glenwood Mission Inn, general headquarters for the delegates, Frank Miller, owner of the place, stood at the entrance radiating a welcome to the hundreds of visitors. Mr. Miller has a warm spot in his heart for the old defenders of the nation, since his father, C. C. Miller, one of the founders of Riverside, was captain of Co. I, Forty-ninth Wisconsin Regiment.

RAIN SPOILS RECEPTION

Rain prevented Riverside from turning out in its gayest attire to greet the delegates, and the latter turned into the Mission Inn, where a roaring, kindly fire, music, light and good cheer awaited them. Soldiers do not like to be cooped up, even in so beautiful an establishment as the Mission Inn, and at the first informal convention in the inn this morning it was unanimously decided that something must be done to stop the rain. The committee appointed to attend to the matter appealed to the Pasadena Fife and Drum Corps, the members of which suggested radiophoning a little of the convention joy to the clouds, with the request that they disperse. The suggestion was kindly received, and whether the clouds got the message or whether the sun got jealous of the radiant smiles of mortals, the effect was all that could have been hoped for. The fifers and drummers played "Marching Through Georgia," "Dixie," "The Girl I Left Behind Me," and a few more old favorites.

The G.A.R. members sang the songs of "Auld Lang Syne" and the ladies cheered. They kept this up until noon, when the sun burst through the clouds in all his glory and the darkness of the day disappeared as did the dark clouds of war following the victory of these men more than half a century ago.

William M. Noll of the Los Angeles department, commander, and Mayor S. C. Evans of Riverside and a body of notable delegates were on hand today to meet Dr. Lewis S. Pilcher, commander-in-chief, who arrived by automobile from Los Angeles this afternoon. A rousing welcome was extended to the delegates at a mass meeting the first this evening at the First Methodist Church, convention headquarters for the G.A.R. The address of welcome by the Mayor was answered by Department Commander Noll. Response to the greeting of the Women's Relief Corps was made by Thomas E. Blanchard, judge-advocate and past department commander. Greetings from the Ladies of the G.A.R. was responded to by George B. Loud, past department commander of New York and now a resident of Culver City. A. E. Leavitt, past department commander of California and Nevada, responded to greetings from the Sons of Veterans.

THREE SEEK OFFICE

It was stated by officers this afternoon that there are three principal candidates for the post of department commander to succeed Commander Noll. They are George Grannis of Turlock, Cal., Dr. S. W. Hopkins of Lodi, Cal., and Past Commander Fred Banta of Fresno.

The election will probably be held Thursday following the parade. At this election delegates to the national convention to be held at Des Moines in August will also be chosen. The Ladies of the G.A.R. are rejoicing in the presence at the convention here of the national representative, Mrs. Laura McNair Loud, who was the first national president of the Ladies of the G.A.R., and who now lives at Culver City. Another delegate of note is Mrs. Margaret Hall Laird, who was the first department president of California. Mrs. Laird now lives at Sawtelle. The present department president of the Ladies of the G.A.R. is Mrs. Anna Herr Jarvis. The senior vice-president is Mrs. Harriett C. Finch and the junior vice-president, Nellie G. Masters.

"We are not noticed quite as much as we were a few years ago," said Capt. Clifford Fuller, with a touch of sadness in his voice. "It's the Legion boys now, but it's all right. We are not kicking. I suppose we've had our day. Still we will keep on smiling. But I want to say one thing, and that is, that although we may be back numbers, no organization ever contributed more time and money and effort toward upholding the laws of this country than the G.A.R."

Fuller remarked that he had a wild hair in his eye and drew a handkerchief from his pocket in which to imprison said wild hair. It is not fair to suspect a soldier of shedding tears.

LISTENS FOR HIM

Capt. Fuller is from Los Angeles. He is accompanied by Mrs. Fuller, who is past 80 years old. Capt. and Mrs. Fuller recently celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary. She is probably the best man of the two. She does most of the listening for the captain, and he does most of the talking.

"Let me introduce you to George Ficks, who I first met in this department forty-five years ago," said Capt. Fuller. And as Mr. Ficks talked he told his hearers all about Judge N. P. Chipman, one of the past commanders of this department, and who was also presiding justice of the Appellate Court, Sacramento district. He retired from political activities a year ago, and now lives at Chico. He is well up in the eighties. He is the author of the "Tragedy of Andersonville," and other works. His illness prevented his attendance at the present convention.

That is why Mrs. Ficks is just a tiny bit blue. There is another faithful old veteran who is not present, but he and his good wife sent their greetings to the gathering through Mrs. E. L. Taylor, president of Rosecrans Camp of Los Angeles. This man is "Daddy" Morris of 1269 South Berendo street, Los Angeles. His partner, who is as happily his wife, is Mrs. Sara H. Morris, who was recently stricken with severe illness. "Daddy" Morris belongs to Stanton Post. Sara Morris never missed a convention before. "Daddy" would not leave her alone, nor with others relatives and friends. If she could not attend the encampment neither would he. So "Daddy" is at home and so is his good wife, but both their hearts are with old friends at Riverside.

ATTEND IN SPIRIT

There are others throughout the department who are here only in spirit. There are many who attended the last encampment at Stockton who have since passed over the river to rest.

By the time the next encampment is held—

Coming upon the first car from Los Angeles this morning was an old man on whose face the smile never faded from the time he boarded the car until he jumped nimbly down from the steps and struck out through the street puddles toward the Mission Inn. He was like a boy returning home after his first days at a country fair. That man was Henry H. Nash, who for years carried the flag for Watts Post, No. 139. He is a well-known figure at the various State picnics held at Sycamore Grove.

Memorial services were conducted here today by the G.A.R. and affiliated orders. Headquarters for the W.R.C. are at the First Baptist Church. Ladies of the G.A.R. held sessions at the Fraternal Brotherhood Hall, and the Daughters of Veterans at Reynolds Hall, No. 1. The Sons of Veterans meet at Elks Hall, and the Sons of Veterans Auxiliary at Fraternal Insurance Hall.

Among those who came up from Los Angeles today were Mrs. Charlotte E. Holden, a delegate from the Kenesaw Corps No. 73 and Mrs. Lucile House. Mr. Holden, who is past 78 years old, went to the Pacific Electric station with Mrs. Holden, but decided he would not come on to Riverside. He said he didn't like to take on half of a chew. He can see well, but he can't hear as well as some folks.

Oh, well, he has seen and heard it all before, many, many times. It's nothing new to him, although he has said before he'd go along just from force of habit if he could hear as well as he used to. However, he should worry. His wife was going and she was his better half and would carry the greetings to old friends.

OLD YARNS TOLD

George A. Holden was through the Chickamauga unpleasantness and many is the day he had picked up corn that the horses had slopped over and parched it and devoured it with gusto. Yes, siree. Also he can still walk ten or fifteen miles without stopping for breath and he can outrun many of those so-called athletes. Infirm? He should guess not.

Commander Noll and Assistant Gen. J. M. Aubrey and S. W. Hopkins, Senior Vice Department Commander, are even more than satisfied with the attendance, so far, and with the prospects for a greater influx of delegates tomorrow and next day. Every car and motor conveyance that enters the city brings in a bunch of new delegates and visitors.

It is believed here that the next annual convention will be held at Modesto, the enterprising delegates and boosters having already asked for the encampment. Other cities will come into the race for the honors, but the general belief seems to be that Modesto will win out. Fresno has no chance whatever, according to delegates from Modesto.

Delegates from Bartlett Logan Post and W. R. C. and from Stanton and Robley D. Evans and Kenesaw posts and corps are here in full force and are having the time of their young lives. This afternoon the Pasadena fife and drum corps entertained some more. In fact the Pasadena fife and drum corps has nothing to do except to make their comrades happy, being the official drum corps for the convention. The organization is composed of M. P. Winterburn, Frank Templeton and E. H. Williams, the fifers, and the following drummers: O. W. Kinsman, Robert Bain and M. L. Spotwood.

Mrs. Belle Reynolds was warmly welcomed by scores of old friends upon her arrival. Her husband was a prominent officer in the Seventeenth Illinois regiment. She was appointed major by Gov. Yates.

Among other prominent delegates is Capt. E. T. Alleg of Thomas Post No. 2, San Francisco. This was the second post organized in the State and is still one of the largest and most influential.

Also in attendance is E. C. Durfee, who is Past Senior Vice Department Commander and who is now a member of the Star King Post 82 of Santa Barbara. He is accompanied by his wife, Martha M. Durfee, who is Past Senior Department Commander of W. R. C. W. A. Storke, editor of the Santa Barbara News, who began his journalistic career back in 1856 during the Buchanan campaign, is also among those present.

R. L. Heffelfinger of Bartlett Logan Post No. 6, a Past Commander of the department and who three years ago was Assistant Adjutant-General, is perhaps the smallest man in Riverside. He does not talk much but his countenance is as eloquent of gladness as the face of a Kentucky moonshiner when he first gets religion at camp meeting.

P. S.: It is not Kentucky moonshine that makes Mr. Heffelfinger glad; it is California sunshine plus the comradeship with those with whom he fought the good fight.

LIQUOR RUINS ANOTHER HOME

Whisky in the Making Causes a $2000 Fire

"Another home ruined by liquor," murmured firemen yesterday as they extinguished a $2000 blaze at 1019 West Fourth street.

According to Police Sergeant Behrendt, the fire under a still in the house became too enthusiastic, and not only partially destroyed the house, but also utterly ruined the mash. The fire department's report stated that Mrs. Kate Kull was the occupant and Mrs. Kate Kadore, the owner of the place.

YELLOW MEN and GOLD

By Gouverneur Morris

SYNOPSIS OF PREVIOUS INSTALLMENTS

Jim Parrish is a discouraged young writer. While standing on the edge of a gully near his home, contemplating suicide, he hears a groan. Scrambling down the steep sides to the wash he finds a man about to gasp his last. He catches a few words about a wallet under a spotted stone in the gully. Then the man dies. As Parrish orders his Chinese servant to notify the police he looks up and finds his neighbor, a man named Carrol, watching him. Later he searches the gully for the spotted stone. While doing so he meets Carrol, who says he has lost a wallet. After Carrol leaves, Parrish finds the spotted stone and unearths the wallet. It contains a paper describing a vast treasure in the wreck of an old Spanish galleon lying in a cove in the Straits of Magellan. Later Carrol invites Parrish to his home to meet some friends who are about to take a cruise to the Gulf of California. Before going to Carrol's house he hides the precious document. Carrol invites him to be one of his party. In gratitude he reveals his secret. Carrol becomes excited and demands the whole story. Wyan Parrish completing his tale Carrol insists upon his getting ready to leave for San Francisco at once on the ground that he is in great danger. Arriving at San Francisco they spend a wild night carousing. Parrish is drugged, robbed and placed aboard a Chinese ship.

Chapter Seven
BESSIE

I came to, lying upon a doubled quilt, in the shadow cast by the mainsail and faced so that I could see far off the purple hills of California sliding astern. The same Chinaman that had drawn the knife was sitting on his heels beside the quilt and offering me, in a blue and white bowl, a fluid mixture of water and soft boiled rice. How good it tasted! Or rather felt, for my insides burned like the pipes in a boiler. Nor could I take my lips from the bowl to ask where Carrol was until I had gulped the half of its contents.

"Calliol," said the Chinaman, with an amused and tolerant smile, "no sabe Calliol—Bessie come soon —him very fine talkee womans."

"Bessie?" I said idiotically.

"What Bessie?"

"Him come now," said the Chinaman. He scrambled to his feet, and with a sudden nodding smile and open-hand gesture, indicated me to some one, and, turning, went softly forward.

"Well of all the skinnies!" said a woman's voice, and I tried to rise. But was pushed down again by the shoulder.

"Take it easy," she said, and came around where I could see her and seated herself in a matter-of-fact way on the quilts at my feet. She was no beauty (though young) and inclined to be overweight. But there was a certain comeliness about her, of coloring and of fine black eyes that twinkled engagingly. Her hair hung in two short thick but not very long braids, and was coarse but of a lovely brown color, with lighter streaks due to sunburn, and very shiny; her face was broadish, the features inclined to be thick; but she had an expression of well-being and joviality that were mighty pleasant to the eye. For costume she had a blue serge skirt spotted by sea-water, a kind of dressing jacket of Chinese cut and material; and little else, I fancy; certainly neither shoes nor stockings.

"I'm Bessie," she said, "that's all. Who are you?"

"My name is Parrish," I said, "and I'm part owner of the Calliope."

"What's that?" said Bessie.

"Why," said I, "isn't this the Calliope?"

"This?" she exclaimed. "This schooner? Not on your life. This jolly boat is the Shantung. And your hall-marks say 'stowaway' plain as day. And the Shantung Company would like to know how you came to be in the forward storeroom?"

"As to that," I said, though very much bewildered, "I was put. Are there no white men on this ship?"

"Not a one but you," said she.

"Then," said I, "I was drugged and robbed and shunted off where I could do no harm and tell no tales." Indignation rose and I found the strength to sit up; and I plunged into my bad-luck story at a speed that produced upon Bessie a look of complete bewilderment.

She interrupted good-naturedly. "I'll tell you," she said, "just where you are. And you can dope out how you got here. The Shantung belongs to those who work her—just thirteen of 'em, and she sailed yesterday morning in hard-ware for Peru to trade in miscellanies. Now what's that to you?"

"Yesterday morning!" I cried. "Have I been in that hole all that time? No wonder I'm done up."

"It's wonderful it didn't kill you," said she.

"As," said I, "it was probably meant to."

And again I began my story, but with more clarity and less speed. And, though intending to reserve the parts that concerned the lost galleon, I had soon told Bessie the whole of it.

"But," she said, when I had done, "if there was all that treasure, and you told them where it was, why wouldn't they take you along and let you share?"

"That's what I don't get," said I. "There seems to be millions of treasure, and there were only five of us; and it was I that found out where the stuff was."

"Well," said Bessie, "some men are so mean you can't understand it at all."

"I wouldn't wonder," I said, "if it wasn't so much meanness as just plain thinking I'd all the time be in the way. And I dare say that's right. You see I'm not up to much hard work, and I'm not very practical."

"And I don't see why they put you on board the Shantung. It was a dead easy thing to do, because we all were ashore at a wedding in Chinatown, and perhaps that's the reason. It would have been a cinch to knock you on the head and stuff you into a manhole, or to just drop you overboard and whack you once with an oar."

"They were all pretty drunk," I said; "at least I think so, and maybe they didn't quite know what to do with me; and maybe they thought they were perpetrating a joke." I smiled dismally, but Bessie shook her head.

"They hoped you'd smother yourself in the storeroom," she said. "Don't see why you didn't; and they thought maybe your death would be fixed on us. And that's one for your fat Carrol. But say, what about this treasure? That all sounds like gibberish."

I had to go pretty deeply into early Spanish explorations and the conquest of Peru before she understood; and then she said:

"Well, if your address was bona fide, you've played in dirty hard luck to lose it. But I don't see what you can do about it."

"Oh," said I, "the paper itself doesn't matter, Miss Bessie."

"Guess you'd better say Mrs. Bessie," said she.

"Beg pardon," I said, "I will. I've got the paper pretty well by heart. Indeed, I don't do anything well except remember things."

"You remember the bearings?" she asked, and I repeated them for her.

"About where is that on the map?" she said.

"Why," said I, "I didn't look at it, but it's not far from the Straits of Magellan; maybe in the Straits themselves, but south of them, I think; off Tierra del Fuego, I think."

"Do you believe in it?" she asked. "In the treasure, I mean?"

"Mrs. Bessie," I said, "the crewman believed in it; his murderers believed in it; Carrol and his gang believed in it; and, as I feel like a played-out dishrag, there's not much to prevent me believing in it."

She thought a while.

"Nor me," she said finally, and looked landward for some moments, frowning thoughtfully and pursing her lips. Presently her brow smoothed and she turned once more to me.

"If you," said she, "were willing to go shares, share and share alike, I might get the company to take the boat to tap. If we make a good dicker in Peru, and are feeling pretty flush, it might just appeal to the company to take a chance, and again it might not."

"You mean the Shantung Company?" I asked. "This ship, in other words?"

"Yes," she said, "and the kid and me."

"Do you belong to the company?" I asked.

"Why, yes, I do," she said.

"And the kid?" I asked.

"That's Lichee," said she, and she smiled at the thought of him. "He's not awake yet, the lazy little beggar. But when he is awake, Mr.—Parrish, didn't you say?—he'll be good company for you. She leaned toward me confidentially. "He's a child, too!" And then for the first time I heard her laugh. It was not the ha-ha-ha of civilization, but the great haw-haw-haw chest tones of the African savage—a laugh at once strong music and the epitome of humor. The tears of laughter rolled from her eyes; and I caught a glimpse of more than one Chinaman looking suddenly up from his work and smiling broadly toward the burst of merriment.

After a while she stopped laughing and rose to her feet.

"Now for business," she said. "De I lay the matter before the company—or don't I? It's your secret."

"No," said I, "it became yours, too, when you laughed like that."

"Good!" she said, and flushed up redly under her clear tan. "But you won't find them coming to any decision right off. There's no man in this world so quick to decide as a Chinaman if he's only got a second to make up his mind; and here's no man so slow, if he's got weeks and weeks. Anyhow," she went on, "you'll be parlor-boarder; and I'm hanged if we don't put a little flesh on your bones. There isn't a better trainer in God's world than I am. I had a husband," she said, with a sudden twitching of the eyelids, "who was a crank on health— Sleep," she said, "is the most important thing; so roll over, and when you wake up I'll see that you do the next most important thing next."

And I rolled over as I had been commanded, and fell upon the instant into a quiet deep-sea sleep.

TWO INJURED WHEN VULCANIZER EXPLODES

The explosion of a steam vulcanizer late yesterday in the dental offices of Dr. William Leonard, 3325 South Main street, resulted in severe scald burns to him and his assistant, Miss Marjorie Holden, 20 years old. The apparatus is used for the making of teeth plates. The dentist and his assistant were attended at the Receiving Hospital for burns on their faces and arms.

NAMES COMMITTEE TO GREET HARDING

COUNCILMEN AND CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MEMBERS APPOINTED

Mayor Cryer yesterday announced the appointment of a finance committee to prepare plans for the welcome to be extended to President Harding during his visit to this city this summer on his way to Alaska. The membership of this committee is as follows: Andrew M. Chaffey, James G. Warren, Marco H. Hellman, R. N. Bulla, W. W. Mines and William M. Garland, representing the Chamber of Commerce, and Councilmen Conaway, Langdon and Sanborn, representing the City Council. This committee will be assigned the work of outlining in a general way the program of entertainment and then work out methods of financing the entertainment features. Later there will be appointed reception, executive and other committees.

Vice-President Coolidge in a letter received by the Mayor yesterday thanked the Mayor for his invitation to the Vice-President to visit Los Angeles in August, while the Vice-President is en route to the American Bar Association's meeting at San Francisco, and expressing the hope that his plans will permit him to accept the invitation.

Leonard Refrigerators

The Ten Great Refrigerator Ideas

Here are the ten points of perfection that make the Leonard the logical choice of those who seek refrigerator efficiency and economy:

—Ten walls of insulation—cold-retaining, heat-resisting.
—One-piece food chamber, triple-coated with porcelain.
—Rounded inside corners, with porcelain lining extending to outside edge of door-frame; sanitary, easily cleaned.
—Circulation system—chilled dry air, constantly moving.
—One-piece porcelain door-plate, pan-shaped; no wood exposed.
—Self-closing, air-tight door lock.
—Removable drain-pipe, non-sweating.
—Patented non-leaking device. (No moisture can reach the wood frame.)
—Retinned, woven-wire food shelves.
—All metal ice rack—no rust, no leak.

Styles, sizes and prices in Leonard Refrigerators are varied to suit every type of home.

The "Chambers Fireless" Gas Range

Cuts Gas Bills

You have been accustomed to using 90 to 120 minutes of gas to cook your roasts—a Chambers Fireless will do it as well with 20 to 30 minutes of gas.

Saves Flavor and Food

A big daily saving of high-priced food flavor makes a rapidly growing cash return. Cooking in this way, you have as much meat out of an 8½ pound roast as you formerly had out of 10 pounds. The rest went out in steam. The same proportion applies to other foods. Figure for yourself—how much can you save by stopping this loss?

Saves Your Time

You have been accustomed to spending several hours a day preparing dinner alone. The Chambers way is to start your roasting or baking in the oven or boiling under the hood and with the food started, there is no reason to spend more time in the kitchen until you are ready to serve the meal.

Lessens Labor

You have been accustomed to watching your meals day by day, basting the roast, testing cake, etc. A Chambers Fireless, retaining all food flavors and steam, requires no water to keep the roast from burning and is self-basting. Once a meal is started, no more steps need be taken in the kitchen until it is served.

The "Royal" Road to Cleanliness

The Cleaner you want is the one that removes the deeply embedded dirt as well as that on the surface; this can be done only by powerful suction, such as that of the ROYAL Electric Vacuum Cleaner, which "cleans by air alone."

It does not matter what kind of rugs or draperies you have — the heaviest, thickest nap yields its deeply entrenched dust to the ROYAL'S steady suction.

The ROYAL makes housework easier, makes everything look better and last longer. It will get dust and dirt out of stair carpets, from under radiators, etc. It cleans close to the baseboard; it cleans bare floors.

The Royal will make your summer cleaning problems vanish.

CITY TREASURY HAS $26,637,452

Largest Sum Ever Held in History of Town

Tax and Bond Sale Money Makes Huge Total

Bills Soon to Be Paid Out and Lean Days Come

The cash balance of the city treasury of Los Angeles, as shown by the check made yesterday by City Auditor Myers, amounts to $26,637,452.85, the largest in the city's history. These are the funds from the municipality, the cash balance a great portion of the taxes just collected by the county and turned over to the city. But the lean days come on when it will be time for the City Hall of all goings out and nothing coming in.

The total cash also includes $14,000,000, representing proceeds of the sale of the bonds issued for the purchase of the Los Angeles distributing lines of the Southern California Edison Company, but if this deal, which is pending here, goes through, this money will leave the city's hands when title to the power lines is passed.

If a band of holdup men think in a peaceful time would be had [illegible] they would walk into City Auditor Powell's office and, covering large revolvers, walk away with millions, they are mistaken, for Mr. Powell has most of the cash out working, and many interest on demand loans. The balance obtained from this sale of the power bond money is earning $1000 a day. At any moment, however, the Edison Company is ready to hand over the money, the loans can be called in from the banks in a few hours. The cash balance as shown by City Auditor Myers's count was as follows:

On hand, $13,945,459; deposits in New York, $95,-,622.85; deposits in Los Angeles banks, [illegible]; demands and checks, [illegible]; cash, $7,469,107; petty cash, $6,612.53, and other cash, $100,000.

Out of this money, besides the funds of the power bond sale, is already allocated to pay interest and sinking fund charges on outstanding bonds and for general items of conducting the city government during the next six or eight months until additional tax money arrives. In the meantime the Council's budget committee is making estimates right and left in order to bring the city's expenses during the coming fiscal year within the city's income.

Enthusiasm for Business Sends Youth to Prison

The enthusiasm of Earl L. [illegible] for the business of his employer, a produce merchant, was [illegible] for him, he stated yesterday to Judge Shenk, and in fact was the means of starting him on the way to San Quentin prison. [illegible] was arrested in February, 1921, for stealing two automobiles from different stores. He was granted probation on [illegible] appeared before Judge Shenk for violation of his probation.

The defendant said that he sold automobiles for his employer and, in his enthusiasm, failed to mark the sales down. The court held he had violated his probation terms and sentenced him to from one to five years for automobile burglary.

San Francisco to Leave Soon on Tour East

Announcement was made yesterday by the Lord & Thomas advertising agency that Don Francisco, president of the Pacific Coast Club, will leave, May 16, for an extended trip through the East. He will call upon brokers and retailers in the interests of the California Grocery Exchange, Citrus Associations, Sunkist, Grocers' and California Grocery Association. In New York, it is announced, he will consult advertising experts in regard to the advertising of California products as advertised by Lord & Thomas. On the way back to California he will stop in Milwaukee, it is said, to attend the convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, he being vice-president of the organization.

MAN'S LOVE DREAM RUDELY SHATTERED

[illegible] REPORT RELATED TO JUDGE WIFE WOMAN FREE-DOM FROM MATE

[illegible] Mrs. Nessa L. Callahan, accused of a happy home were dispelled in an unusual manner, it was learned in divorce proceedings before Judge Hahn yesterday. It was said that she and her husband, John Callahan, had bought and were building a home. Callahan took the greatest interest in the building, but like a child with a new plaything, Mr. Callahan became engrossed in the plans. When one night he wanted to stay home and go to Chicago, she objected.

Callahan forced her by threats to sign the papers so that the home could be sold, and to give up the furniture to neighbors and friends. Ten days later an automobile drove up and carted away the furnishings and she herself left. The ten days before all this took place, Mr. Callahan complained further. Even when a revolver was not spared. In the face of a revolver he attempted to force her to relinquish the ring she prized, she said, but the uncle attempted to [illegible] Mr. Callahan mentioned with the revolver. The ring, however, did not go with the others, it was declared.

There was no explanation for the wife testified. "He [illegible] with me." [illegible] 1th lasted from [illegible] to March, 1921. [illegible] granted her a divorce.

"Did You Know there was any way of making Linoleum last a great deal longer?" asked one visitor of another. "That Bullock salesman has just told me there is an art in the laying of Linoleum. He says that when Linoleum is securely cemented to the floor, which prevents it from bulging and cracking, it will last longer. And then he showed me a wax which gives a transparent, wear-resisting surface. He called it Nugio Wax, and advised me to have it put on when my linoleum was laid. TOASTED IN DEATH

Death comes in various forms. A man was using an electric toaster to warm his feet on retiring. His nightshirt caught on fire and he was burned to death. The moral is that people should never eat toast.

THE GREATEST GOOD

Trying to tell what the Salvation Army can do with $1000 is quite a job, but it is an easy bet that the army can do more with its $1000 than the bank can with its million—that is, if you leave it to the Recording Angel.

SOVIET POSTAGE

A letter from Russia arrived the other day bearing postage stamps to the amount of 20,000 rubles. That is the only way the Russians can get their money out of the country. This 20,000 rubles was about the same as our three-cent stamp.

STUDENTS AND LOVE

A professor in an English college has been expelled because he was said to have kissed a girl pupil. The professor appealed from the decision, but the board made the ruling final. It seems that in England the professors must not embrace the female students. They are not permitted to kiss them even in the name of discipline.

WASTED SWEETNESS

Elizabeth Marbury, the New York playwright and also member of the Democratic National Committee, is anxious to debate the prohibition amendment with any person on earth. She prefers Lady Astor, Eva Booth, William Jennings Bryan or Rev. Dr. Stratton, but is not particular whom she confronts. She is ready to take on all comers, but what she hopes to accomplish through her arguments is not made known.

MAY WORK WRONG WAY

Woodrow Wilson is so determined to get the scalp of Senator Jim Reed that he may overreach himself. The Missouri Senator doesn't deserve much consideration, but if his folks get the idea into their heads that he is being persecuted from Washington they will turn out and fight for him like a flock of wild cats. The Senator has not conferred much glory on Missouri through the character of his statesmanship, but Missouri is just careless enough not to give a durn.

THE HIGH PRICE

Over in France Dempsey refused to listen to any pleas that he make any appearance for the benefit of any war hospital fund. He also declined to consider any suggestion of any kind of an exhibition unless it was accompanied by a check for at least $5000. Jack is so sensitive that he would not appear at a bank to cash a check for less than that figure. Jack's short pants have given place to large checks. That is why Jack would not go to France in 1918, when the fighting was cheap.

TAKING THE CHAIR

One of the unique adventurers in crime is the chair burglar of San Francisco. This interesting and resourceful character might make his appearance in his shirt sleeves in the lobby of a big hotel and with a polite explanation that the chair needed repairing dispossess some guest of his seat and calmly walk off with it. He visited churches, clubs, hotels, apartments and private houses and always at an opportune time to get away with his specialty. He is said to have garnered some six hundred chairs before his progress was checked. Besides what he sold or pawned he had a house collection that looked like a throne-room. He never went weary for want of a chair.

SMOKY WONDERS

It appears that a colored messenger in one of the departments at Washington held his place through several administrations because of his ability to blow double smoke rings. He was the only man at the capital who could send aloft the smoky figure eights. It is said that one must have a large and expressive mouth in order to give utterance to the dumb-bell smoke ring. This gifted brunette was one of the wonders of Washington because of his talent and was a departmental fixture until a dentist impaired his efficiency. Now he is not certain that he will ever be able to float the double doughnuts again and he is like to lose his job to a colored boy who can wiggle both ears.

MUZZLING FIDO

Health officials persist in trying to make folks believe that the country is all cluttered up with mad dogs. One might think that rabies was as common as the flu. They persist in demanding that all dogs be muzzled. About the easiest way to make a dog good and mad is to anchor an iron beehive to his brow. It would make even a white man mad to chain a bird cage to his dome. In most cases the dogs reported as being mad are not even peevish. If a dog will eat and drink he hasn't the rabies. It is unpleasant to have a land full of dogs wandering around annoying the citizenry, but it is unnecessary to accuse them of being mad. In most cases they are merely curious. Tax and regulate dogs if you must, but do not new an iron pot to his head in the name of safety. In a kingdom of dogs would they make men and women wear muzzles because they were foolish at times?

VANDERLIP'S CRITICISMS

Frank Vanderlip, American financier and globe-trotter, has been in Genoa during the last five weeks attending the international economic conference; and he has wired to The Times his conviction that the conference is foredoomed to be barren of good results. He says it is destined to failure because the international stars have not been equal to their parts.

He says that the immediate concern of Poincare was to hamstring Germany; that France had the choice of killing the German cow for the beef or leaving her in the industrial pasture and getting the butter. He is of the opinion that France has a much greater need of butter, in the form of reparations, than of beef; but he says that Poincare elected for beef and that, in doing so, he formulated a foreign policy for France that is impossible of attainment.

France, as he sees her, is afraid of Germany; not of the Germany of today, but a recuperated Germany ten or twenty years hence. Germany is now prostrate, and France devoutly hopes that she will never regain her feet. So the French are alarmed when they see Russia, their former ally, helping Germany to arise. France would like to separate them; but does not feel strong enough single-handed to pull them apart.

Belgium apparently is equally fearful of a restored Germany. The Belgians probably figure that she will attack France again and that the new invasion will pass over and devastate the Belgian state. Belgium is the gateway between Germany and France. There can be no security for her while her two neighbors are powerful and enemies.

Mr. Vanderlip says, in effect, that the British policy of compromise will fall and with it the conference, because England sent a boy to do a man's job. "The fundamental reason for the failure of Genoa," he opines, "lies in the moral fiber of the British Premier. He undertook to deal with the situation in a spirit of compromise, where compromise was impossible."

Commenting on the character and intellectual attainments of Lloyd George, he says:

> He is undoubtedly the most brilliant political mind of our age, but an opportunist with a superficial understanding of facts, a feeble grasp on principles. No one sees more clearly the perils of the situation nor the opportunities for political expression, but the moral fiber is lacking.

In the opinion of Mr. Vanderlip, the Lloyd George policy in regard to Russia was fundamentally unsound and could not succeed. Lloyd George sought to effect a rapprochement between the Communist policy of Russia and the policy of Western Europe, which is based on private ownership of property and respect for the rights of the individual; and he says it is self-evident that the two policies cannot work together.

Then Mr. Vanderlip outlines his own policy in regard to Russia. He says:

> Russia should have complete freedom to retain and experiment with her social order; but, so long as it is Communistic, it must be isolated. If Lloyd George, like Lincoln, had seen that Europe cannot be divided into two systems—as America at the time of the Civil War—Genoa would not have convened.

Mr. Vanderlip here expresses an opinion that is in conformity with the policy of our State Department. It is the attitude taken by Secretary Hughes in regard to American participation at Genoa. Between the Communist system and the American system there is no point of contact. America seeks to protect and sustain the rights of individuals, especially when those individuals happen to be American citizens; the Russian government does not. Russia is free to select its own form of government; but if she chooses Communism, which is repugnant to every American institution, she must work out her own salvation.

As to laying the blame for the failure of the Genoa conference, in case it should end in failure, upon the shoulders of Lloyd George, attributing it to his incapacity, Mr. Vanderlip is assuming much that is not generally admitted. Lloyd George went to Genoa in a spirit of compromise. But would any other policy have offered greater opportunities for success? Great Britain is not in position to swing the big stick; for she is no longer the world's banker and no longer mistress of the seas. Threats unsupported by force are futile.

If we accept all of Mr. Vanderlip's conclusions we simply admit that European harmony is, for the present, impossible and conclude that the conference never should have been called. Lloyd George may have himself doubted whether the compromises which he offered would be accepted; but he at least showed a willingness on the part of his government to attempt to bring some kind of order out of the existing confusion. If his proposals are rejected by the soviets he has at least showed his conciliatory spirit in making them. It looks to us as though the responsibility for failure will rest with Russia rather than with Great Britain.

Lloyd George attempted to play the part of pacifier. If he fails he should at least receive credit for his good intentions.

STILL THE BLANKET BONUS

There are indications in Washington that the proponents of blanket bonus legislation are talking the measure to death. It is generally accepted that the bill will never be enacted by the Senate in the form in which it passed the lower house. But no compromise has yet been proposed which is acceptable to those who are conducting the drive for a blanket bonus. If the supporters of the bonus cannot themselves agree, there is but slight prospect for favorable action at the present session.

Some of the methods of the bonus advocates have caused a sharp reaction throughout the country. There has been too much propaganda, too much signing of petitions and not enough sound argument in favor of the bill. In fact, the whole campaign for the bonus has taken a political aspect. In the lower house a number of timid Congressmen were cowed by the threat of political extermination by the American Legion vote. Their support was not sought with arguments, but with threats. This kind of campaign succeeded in the House of Representatives; but it is not the kind that generally wins in the Senate.

Bonus discussion now hinges about the problem of providing a practical method of raising the required revenue. A majority of the Senators have said that they will not vote the additional expenditure until they know where the money is coming from to foot the bill. The Senate is more deliberate in its actions and less swayed by the popular clamor of the moment than the House. One reason for this condition is that, while an entirely new House will be elected this fall, the terms of but one-third of the Senators expire this year. While the House was content to indorse the expenditure and trust to providence to find the revenue, the Senate is not accustomed to legislate in so haphazard a manner.

Bonus advocates are plainly disturbed by the grim attitude of watchful waiting on the part of the President. A year ago he asserted that he would not sign a blanket bonus bill that did not provide some practical means of producing the necessary revenue. He has consistently refused to recede from that position. If the Senate were to pass the bill as it came from the House there is every reason to believe that it would promptly be sent back with a veto message appended. At the present time there are not enough bonus advocates in the Senate to override the veto.

Many suggestions have been made concerning new methods of taxation to meet the bonus legislation. But the ardor of those who would like to vote the bonus to curry favor with the soldier vote cools perceptibly when they are asked to designate the source from which the revenue will be derived. The politicians are balloted about between the rock of Scylla, the taxpayers of their districts, and the cavern of Charybdis, the supposed soldier vote. One is reported to have recently exclaimed in mock dismay:

> "Which way I fly am Hell.
> Myself am Hell."

President Harding's firm attitude awakens alike the respect and dismay of the politicians. He declines to consider the bonus in the light of party expediency. He is the head of an administration pledged to economy and a reduction of the cost of government. Under his directing eye a budget has been prepared which reduces the national expenditure more than $1,000,000,000 annually; and he does not look with favor upon a measure that will consume at least half this amount in a single year. The President is not angling in the troubled political waters for personal popularity. His thoughts are upon the year 1922, not on 1924.

While Congress has done some good things during the last year, it has not, on the whole, come up to the expectation of the American people. It carries too much sail and too little ballast, and becomes at times the sport of conflicting political currents. The people are turning from it to the President for leadership. They would like to pay the soldiers a bonus if the money were available. But they do not want to see Congress or the President coerced by political threats into any scheme of frenzied finance. If the President takes the position that blanket bonus legislation is not wise at this time he is fairly certain to find his stand indorsed by the majority of the people of the country.

As for the Congressmen who permit themselves to be influenced by purely political considerations, who think more of their chances for re-election than of the welfare of the country at large, they are very likely to find during the Congressional recess that they have been weighed by their constituents and found wanting. Popular opinion in the country is for less politics in Washington and for more statesmanship. If they find true statesmanship in the White House they will take care that it is not sacrificed to political vengeance.

WHO'S WHO AT GENOA

BY S. FRED HOGUE

As the Genoa economic conference develops one begins to catch a glimpse of the statesmen and the international groups that are prominent in the affairs of the new Europe. For the Europe of the era before the war, with its ententes and alliances, has passed into history. Ten years ago Germany, Austria and Italy were on one end of the balance of power, with Great Britain, France and Russia on the other. The smaller states were attached to one or the other of these two groups.

Four men were then regarded as all powerful in European affairs, Emperor Nicholas of Russia, Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany, Emperor Franz Josef of Austria and Premier Asquith of Great Britain. All have passed. The Emperors of Russia and Austria are dead and their thrones are demolished. The Kaiser is interned as a fugitive from justice in Holland, and Asquith is a fallen leader, with only a remnant of the once powerful Liberal party still faithful to him in his adversity.

France was at that time governed by a Socialist bloc. Poland, Czecho-Slovakia and Hungary had no separate national existence. Lloyd George was a Labor member of Parliament, and Italy was not regarded as one of the great powers.

At Genoa we have a glimpse of the new alignment and of the actors who have replaced the old troupe. Russia has broken away from the Entente and is making common cause with Germany; and the combination is a formidable one, for the two countries possess more than half the population of Europe.

France and Great Britain seem to be drawing farther apart, while Italy supports first the one and then the other. Japan, although she has no direct interests in Europe, is represented at the conference, the only non-European nation which accepted an invitation to attend. Her part is limited to giving support to her British ally. Great Britain itself is left in a position of semi-isolation.

France has formed a combination with Poland, Belgium and what is left of Austria. All the liens with Russia, her once powerful ally, have been severed. She broke with Great Britain over the question of armaments before the conference. Poincare refused to send a French delegation to attend until it was stated in the agenda that there should be no discussion of a revision of the Treaty of Versailles, of reparations or of limiting her military strength.

The six European nations that took no part in the World War, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Switzerland, Spain and Holland, have formed a neutral bloc. Their representatives held a special conference in Berne before going to Genoa and agreed upon a unified course of action.

From Central Europe comes the "Little Entente." In this group are Poland, Czecho-Slovakia, Jugo-Slavia, Rumania, Serbia and two or three other minor states. Their combined influence has already been making itself felt in the conference.

Hungary is inclined to throw its lot with Russia and Germany. Bulgaria, under its peasant Premier, Stambouliski, would like to play with the late Allies. It has broken definitely away from German influence, but cannot decide whether it wants to support England or France, although its Premier inclines to the latter.

Notwithstanding England's partial isolation, Lloyd George is perhaps the commanding figure of the conference, although it is doubtful whether his prestige has been increased by attending.

Tchitcherin, as the personal representative of Lenin, is a picturesque figure. Although claiming to represent the Russian proletariat, he attends the sessions clad in frock coat and top hat. The dress of the Bolshevik group is said to be more suggestive of aristocracy than that of any other delegation.

Premier Facta of Italy, by reason of his position as chairman of the conference, is a noted figure. His star has risen rapidly in the diplomatic firmament. He is regarded as one of the leading statesmen of Europe and he has maneuvered Italy into a commanding position.

The French delegation is not attracting much attention because Poincare refused to attend in person and sent Vice-Premier Barthou with a very restricted mandate. Barthou is permitted to agree to nothing that has not been first submitted to the French Cabinet.

Chancellor Wirth and Dr. Rathenau are the ranking figures of the German delegation. They have been under suspicion since they negotiated the separate commercial and economic treaty with the Bolsheviki. Their double mission seems to be to form a defensive alliance with Russia and Hungary and to widen the split between England and France.

Dr. Benes of Czecho-Slovakia has achieved prominence as spokesman for the "Little Entente." He is among those present at every important unofficial conference.

Premier Branting of Sweden is the recognized spokesman for the neutral group, although the neutrals have so far played but a minor part in the conference.

Viscount Ishii of Japan is the silent member of the conference. He is accompanied by a staff of experts and interpreters and is an attentive listener. Representatives of some of the smaller states present his presence.

While the conference has been in session nearly a month, nothing has yet developed to indicate that marked progress has been made toward European harmony, stabilization of exchange or a military holiday. In this it is a marked and disappointing contrast to the conference of Washington, where the world was thrilled by the progress made the very first day.

About the Genoa conference there extends an atmosphere of suspicion and distrust. So far it has been a disappointment, and Americans will agree that we are well out of it.

MAKE SELF OVER

By Henry Christeen Warnack

Just taking yourself as you stand and thinking of your life as a work of your own building, you may not like the job. Some of us cannot be blamed if we have not a very high opinion of ourselves as architects. There is, however, one hopeful sign about us all, no matter where we stand, the same being that none of us is completely satisfied.

When a war comes it is not so very difficult to work up a whirlwind of enthusiasm and to loose a national storm of emotion. Neither hatred of the enemy, love of one's country nor consecration to a great cause is responsible for the spreading glow which engulfs a nation in the fusing of its crisis. What actually happens is a transformation of all the people. They are lifted out of themselves and strike a new stride. Forgetting self, their faculties are transfixed. They have been bored to death and now they are suddenly quickened. They have been asleep on themselves, have been in a stupor of routine, have been stifled by the commonplace, have been dulled by monotony, yet the blast of the bugle, the trumpet of war, has awakened them to a new state.

Under such circumstances the people as individuals and as a populace accomplish deeds of valor and of might. Under such aroused conditions they are capable of heroic sacrifice, are imbued with indomitable courage, can align themselves with unconquerable purpose. With the war as a fresh focal point their attention is fixed as by a high aim and all the pent-up floods of their unused capacity surge forward to a rushing outlet that is like the torrent of rivers when they strike a deep descent.

It is this same longing for fresh channels of endeavor, this urge for new fields of action, this restlessness with the old order of themselves, this chained power slumbering within each man and woman, these unsounded forces of depth on depth of vision and of hope which carries the young of every generation from the country to the city and from city to country. This is the urge of the pioneer who must blaze new trails across undeveloped lands to satisfy that longing within himself to escape the limitations with which he has hedged himself and so write his character in letters of tremendous action across the first page of a new land's history.

Why wait for a war, a cataclysm of nature, the call of a new land or any phenomenon or condition outside of yourself to do for you the thing you may easily do, whoever you are and wherever you are, for yourself? With a universe teeming with what Whitman called "knowledge and objects curious," why not select your own enthusiasm of thought and by the mere act of thinking release yourself from all that does not make for that delight which is the song of life?

MARKET STEADY

A Scottish minister had a sermon which he preached on special occasions. It was taken from the text, "Were not two sparrows sold for a farthing?"

John Sobley, who had been a devoted church worker, was leaving the place, so he attended the church the Sunday before his departure and once again heard the familiar sermon and text.

"Were not two sparrows sold for a farthing?"

In the course of time John returned to his native place. He went to the church on Sunday and was not a little surprised to hear the same old text announced. After the service was over the minister beckoned him into the vestry and started talking about the many changes that had occurred during his absence.

"There is one thing that has not changed, I notice!" said John.

"And what is that?" said the minister, expecting to hear some complimentary remark about himself.

"The price of sparrows," was the calm reply.—[Brooklyn Citizen.

Hollywood Garden Court the 27th inst.

Franklin Booth, violinist, played "Wings of Song," Mendelssohn; "Dance of the Dervishes," Auer-Beethoven, and "Valse Bluet," Auer-Drigo. Mr. Booth was accompanied on the piano by Nicholas W. Devereux of the Southern California Music Company.

Precluded by time allowance, Mr. Booth did not play "Lucia di Lammermoor," by Donizetti.

Executing the difficult range of "Dance of the Dervishes," by Auer-Beethoven, in an easy and brilliant style, Mr. Booth impressed his audience effectively. "Dance of the Dervishes," he says, has been played only once previously—by Heifetz.

Addressing the Burbank father and son banquet held under direction of the Y.M.C.A. in the First Presbyterian Church of Burbank, Dr. James A. Francis of the First Baptist Church of Los Angeles broadcast greetings from "microphone to banquet board."

Greetings also were sent to the annual Y.M.C.A. banquet at Y.M.C.A. Auditorium last night.

The message delivered by John S. Daggett, Times radio department manager, follows:

"Hello Los Angeles Y.M.C.A. This is The Times Broadcasting Station. We understand that this is your annual birthday, and we offer you heartiest congratulations, and best wishes for many happy returns of the day. May the coming year give you great opportunities for your work among young men and boys.

"We all know that it is better to keep a boy from falling than to raise him up after he has fallen. Keep up your good work and be assured that your efforts are appreciated.

"Best regards to Mr. Eckhart, your president; the board of directors, Mr. Henderson, your general secretary, and the whole membership."

DEATH PENALTY UPHELD

The State Supreme Court yesterday affirmed the judgment of the Superior court of Ventura county, condemning Alfred Bills, colored, to death for murder of Carlton Stannard, a white man, at Oxnard on March 16, 1921. The fracas that resulted in the shooting of Stannard grew out of a quarrel at a dance.

LESSON 37

By G. C. Farmer

Operation of receiving apparatus is more difficult than would seem at first glance. So much so that it may be incumbent to say a few words on the subject. After watching an expert manipulate the various switches and dials on a receiver it is natural for the novice to say, "Why, what could be easier?" Yet it happens that many are baffled when it comes to an actual operating test.

There are a few good points to remember in tuning. Beginning with the simplest receiver composed of a single inductance; that is, a single coil of wire wound on a cardboard tube with taps taken out at equal intervals, a cat-whisker crystal detector, and ear telephones, there are two movable components, consisting of a switch for changing inductance values, and the detector wire or cat-whisker. Ordinarily, when once set the detector will stay adjusted until a shock or jar disturbs the wire. Nearby signals may also burn the sensitive point on the crystal, thus destroying the rectifying qualities of that particular point on the crystal. Again the wire may be accidentally disarranged. A light steel wire of good springiness about two inches long will make the best contact. The end of the wire, which may be an E-size mandolin string, should rest at a slight angle and very lightly on the galena. With a pencil or the tip of the finger, by lifting the cat-whisker up and down, a sensitive point on the crystal may be found. The loudest signals naturally denote the best adjustment.

Regulation of the inductance switch with detector manipulation will facilitate more immediate signal response.

Operating a loose-coupler or two-circuit receiver is a little more complicated than the single coil type. Finer adjustment can be obtained. There are four movable units, the primary, secondary, coupling, and detector. It is well to bear in mind that the first two named, the primary and secondary, should always be of about equal value. That is, when a small number of turns are used in one, a small number of turns should also be used in the other.

Suppose the detector is known to be in proper adjustment; in order to tune to a desired station, the coupling should be as close as possible or tight. By manipulating the primary and secondary together; that is, varying the two switches from one tap to another with the wire turns they represent, always approximately equal, signals on a desired wave length can be tuned in. When the desired station is picked up then it is time to move the secondary back and forth inside the primary, at the same time trying out various combinations of the primary and secondary switch until resonance is reached, and the loudest signals are obtained. By readjusting the detector again even greater signal intensity may be brought about. Tomorrow a detailed account of how to operate an audion receiver will be given.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS:

R. B., Los Angeles: If the wires of an inverted L antenna are connected at the far end, will signal intensity be increased?

Answer: It will make very little material difference.

L. Z., Upland: An antenna sixty feet above the ground is ideal. You may have your receiving set on the second floor directly under your antenna. The water pipe on the second floor would be suitable for a ground.

ANDY SMITH TO BE FETED

Andy Smith, head football coach of the University of California, will talk to alumni and high coaches of Southern California at a banquet at the Pacific Mutual Building, starting at 6 o'clock tonight. Smith is a member of the rules committee and was present at the annual meeting in the East when the revamping of some of the rules came in for much discussion.

Motion-picture reels of the California - Stanford game and the California-U.S.C. game will be shown, and Smith will point out the high spots in his system of coaching.

Tilden, Johnston, Richards Easily Down Rivals in Coast Tennis Event

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BERKELEY, May 9.—Nationally ranked tennis players had no difficulty in winning their first matches in the preliminary rounds of the Pacific Coast championship tournament here today, William T. Tilden II, world's champion; William M. Johnston, second ranking, and Vincent Richards, third ranking, did not remove their sweaters during the play as their opponents did not cause them to exert themselves.

The feature match was between Ray Casey of San Francisco, and Wallace Bates, national champion of Canada, and a student of the University of California. Bates won by a score of 3-6, 3-6, 6-2, 6-2, 6-3.

Miss Mayme MacDonald of Tucson, Ariz., holder of the Washington State title, and the Inland Empire women's singles title, was playing Miss Winifred Suhr of San Francisco, when rain stopped the match. The score was set-all, five-all.

Summaries of the plays follow:
Vincent Richards defeated John Dodson, 6-2, 6-2.
William M. Johnston defeated W. T. Hartzenbusch, 6-1, 6-3.
William M. Johnston defeated Henry Rendell, 6-3, 6-2.
William T. Tilden II defeated Arndt Gabel, 6-3, 6-2.
J. J. Griffin defeated Howard Stolle, 6-2, 6-3.
Ted Dorman defeated C. R. Witt, 6-2, 6-4.
Irving Weinstein defeated Henry Lowry, 6-2, 6-4.
Mrs. Mayme Wylie Evans defeated Miss Caroline Schwartz, 6-4, 6-3.

PINS FAIL THE NORTHERNERS

Visiting Star Bowlers Slip in Big Five Squad

Globe Ice Cream Team Mark Still Unshattered

Real Clash of Tourney on Tap for Tomorrow

BY ED O'MALLEY

President Irwin of the Pacific Coast Bowling Congress last night awarded the following prizes for team play at the Angelus Alleys: First, Globe Ice Cream Company of Los Angeles, prize $500, with a score of 2865; second, Brunswick Tire Company, Los Angeles, $400, 2808; third, Samson Tire Company, Long Beach, $300, 2798; fourth, Southern Electric Company, San Diego, $200, 2790; fifth, McKenzies, Los Angeles, $100, 2781, and Oyster Loaf of San Jose, $50, 2773.

Excitement ran high at the Angelus Bowling Alleys last night when the north shot its best in the five-team line. At 7 o'clock the following quintets took the field to shy at the Globe Ice Cream mark of 2861: Oyster Loaf, San Jose, Maryland No. 1, California Tigers and Mel Anderson. The alleys had hardly rumbled five minutes when it became patent that the particular squad to watch was the old Oyster Loafs.

They started in like a Man O' War piling up wood to the amount of 924. Mike Firestone almost had a duck fit and Jake Cone went almost meshuga. Then came a slump in the second and Ernie Shay smiled serenely. In the third session, however, the San Jose babies found the alleys again and for a time the roof was almost spouted off the alleys by rooting northerners. For a few frames the entire squad went great guns.

Arnerich was the first to crack, but even at that the visitors kept up a stiff upper lip and had a royal chance up to the eighth frame, when every mother's son of the Oyster Loafs went kerflewy. Dooley split in the ninth—McGraw picked a cherry as did Arnerich, and Forman, who had been swinging a wicked eggplant, rambled into a split.

About 9 o'clock the north shot its trump card, sending some of the best pin pounders in the Far West to the firing line. Among the bunch were the famous Ballards of Oakland, Hood River, Durand and M. L. Kilties.

The real kick and big doings of the present tournament come off tomorrow afternoon, when the South's best three teams clash with the North's best. Local bowling circles are all agog over this mighty battle, which promises to be the fiercest and most exciting ever seen in Los Angeles. Here are the mighty warriors of the South that will swing the old mineralite:

Team No. 1.—Hershey, Sattler, Mitchell, Gregg and Meek. Team No. 2.—Firestone, Hopping, Taylor, Shafter and Khay. Team No. 3.—Werner, Walters, Faulstick, Payne and Blume. The North's knights of the alley are: Team No. 1.—Irwin, Lockart, Benkosky, Ballard and Forman. Team No. 2.—Arnerich, Bennett, Perry, Dooley and Toomey. Team No. 3.—Mayer, De Haven, Henry, Alten and Cruse.

The program for today will be doubles and singles, and a four-squad grand sweepstakes, the first squad bowling at 6 p.m.; second at 8 o'clock; third at 10 o'clock, and fourth at 12 o'clock.

The scores follow:

"Times" Trophy Goes to the U.S.S. Mississippi

Announcement Made of Winner of 1922 Sailing-Race Regatta

STAGE BIG SWIMFEST TONIGHT

Mermaids and Men to Compete in Tank Festival at Mercury Club

The big water carnival in the Los Angeles Athletic Club plunge tonight will bring to a close the most brilliant and successful aquatic season ever held in this section. From a limited few participants with practically no competition, Coach Fred Cady, aided and abetted by genial Les Henry who has been the head of the swimming committee of the club for many years, has, during the past year, built up both the men's and women's teams into the strongest aggregations of water stars in the world today.

Marion Himmelstein

The famous Mercury mermaids and the crack water dogs of the club will be seen in a series of races and stunts that promises great sport.

At the close of the swimming carnival a dance will be held in the gymnasium with music by the famous Mercurian Jazz Orchestra.

BOXING CLUB GIVES SIX BOUTS TONIGHT

The Madison Square Garden Club presents a cracking good card of boxing bouts for tonight's entertainment. The program boasts six events running from featherweights to middleweights. The main event will bring Young Sam Langford and Young Mack together at 125 pounds. In the semi-windup, Sailor Smith takes on Mike Golinda at 140 pounds. The rest of the card is as follows: Johnny Alexander vs. Johnny Bean, 122 pounds; Battling Nelson vs. Charley Monroe, 118 pounds; Kid Manly vs. Slick Johnson, 125 pounds, and Battling Esau vs. Kid Kyer, 150 pounds. The entertainment starts at 8:30 o'clock.

WOMEN SOCCERITES TO TOUR AMERICA

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, May 9.—An English woman's soccer football team will tour this country during June and July, playing the best American men's clubs if the United States Football Association sanctions a proposal of the Newcastle United Ladies' Organization, champions in the woman's division of the game in Great Britain.

DEMPSEY ARRIVES IN DEAR OL' LONDON

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, May 9.—Jack Dempsey arrived here from Paris at 11 o'clock tonight. He was accompanied by Fanny Ward and her husband Manager Kearns, Joe Benjamin, Teddy Hayes and Boy McCormick, met him at Victoria.

The champion says he was delighted with his trip to the continent, and the generous reception given him at Germany, France, and everywhere was fine.

POSTPONE BOUT

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DENVER, May 9.—Failure of Capt. Bob Roger to receive railroad transportation in time to be here in advance of his bout with Fred Fulton, scheduled for next Friday night, has resulted in the postponement of the fight until Tuesday, May, 16, it was announced by the promoters here today.

SPENCER WHIPPED BY KRAMER

Danny Puts It All Over Rival in Main Event at Doyle's Arena

Georgie Spencer was no match for Danny Kramer in the main event at Doyle's Vernon arena last night. The local 122-pounder outguessed and outpointed his rival over every inch of the four-round trail.

Kramer started off with a flurry of lefts and rights to the face and body, and kept Spencer on the defense throughout the milling. Spencer appeared to be leary of the Kramer party, and kept covering up. Early in the third round, Kramer tipped over Spencer, but the latter got up in time to save himself from a kayoe. He managed to stall through the round. The fourth round was all Kramer.

Ol' Chet Neff celebrated his return to the Vernon ring by committing a foul upon Joe Fisher in the first round of the semi-wind-up. Referee George Blake, thereupon, awarded the verdict to Fisher.

Jack Inman tried his best against Sailor Larry, but the tough 144-pounder had such a wide lead at the conclusion of the bout that the decision was easily his.

Young Sumner won a close verdict over Benny Kilroy, another 144-pounder, in a slashing affair. Joe Layman scored a clean knockdown over Joe Madina in the first round of their setto, and for this act earned the decision.

Frankie Murphy and Herb Ryan slugged their way to a draw in what was considered one of the best mills of the evening. Johnny Bryan won hands down over Joe Gomez in the curtain raiser.

HOLOHAN HIGH GUN IN DEL MONTE SHOOT

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DEL MONTE, May 9.—F. J. Holohan of Portland, Or., a visitor from the teepees of the Pacific Indians, was high gun today in the first 100 targets of the trap-shooting tournament of the California Indians, Pow-wow. In a high wind, Holohan broke ninety-eight targets and ended with an unfinished run of fifty-eight. F. M. Newbert of Sacramento, was second in class A, with ninety-three targets.

L. R. Mellus of Los Angeles, high chief of the braves, and Charles W. Berry, Visalia, tied in class B, with ninety-five each. E. N. Nutting of Los Angeles, ninety-four, and Jack Bare of Lodi, and Dr. Merrithew of Martinez, had ninety-three each.

BUILD MORE SEATS

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, May 9.—The fight between Georges Carpentier and Ted (Kid) Lewis, in the Black Friars Road arena next Thursday evening, is exciting such great interest that the managers of the project have been compelled to increase the seating accommodations to a large extent.

DEMPSEY IS OVER-RATED FIGHTER, SAYS CORBETT

Jack Poor Boxer and Does Not Rate Very High as Slugger, Avers Former Ring King

BY JAMES J. CORBETT
(As told to a Times reporter at the Orpheum)

I don't want to be a knocker, but I shall have to say that Jack Dempsey is about the most overrated man who ever held the championship. To see him in the ring and then to realize that he is the heavyweight champion of the world is to stagger anyone who knows anything about boxing.

I could scarcely believe my own eyes when I saw the Frenchman, Georges Carpentier, lead with his right and hit Dempsey on the jaw.

That leading with the right is a technique supposed to be reserved for impromptu fights between irate truck drivers. That any modern boxer should lead with his right is an amazing circumstance—but that a modern boxer should lead with his right and hit the champion of the world on the jaw with said right is a pretty fair indication of modern ring conditions.

Personally I like Dempsey. He's a nice boy. I hope he gets along in the world and makes a billion dollars, but I can't give him any praise as a champion. He can't box; he doesn't know the first thing about boxing—not the first principle of boxing. He does not even rate very high as a slugger. His punch is very much exaggerated.

When you come right down to cases, what has he ever done with this murderous knockout punch we hear so much about?

At Toledo I saw him hammering Jess Willard around like a man beating a carpet.

He would knock him over on one side and straighten him up again with another punch from the other hand. Finally, Jess, in his bewilderment, turned his back to Dempsey and walked away across the ring in a daze. Dempsey followed him, hitting him around the head from behind. He was lifting his blows from the bucket and swinging them like a man shoveling coal. But still he could not knock Willard out.

The fact is, boxing has slipped back just about thirty years. Dempsey is more like John L. Sullivan than he is like any of the modern champions. Viewed in retrospect, we like to think of John L. as a terrible giant about the size of a Post-Jutland battleship, who killed with a glance of his eye and annihilated with a blow. The fact is, Sullivan was about Dempsey's size in the days of his prime.

Boxing seems to go in cycles. In John L.'s time they were all like Jack Dempsey—except I think that Sullivan was a little better boxer and could hit harder.

The golden days of boxing came along with Jeffries, Fitzsimmons and those boys.

I think the two best fighters the ring ever saw were Jeff and Peter Jackson.

Jeffries was at his best at about the time of his second fight with me, or perhaps his second fight with Fitzsimmons. No one man who ever lived could have beaten him then. He was as strong as a bull elephant; had a blow like a steam trip-hammer. Believe me, he was fast, too; terribly fast for such a big man. Best of all, he had that sublime self-confidence which comes from the arrogance of youth.

In those days he could have beaten Jack Dempseys in regiments.

Some of these modern sluggers are fond of talking as though we big fellows were all fancy boxers in those days and that was why Jeffries beat us all. Jeffries was a fine, quick, scientific boxer and we were all sluggers. Don't ever believe that I couldn't punch in those days. I was proud of my punch. I'll tell you the truth: the real reason why I lost the championship to Fitz at Carson City was because, like a darn fool, I tried to stand and outslug him. I could have beaten him if I had stuck to boxing.

Unskillful as he is, Dempsey may hold the championship for a long time. There are no rivals any better than he is.

I would like to have anyone name for me a single boxer in the ring today who can even explain what it means to counter or to feint. It is not only that they don't know how to do it—they actually don't

Schiller Scintillating Star of Southland Trackmen

PRIZE ATHLETES OF 1922 PICKED

Payne is U.S.C. Man's Closest Rival in Quarter

Handley and Sloan Surpass Distance Men

Boyle and Evans Are Premier Field Artists

BY IVAN D. OVANERVE

In picking an All-Southern college track team—always a thankless task—it behooves the picker to protect himself against the pickees and in the case of track athletes it is best to provide oneself with a suitable means of escape, such as a motorcycle.

But before making good our escape let us first of all pause to hurl a large typographical bouquet in the general direction of George Schiller of U.S.C., without any question the prize package of the 1922 track season in California and likewise without any question the best quarter-miler to shake a hoof in these parts this year.

THE BEST PERFORMER

Schiller is about the most satisfactory performer that was seen locally this season. Entered in the 100, 220, 440 or relay or, for that matter, in all of them, Schiller could be counted upon to put up a great race and he went through the season unbeaten in the quarter. He was very fast, in splendid condition, and carried his head with him all the time. Too bad nobody made him run this year.

Frank Payne of Pomona alone had class enough to worry Schiller, but wasn't a sufficiently fast starter to do any good in a field of fast men although when allowed to run his own race he clipped off a lap in 50 1-5s. Powers of Occidental was just beginning to find himself at the end of the year. Spangler of Occidental, the only possibility to give Schiller a race at the beginning of the season, got one difficulty after another, including the mumps and the flu and still was able to run a quarter in better than 51 at the end of the season.

Bob Allen of Redlands and Argue, Buckman and Powers of Occidental had the sprints all their own way although Schiller was fast enough to give any of them a run in the furlong. Allen, Argue and Buckman were all good for a shade under 10 1-5 and Allen, Buckman and Powers stepped the furlong in close to 22s. Buckman was Occidental's best sprinter but pulled a tendon after the Pomona meet and wasn't in shape to run after that.

Stroud of Pomona had things all his own way in the 880 except for his beating at the hands of Hilsworth of Occidental in their dual meet. Stroud consistently ran a half in 1min. and could shade it whenever necessary.

THEY'RE TOO GOOD

In the distance races Handley of Pomona in the mile and Sloan of Occidental in the two-mile were far too good for all local competition. Knight of Redlands and King of Whittier were second best, respectively. In the four-man one-mile relay Occidental was yards better than any other team in the South and was never really pressed by a team of eligibles.

In the field events Boyle and Evans of U.S.C. stand out head and shoulders ahead of all discus throwers with marks of close to 140ft. Evans likewise shone as a shot putter with better than 42ft. and Enns of Southern Branch was consistently good at close to 40ft. Haralson of Southern Branch was the champion rah-rah javelin heaver of the year with a mark of 165ft. Gram of Redlands was pretty good in this event.

The jumps were a funny proposition. While Cliff Argue of Occidental lowly jumped 12ft. once in competition he always jumped far enough to nose out the opposition. Cap Rogers and Jimines of U. S. C. and Miller of S.B.U.C. all jumped better than 22ft at times. The high jump was another peculiar event in which there were many in-and-outers. The best jump of the year was made by Davis of U.S.C. who did 6ft. 1 3-4in. against California and never came anywhere near it again. Miller of S.B.U.C. was in the neighborhood of 6 feet consistently and Argue of Oxy cleared 6ft. 1in. on one occasion. Dick Emmons of U.S.C. never got higher than 5ft. 10in. but he did that every time.

The pole vault was the worst crammed up event of all. Good-enough of Occidental did 12ft. 6in., Emmons of U.S.C. did 12ft. 4in. and Hyde of Redlands did 12ft. 3in. but any of them were liable to go out at 11 feet on some other day. Emmons was probably the most consistent of the lot.

With a herd of demon freshmen coming up at all the institutions next year there ought to be a lot of red hot competition that will make the past season look sick.

ALL-SOUTHERN COLLEGIATE TRACK TEAM

Following are The Times' selections for the All-Southern California college track team:

100 yards—Argue (Occidental.) Buckman (Occidental.)

220 yards—Allen (Occidental.) Payne (Occidental.)

High jump—Miller (S.B.U.C.) Davis (U.S.C.)

Broad jump—Argue (Occidental.) Rogers (U.S.C.)

Pole vault—Hilsworth (Occidental.) Emmons (U.S.C.)

Shot put—Evans (U.S.C.) Enns (S.B.U.C.)

Discus throw—Boyle (U.S.C.) Evans (U.S.C.)

Javelin throw—Haralson (S.B.U.C.) Gram (Redlands.)

Relay—Occidental.

Does the baseball athlete develop more rapidly in the northern and central sections of the State than in our own balmy clime, or is it merely an accident that Sacramento and San Francisco have picked a number of stars from the sandlots in the past couple of years?

The south has contributed its quota of good young players some seasons since, but recently none seems to have been able to step directly from the semipro ranks into a regular Class AA berth. One of the latest examples is Vern Blenkiron, whom Vernon endeavored to turn over to an obscure club in the Central League. Blenkiron had exceptional speed and gave great promise. Then Los Angeles bought Ken Douglas a railroad ticket and Ken again packed up his valise for a trip somewhere into Canada. Like Blenkiron, he was good, but hardly ready.

Contrary to this, we find San Francisco picking up Jimmy O'Connell and selling him for a price reputed to be $75,000. Also, there is Willie Kamm, regarded by some as a better ball player than O'Connell. And now they are bringing on Gene Valla, who is said to have chased Maury Schick off the job.

Sacramento has been almost as lucky. Specs Shea was spotted in the bushes and became a regular as soon as inserted into a Sacramento uniform. This season the Solons seem to have picked up even a better young pitcher in Henry Hampton. The only youthful heavers ever duplicating the achievements of those two in these parts in comparative recent years were Kid Ehmke and Bill Pertica, as far as we now recall, and that seems a long time ago. There would seem to be enough amateur and semipro ball played around here to keep up the production. Possibly there are fatter years ahead for our rookies.

Boyd Comstock! Name sounds familiar, doesn't it? Unless we are mistaken, Boyd formerly did the hurdles and was otherwise active in athletics here. This will interest his many friends here, as well as the fight fans. Writing from New York, he adds his testimony to the Wolgast-Rivers fracas as follows:

"Dear Harry: Here comes a constant reader—

"In re—

"Controversy between several eminent authorities concerning the Wolgast-Rivers dispute. Facts supplied by your eminently interesting article in a recent issue of The Times.

"While I was with the War Department Commission on Training Camp Activities (you say it without expelling the breath) I had occasion to make a fight film out of some eight or so fillums of famous fights, which had been donated to the commission by divers managers and promoters. The purpose being to instruct the soldiers in our methods of training.

"One of them showed the fight between Wolgast and Rivers and I was particularly interested in this one because of the finish. I had the operator slow up the picture and stop it at various interesting points because I couldn't understand the final sequence. In all I suppose I had him run over the last round a dozen times. The following day I called in Jerome Beatty of the Famous Players (formerly editor of the Express-Tribune sport sheet) and we went over it again several times. His opinion seemed to coincide with mine.

"As I remember it, there seemed to be no choice between either of the two men when they came up for the fatal frame. After considerable action both of them came together with a crash, after which both of them fell apart—rather than upon each other. I should say that a distance of six feet, approximately, separated them when both of them hit the floor simultaneously.

"The referee immediately rushed over to Wolgast and, without any assistance on the part of the said Wolgast, lifted him to his feet and raised his arm skyward without a glance at Rivers. As he did this, Rivers got to his feet unassisted and, although he appeared to be somewhat groggy, he gave every evidence of his willingness to continue the fracas. Then the operator forgot to turn his crank and the picture was concluded.

"After making due allowances for the usual mistakes the eye will make under the best of conditions, I should say that there might be something to the foregoing testimony. Cordially, know what these two fundamental terms mean. Dempsey is about as good as the rest of them.

"BOYD COMSTOCK."

DEMPSEY IS OVER-RATED

Willard, of course, doesn't stand a chance with him now. In his prime, Dempsey wouldn't have stood a chance with Willard. I'll tell you the truth: Jess Willard was good. He was the most underrated champion we ever had. No one ever gave him credit. He was very strong and was a good boxer. Losing to Dempsey at Toledo didn't mean anything. Jess looked a fat old lady in the ring. His condition was a joke. He wasn't in shape to run for a street car, let alone fight to defend a championship. But, of course, he can't come back now.

Carpentier probably will fight Dempsey again. It's a good idea. The boys will have an entertaining afternoon. They will make a lot of money and there is no chance for anybody to get hurt. Carpentier, of course, would be beaten again. Dempsey is too strong.

Carpentier is shrewd and clever and he's a good showman; but there's no championship stuff in him. He really knows very little about boxing. At that, he came near being champion of the world. Don't let anybody tell you that he didn't hurt Dempsey in that second round. He had him dazed and groggy and on the way out. He lacked the physical strength to finish him.

I don't know about this negro Willis. They tell me that he showed the white feather in that fight with Sam Langford at Vernon some years ago. If so, he has no chance with Dempsey. I'll say that for him: I think the champion is game and, furthermore, I think he could stand hard punishment and a lot of it.

Some day a boy with cool nerves and a knowledge of boxing will come along and give him a quick finish. One of Dempsey's weak points is nerves. He is intensely nervous—all strung up.

Take it from me, when the new contender comes he will not come alone. They always come in bunches. The whole fighting company will go down like a row of bricks. I don't see any really good men in any division. Benny Leonard is the best of the bunch, but any of the great lightweights of the past, like Gans, could have beaten him.

BAD FOR QUAIL, GOOD FOR FISH

Late Rain and Heavy Snowfall Will Spare Plantings

"Fingerlings" Sadly Raided Up Coast by Salmon-Egg

Those Who Catch Baby Fish Must Keep 'Em in Limit

While regret is the rule among licensed Nimrods over the heavy and unseasonable rains that ushered in the second week of "trout-season" because of the bad effect upon firstbrood quail, truly sportsmanlike anglers, with future fishing in mind, are not adorning the "Mourners' Bench."

Rather, the most experienced rodsters are rejoicing loudly over this temporary set-back. Their alarm is aroused by the effectiveness of opening-season raids by the "salmon-eggers," which novitiate class the first week took an awful toll from last year's plentiful stream plantings of baby trout-fry in up-Coast streams.

Although the Fish and Game Commission stocked the San Bernardino watershed to capacity under last year's reduced water conditions, and gave all the Southern California "River" systems a splendid allotment, streams rising in the higher, snow-fed watersheds were "rolled" and too big for material depletion even before the last storm. Up the Ventura and Santa Ynez, and particularly along their tributaries, the "slaughter of the innocents" on "Opening Day," despite its being a Monday and first of the month to boot, was something to set any observant angler thinking.

Now, with more water added to already too much in most watersheds, a larger proportion of the present "fingerlings" will surely be spared at least a little longer. As they will grow an inch a month under such abundance of insects and worms as the swollen streams are washing virtually into their expectant mouths, the storm means more fish of larger size left to assure better sport later.

This will be good news to those who saw the expected excellent fly-fishing of the coming summer being slaughtered in its infancy. Even before the recent rain, the little fellows from last year's plantings were so "fed-up" that it took something abnormal or unnatural to pry them off the bottom where they belong until decently grown.

BUMPER TALKS

She Was Sorry, Too.

Just the other day, as I was riding out Seventh St., I was startled out of my reveries by hearing a terrific crash, the sound of falling glass, and the whir of a spinning motor, and looked around just in time to see the remains of a spanking new car that, out of control, had collided head-on with one of the massive ornamental lamp posts that line our streets. It wasn't my car, yet I couldn't help but feel sorry for the lady driving. New radiators cost money, and from the sound of impact, I'll wager that the motor was jammed back at least six inches out of line. The garage men like to get a new ones for old ones as well.

Daley dumped another and was out, Mollwitz to Pick, on a sacrifice. Hampton walked Griggs purposely, filling the bags. John L. Sullivan then poled a swinging bunt which Hampton fielded prettily, leaping into the air to glom the ball. He tossed to Cook, forcing Carroll. Cook relayed to Mollwitz, flagging Sullivan for a double play, easily by a half stride. Strabishmus physical, moral or mental took a hold upon Finney and he called John L. safe.

Came Lindimore to bat. About the time Hampton got a "one and one" count on the batter Cook shot one down to first and trapped Sullivan off the bag.

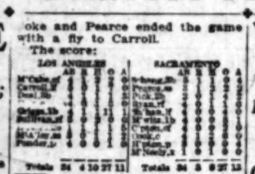
Mollwitz got the ball and shoved it right down where John L. had to slide into it. Clearly he was out by at least two feet, but the fans decided that Finney was not to be blamed if his poor old eyes failed to function. Therefore, when Ed called Sullivan safe, the fans instead of invoking the aid of the "49'er" whiskereno vigilantes for a necktie party, magnanimously called a "caucus."

FORCES IN NEEDED RUN

Eventually Lindimore walked forcing in what proved to be the winning run. McCauley thereafter popped out to Cook.

In the home half of the ninth, after Peter Compton had poled an out to Carroll, Lester Cook doubled to the boards in left center. Earl McNeely was then sent in to bat for Hampton. Earl responded by dropping one just over the heads of Lindimore and Art Griggs, upon which Hoke Cook scored from second. Which was also voted a wonderful feat, for Lester has never been known to crowd Charley Paddock for sprint honors. And here the rally fizzled into a dud. For McNeeley was forced at second on Schang's ...oke and Pearce ended the game with a fly to Carroll.

The score:



Batted for Hampton in ninth.

GOBS TO BE SEEN IN BOUTS

Swell Card of Boxing is Scheduled at Point Firmin Tomorrow Night

Pacific Fleet fight fans and civilians of the harbor district are all agog over the Navy fight card that is slated by the Chief Petty Officers' Club at Point Firmin, San Pedro, tomorrow night. The main event will find Bill Williams, the Mississippi's punishment demon, in a return watch with Harry Smith of the California. They will fight at catchweights.

Another bout classed by Promoter "Chink" Du Brell as a main go in tomorrow night's entertainment is that between Frank Victola, another Mississippi glove pusher of more than local fame, and Kid Mendiez of Los Angeles. The pair will fight at 116 pounds.

For the semifinal Sailor Lovell of the California is scheduled for four rounds of glove pushing with Johnny Huff of the New York, a newcomer in local fight circles. The pair will meet at 135 pounds.

Preliminary bouts will see in action such popular Navy and civilian fighters as Billy Aspe of San Pedro, with Jack Sckerold, 158 pounds; Young Monterero of the Pennsylvania, against Joe Yorbray of the Oklahoma, 133 pounds; Jack Silver of the California vs. Bob Bateman of the New Mexico, 128 pounds, and Battling Warman of the California, against Cohen Murphy of the Tennessee, 128 pounds.

MORVICH HAS 'EM GUESSING

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LOUISVILLE (Ky.) May 9.—The renewal of the Kentucky Derby will attract a record-breaking crowd Saturday. Public interest has been stimulated by the possibility that an animal to topple the wonder horse of the century, Man-o'-War, from his pedestal, has been uncovered in Morvich, the marvelous 2-year-old son of Runnymede and Hymir.

So much has been written about Morvich that he is the strongest favorite for the Kentucky classic, and probably will attain the eminence which has come to few of being an odds-on favorite in a big classy derby-starting field. Of course, there are wise men of the turf who doubt Morvich, but Morvich has yet to see a worse horse in front of him at the finish.

MAKE IT TWO IN ROW

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

Parkinson's Home Run Brings Victory to Phils

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ST. LOUIS, May 9.—Bill Ryan turned back the Cardinals today, winning, 6 to 0, due to the slugging of his mates and his masterful pitching, thereby blighting the hopes of Rickey's Red Birds for first place, even though the Cubs managed to lose. Ryan was success against other National League clubs has only been fair, has more than once proved a stumbling block for the Cardinals. Bill Pertica was wild and Sherdel was sent into the fray after the game was apparently lost. More than 10,000 fans witnessed today's game. POSTPONE CELEBRATION

Because of the enlarged plans for the celebration, announcement was made yesterday by the Antelope Valley, Kern and Inyo Counties Good Roads Association that the barbecue announced for Sunday, May 21, at Mojave, to mark the opening of the Lancaster-Mojave portion of the Lincoln Highway, has been postponed to Tuesday, May 23.

MORE WORKERS SOUGHT

An appeal for more volunteer workers to assist in carrying over the top the 1923 campaign for funds for the Salvation Army in Los Angeles was made last night by Brig. G. R. Boyd, who emphasized his plea with the statement that $90,000 will be required for the maintenance of the various departments directing the welfare work of his organization for the next twelve-months period.

Many women have already volunteered to canvass the business and residential districts, according to Brig. Boyd, but he added that many more workers should be enrolled to complete the campaign before next Saturday night, when the drive will close. The request included that all women desiring to assist the Salvation Army campaign should report to Mrs. E. B. Jones at the Angelus Hotel.

NEW RULING OPENS LINE TO CHINESE

Any Mexican Border Port Now Open to Two Classes of Orientals

Deserted will be the fan-tan joints along Marchessault and Alley streets and other thoroughfares and by-ways in the local Chinatown.

The yellow man is to be afforded a quicker way to get rid of his laundry money. "Hi lo, me catch 'em! You no savvey me? Gimme dolla checkie!"

An order received yesterday by the local immigration authorities opens any port along the Mexican border to two classes of Chinese, those who are born of natives, or are native born.

Heretofore the only port of entry was Calexico, but these two classes may cross the line anywhere along the border.

This means that the races at Tijuana will be largely patronized at the next meeting of the "flyers" for the Chinese are incorrigible gamblers, and will tackle any man's game once. The order is the signal for the bookies at Tijuana to cut their odds, and make room for the yellow men with their bundle of "kale."

During the race meets a few Chinese trickled through from Calexico, but with the bars down there will be a grand rush for the bookies, and the number of orientals posing either as sons of natives or native sons, will be a larger army than the bootleggers who drift into the local Federal courts, plead guilty and then claim they were "gassed on the western front."

RADIO SHOW, CONVENTION DATES SET

Great Display Planned by Los Angeles Association and Dealers

Plans for the first comprehensive radio show in Los Angeles, which may include a special radio demonstration train from New York and a preliminary outline of activities for the Pacific Coast Radio Convention were last night given the attention of the Southern California Radio Association.

The radio show, including booth display of apparatus, by local dealers, will be held the week, beginning June 19; the annual convention of the fifth and Seventh radio districts was set for the first week of next December.

The radio show place of exhibition is yet to be announced. When Los Angeles dealers place their apparatus on display the public will be afforded the opportunity of surveying radio telephony in all its practical and scientific branches. The "a. b. c." of the science and the great advancements of the transition period will be indicated by lecturers who have made radio their study topic for years.

Anticipating the enactment into law of pending radio measures, the radio association is laying plans to broaden the enforcement of government regulation of the air. The convention in December will delve this subject of great import.

The next association meeting is scheduled to be held in Hamburger's radio auditorium, now nearing completion.

All these troubles have been constantly increasing, because the tooth brush did not end the film.

How to fight film

Dental science has for years sought ways to fight that film. Two effective methods have been found. Able authorities have amply proved them. Leading dentists the world over are urging their adoption.

A new-day tooth paste has been created, called Pepsodent. It complies with modern requirements. These two film combatants are embodied in it, for daily application. Careful people of some forty races are now using this new method.

Mistakes corrected

Pepsodent also corrects some great mistakes made in old-time tooth pastes. It omits all soap, all chalk. Science has proved that soap and chalk defeat proper tooth protection.

Soap reduces the starch digestant in the saliva. Pepsodent multiplies it. That is there to digest starch deposits on teeth, before they ferment and form acids.

Soap reduces the alkalinity of the saliva. Pepsodent multiplies that alkalinity. That aids in neutralizing mouth acids—the cause of tooth decay.

So delightful is the musical quality—the tone—of the Apartment Grand that it is known throughout the musical world as the piano that "sings beneath the fingers."

The COMPLETE Piano

The Lyon & Healy is the only piano complete for every member of the family—the only piano a child can play properly! For it alone has pedals a child can reach. And the pedals control expression!

The Junior Unfolding Two-Level Pedal—the greatest piano improvement in fifty years—is an exclusive advantage of the Lyon & Healy Piano. Among others are the Candelectra, dainty twin electric candles, and the Silento, a unique practice clavier.

All that one could wish in clear, sweet, singing tone, in beauty of design and finish, the Apartment Grand gives you—in compact size—at moderate cost! Come in to see this exquisite instrument tomorrow. Or, better, let us place one in your home for your wife's approval. Her delight will make you glow with satisfaction.

GIRLS' CLUB TO HOLD FESTIVAL

Annual Spring Event Scheduled for Coming Saturday

Seek Fund to Provide Camp for Business Women

Ebell Club of Long Beach to Break Ground Soon

BY MYRA NYE

The event of the year for the Girl's Corner Club will be the annual spring festival which will be given Saturday in the First Baptist Church, at 8 p.m.

A program which is sure to delight the girls who attend the club regularly has been arranged by Mrs. Frances L. Neth, director of the club, who invited nine young girls of the city who desire a clean, delightful evening of entertainment to come to this gathering.

Gov. Stephens will bring greetings to the club and Gene Stratton-Porter also will speak. Estelle Heartt Dreyfus will sing "The Salutation to the Dawn" and Mrs. Neth will tell the story of the club as it operates here for friendless girls as similar clubs operate under her direction in many cities of the United States and Canada.

There will be no charge at the door, but a collection will be taken for the benefit of the building fund which is to provide, during the summer, a cabin home up in the Arroyo Seco for those business girls who cannot afford an expensive vacation. It is planned to entertain many such "paying guests" who will pay the very minimum.

Saturday evening Dr. James A. Francis will address the girls of the Corner Club at the same time that he is giving a radio message to hundreds of people throughout Southern California. A receiving set will be installed in the church for this purpose for the first time, at the spring festival.

Parent-Teacher Association

At the annual convention of the Los Angeles Federation, Tenth District, California Congress of Mothers' and Parent-Teacher Association, held last Friday, a large amount of work was reported accomplished in the interests of the children in the public schools. The membership is now over 24,000 and $12,000 has been spent in welfare work during the school year. The running expenses of the federation have been only $320 with no salaries paid and virtually no overhead expenses.

Officers to serve for the first division were elected as follows: President, Mrs. C. M. McRoberts; second vice-president, Mrs. M. E. Matters; fourth vice-president, Mrs. F. W. Fox; treasurer, Mrs. A. L. Colby; historian, Mrs. Nelle Scott Lucas.

Junior Auxiliary of The Ebell Club

Today the Junior Auxiliary of the Ebell Club holds its final meeting of the year when the annual election of officers will take place.

Mrs. Ralph Heard will give her annual report of activities as president and other officers and committee heads will report.

The program will consist of a reading by Ethel Morris, a group of songs by Norma Wuesthoss and Mrs. Charles McKelvey will lead in a brief parliamentary drill.

Two events are scheduled for June: a card party June 9 for the benefit of the Ebell building fund; the 14th inst. the annual luncheon will be given.

Indian Exhibit

Jean Stratton Porter will read an original poem of Indian life at the exhibit being held at the Southwest Museum this afternoon. Mrs. Porter who has written so many novels widely read in many circles of the United States is taking an active interest in the Indian Welfare League of which she is a member serving on the executive board.

Auxiliary of the Catholic Woman's Club

A dancing party is being planned by the Auxiliary of the Catholic Woman's Club for Friday evening of this week at the Zinnia Grill Ambassador Hotel. Officers of the club who will receive include: Miss Louise Costillo, Miss Bernice Gilligan, Miss Dorothy Crawley, Miss Anne Laurendeau, Miss Bessie Thompson, Miss Ora May Hogan, Miss Kathleen Cunningham and Miss Mary Burke.

Among the patronesses of this young people's affair are: Mrs. M. J. McGarry, president of the club; Mrs. Thomas Scott, Mrs. Albert Muck, Mrs. Hugh Boyle, Mrs. Joseph P. Devin, Mrs. John P. Hiskey, Mrs. M. P. Summers, Miss Regina Martz, Mrs. William J. Green, Mrs. B. Thompson, Mrs. D. J. Keraney, Mrs. Edward J. Roderan, Miss Nell C. Reardon, Mrs. Henry M. Cayutte, Mrs. James G. Donovan, Mrs. Richard C. Troeger, Miss Eloise K. Forman, Miss Susanne Lynch and Mrs. M. Crowley.

FURNITURE EXHIBIT RECALLS OLD TIMES

WALLACE NUTTING, NOTED ARTIST, HAS FINE DISPLAY AT THE ALEXANDRIA

By Olive Gray

Fraught with the romantic charm of historic accuracy, the Wallace Nutting exhibit of Windsor furniture at the Alexandria brings before the cultured intellect those scenes of the Pilgrim century, upon which were founded the American ideal of the home.

The Windsor period, representative of that colonial era, lying at the foundation of all that is best in our nation, has been least correctly presented of any, and yet it is most worthy.

Wallace Nutting, the artist, became interested in the restoration of old colonial homes throughout the East, as he came into possession of such habitations and sought to re-establish the atmosphere, which had been theirs originally. His studious mind penetrated the disguises and subterfuge too often found in connection with period reproduction, and in his restorations the varying woods, hand-tool marks, and, in fact, the verisimilitude of the furniture of our forefathers, are made to live again. The work of broadcasting this knowledge and placing within the hands of those who wish actually representative colonial homes has been a labor of love with Mr. Nutting.

The exhibit taking place this week in suite 327, the Alexandria, under direction of Miss Tweed, presents, also, a collection of the Wallace Nutting platinum water colors. The privilege of inspecting this exhibit will be grasped by several of the women's clubs of the city, which have arranged for visits from time to time.

The exhibition will continue from today to Sunday, inclusive.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

Author of "Diet and Health, with Key to the Calories"

CALORIES NEEDED PER DAY

You know now what calories are, and you know how many there are in the different foods.

Have you memorized the table I gave you? Do that. Also the definition. Now you must know how many C a day are necessary for the normal individual. Of course, I have you at present on a reducing number, but when you are down to normal you won't have to be so strenuous.

But! You are never going to be able to eat more than you need without storing it away as fat, or disease, or both.

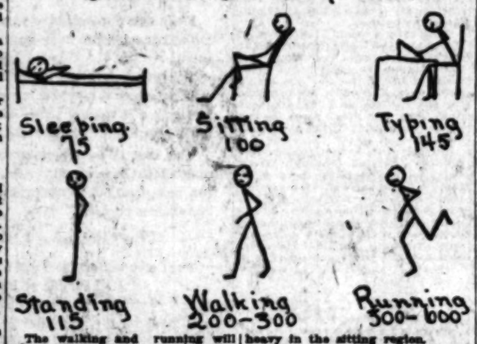
Rule to determine the number of C needed:

An adult needs from 15 to 20 C a day per pound of normal weight, depending upon age and activity.

For instance, say you weigh 200 or 100, but your normal weight should be 125. Then 125 is the figure you would take.

If you have some physical work and exercise, then say you need 18 C per pound—125x18 C would make 2250 C per day your needs for your maintenance diet, one that maintains your weight so you do not gain or lose.

The following illustrations show you how they are used in an individual of 150 pounds weight:



The walking and running will illustrate moderate and heavy exercise. You can see from these that if you want to reduce, you had better shove.

You can also see that there is some sense in the fad of standing an hour after eating to reduce. Not much, but a little. However, it would be more comfortable to leave off 1-4 part of your butter perhaps.

The reason I put you on 1200 C was because that is probably 1000 C less than the average person needs, especially one of sedentary occupation, and most over-weight individuals are in sed class.

1000 C supplied from your anatomical larder means that 1000 C of fat, or 1-4 pound (one pound fat is approximately 4000 C.) a day, goes into useful work instead of lumbering up your interior and exterior decorations, and you are that much lighter.

One-quarter pound a day means approximately eight pounds a month. That is enough to lose for steady work. If you reduce too rapidly, your heart, kidneys, and nervous system are liable to suffer, for you are supplying too much infernal fat for your fuel, and you will not be eating enough to supply the essential elements needed by the system.

Are you exercising? You should be. Add a good kicking exercise. With one hand on something to support yourself, kick as high as you can, north, south, east and west. Begin with ten and work up to 100 a day, especially if you are heavy in the sitting region.

I know a woman who kicked off four inches in four months. Some kick!

THE LAST WORD.

BY ALMA WHITAKER

Two recent penances exacted by the courts are positively Solomonical.

In Illinois a man who was a persistent notable absentee from his own fireside was ordered to:

Take care of the children for one hour each day.

Help his wife prepare the breakfast and get the children off to school.

Stay at home at least five nights a week.

Take the family out in the evening and on Sunday.

Repeat his marriage vows to his wife at least once a week.

Allow his wife to handle the finances of the family.

Go to church every Sunday.

Stop drinking.

Failing this, the gentleman was given the option of washing dishes, making beds, sweeping floors and cleaning windows in jail.

And it is notable that the judge considers this edict will promote "domestic felicity." And this sweet domestic duty for the gander becomes court penance for the goose!

In the other case, a gentleman who had remarried too soon after obtaining a divorce was required to devote a year to the study of marriage and divorce laws and pass an examination thereon at the end of that time.

"Our object all sublime, we shall achieve in time,

"To make the punishment fit the crime, the punishment fit the crime."

Arnold Bennett says he will undertake to make a better cup of tea than any nineteen housewives out of twenty. In fact, he is of opinion that most men could keep house better than women.

In that case, what are we doing struggling along in our inefficiency, in a world full of competent male housekeepers? Go to it, messieurs, go to it, and we will bear you no ill will.

A Parsee lady friend of mine in Poona, India, writes me that "Indian women are stepping out of purdah and infusing a new spirit in national life."

Purdah, I believe, means seclusion.

She says that, as a consequence, child marriages are becoming rare, and the impulse toward a renaissance of culture, and the protection of home industries, comes in no small measure from the women.

"My own efforts in this connection received renewed inspiration from my visits to your Friday Morning and Ebell Clubs" she adds and she tells me she has introduced many of our interests amongst women over there.

"Our women, like yours, must become the custodians of culture" writes this little Parsee lady.

By which we may surmise that Indian and American men are much the same under the skin.

A New Jersey doctor announces that the modern woman is a healthier, happier person than the Venus de Milo. He is convinced that Venus was a neurasthenic as her stomach is not in a normal position.

He doesn't even say a word about her heart being in the right place.

But it is just as well for us to remember, sisters, that the neurasthenic Madame de Mile has retained her place in the worship of men very successfully.

Peggy Hopkins Joyce is said to be a neurasthenic, too.

Neurasthenia now and then is very popular with men.

An unmarried woman writes me that she considers every woman should have the right to at least one husband. She provides me with about eight pages of logical historical evidence supporting her claim.

I cannot do much about it at the moment but I can assure her that conditions are tending satisfactorily that way. When we abolish war so that there will be plenty of men to go round, and women become economically independent enough to support a husband, two of the basic obstacles will have been removed. We may even have to adopt polyandry in time, to take care of the "superfluous men."

SOCIETY

BY VIRGINIA WOODS

Mr. and Mrs. William May Garland are to leave Sunday for New York, and on Wednesday the 24th inst. will sail on the steamer Paris for France, where Mr. Garland goes to attend the Olympic games committee meeting, which is to be held the first ten days in June. The Olympic games are to be held in 1924, and this committee is to decide the place and all the plans. Mr. and Mrs. Garland will spend several days in New York with their sons, Jack and Marshall Garland, who are attending Yale and Harvard universities, respectively.

This afternoon Mrs. Henry Stewart McKee of 23 St. James Park is entertaining at a tea in honor of Mrs. Garland, and has asked an intimate coterie of friends to assist at the tea and coffee urns and elsewhere. Mr. and Mrs. Garland will be abroad about a month and will spend a good deal of their time motoring through France. They will probably visit England, also.

At Dinner Before Horse Show

Dr. and Mrs. Ernest A. Bryant and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Jewett Schweppe are entertaining at dinner this evening at the home of the former for Mr. and Mrs. John J. Mitchell of Chicago, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Robinson of Pasadena. The group will later occupy a box at the Horse Show at the Ambassador, which is being held under the auspices of the Amistance League.

Returning from Pebble Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. William S. Hook, Jr., are returning from Pebble Beach this week end.

Centered Around the Horse Show

Mr. and Mrs. William Gibbs McAdoo are to be honor guests at Mr. and Mrs. Hancock Banning's dinner and box party at the Horse Show tonight. Others who are entertaining with dinners and box parties include Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Connell, Mr. and Mrs. Charles JeSTrus, Mr. and Mrs. E. Avery McCarthy, Dr. and Mrs. Guy Cochran, Mr. and Mrs. Allan C. Balch, Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Bixby, and their daughters Misses Elizabeth and Deborah Bixby, Dr. and Mrs. J. J. A. Van Kaathoven, Mrs. Daisy Canfield Danziger, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene O. McLaughlin, Mr. and Mrs. William May Garland, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Gustavus Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Francis Sartori and numerous others. Mrs. Turner Elmer Weatherholt, who is to enter her black beauty, King Midas, with Mr. Weatherholt will have in their box Mrs. James Monroe Tucker and her daughter, Mrs. Betty Kelly of Denver and Mr. and Mrs. O. Jessurum, Miss Estelle Jessurum and Dr. James Halleran.

The Horse Sow promises to be brilliant and different from the general run of things socially, and those attending will go in evening clothes, as they do in Europe when attending the Horse Show. Tomorrow evening the Horse Show ball is to be held and of course will be the most important event in connection with the show. On Saturday Mrs. Thompson Buchanan will give a luncheon for her little daughter, Babsie Buchanan, entertaining her little company at a box party at the Horse Show matinee.

Mrs. Kennedy to Entertain

Mrs. William H. Kennedy is to entertain with one of a series of luncheon at her home tomorrow, when she will have a company of sixteen. On next Wednesday she will have another of these affairs, and will also have sixteen guests.

In Coronado

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Dulin and daughter, Miss Marjorie Dulin, are in Coronado. Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Robinson and their son and daughter are also there.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart's Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Stewart were hosts at a smart dinner party on Saturday evening.

Mrs. Bonaparte Leaving

Mrs. Charles Joseph Bonaparte, one of the season's most interesting visitors at the Hotel Maryland, Pasadena, is now en route to her home in Washington, D. C., after spending the winter in Southern California.

Mrs. Bonaparte is the widow of Charles Joseph Bonaparte, who was at one time Attorney-General of the United States and also a member of President Roosevelt's Cabinet.

Mrs. Bonaparte's visit to Pasadena brings back to memory a romance of early days when Jerome Bonaparte, brother of the great Napoleon came on a mission to this country and fell in love with and married a beautiful American girl, Elizabeth Patterson of Baltimore. Jerome Bonaparte was the grandfather of Charles Joseph Bonaparte, at whose home Mme. Bonaparte (Elizabeth Patterson) was an honored guest.

Nearly all of the treasures left by Mme. Bonaparte fell to Charles Bonaparte, and just before coming to California Mrs. Bonaparte gave the collection to the Baltimore Historical Society, furnishing the Bonaparte room in the building of that society. Mrs. Bonaparte also presented the Historical Society with the chair used by her husband while he was a member of the Roosevelt Cabinet, and other mementoes.

Mrs. Walton's Bridge Luncheon

One of the smartest affairs of the spring season in Pasadena was the luncheon and bridge given by Mrs. Charles H. Walton at the Hotel Vista del Arroyo on Saturday. The affair honored Mrs. Fred A. Kolster of Washington, D. C., and Miss Irene Seabury of Providence, R. I. Mrs. Berkeley H. Edwards also assisted in receiving.

Those present were the honor guests, Mrs. Kolster and Miss Seabury, Mrs. Allen Ashburn, Mrs. I. R. Bancroft, Miss Elizabeth Bush, Mrs. William Doran, Mrs. John T. Dye, Mrs. W. E. Keller and Mrs. John Shepherd of Los Angeles; Mrs. Benjamin of Providence, R. I.; Mrs. Edward E. Jones of Indianapolis; Mrs. Harry Barber of Minneapolis; Mrs. E. H. Barnes and Mrs. Walter Buck of New Haven, and the following from Pasadena: Mrs. S. L. Bird, Mrs. J. B. Coulston, Mrs. D. H. Crosby, Mrs. Fred G. Carpenter, Mrs. C. E. Corey, Mrs. Berkeley H. Edwards, Mrs. Emma Grasmill, Mrs. Nathan Krauskopf, Mrs. John T. Lenfesty, Mrs. Charles E. W. Moore, Mrs. Frederick Pitney, Mrs. Sam W. Small, Jr.; Mrs. Lewis C. Slade, Mrs. W. D. Smith, Mrs. H. H. Sinclair, Mrs. Stephen C. Tooker, Mrs. C. C. Tanner, Mrs. L. G. Youngiove, Miss Bessie Youngiove, Mrs. August Goebel, Mrs. J. E. Hamilton, Mrs. A. B. S. Johnston.

Blackstone's Closed Thursday and Friday

Chapter III

Letting Out a Secret

BLACKSTONE'S, "California's Finest Store," is now under new management, and the chiefs have decreed a REORGANIZATION SALE that will loosen the very foundations of the accepted merchandise values of today.

THIS SALE WILL BEGIN AT 9 A.M. SATURDAY, MAY 13TH.

The store will be CLOSED THURSDAY and FRIDAY in order to complete appraisal and inventory and to make the necessary preparations for the launching of the sale.

A time, all too short in which to do that which has been planned for the re-establishment of Blackstone's on a sound, firm, unshakable platform of merchandising that will make the strongest appeal to the largest number of people.

And to decide on discounts and make reductions that will startle the entire shopping public of Los Angeles and whoever reads the announcements of Blackstone's REORGANIZATION SALE.

Never before in Los Angeles, have all the stocks of any one store at one time, been involved in such a drastic price upheaval.

During this sale, beginning Saturday, a major group of departments will be entirely closed out absolutely without regard or consideration for values, cost or retail prices.

All other stocks, embracing EVERY PIECE OF MERCHANDISE IN THE ENTIRE STORE will go into the REORGANIZATION SALE, marked at prices that hold for everyone, actual, personal savings of an almost unbelievable character.

The new management of Blackstone's subscribes whole-heartedly to the following:

"The right to exist as an economic unit of distribution carries with it the obligation to do better than his competitor whatever one does."

There is not an atom of doubt that this sale will be the most sensational and far-reaching event of its kind ever known on the Pacific Coast.

When Hungry Little Muscles Say, "Please Help Me"

DID you ever stop to think who it really is that's talking, when childish voices raise a clamor, "Mother, I'm hungry?"

It's really muscles and bones and nerve cells worn in the stress and strain of play—that are calling for rebuilding material.

What kind of an answer? The right thing, or just anything? It makes a big difference.

Grape-Nuts, so deliciously crisp and appetizing to taste, and so quick and convenient to serve, is a splendid food for rebuilding young bodies. All the wonderful nutriment put in wheat and barley by Nature, including the vital mineral elements, is there—and Grape-Nuts digests easily, quickly and completely. Served with cream or milk, Grape-Nuts is supremely nourishing.

"That's splendid!" says the appetite. "That's just the food" say the hungry muscles, nerves and bones.

Ready to serve right from the package—always crisp and fresh. A favorite dish with all the family. Sold by grocers.

The critical time of a woman's life usually comes between the years of 45 and 50, and is often beset with annoying symptoms such as nervousness, irritability, melancholia. Heat flashes or waves of heat appear to pass over the body, cause the face to be very red and often bring on headache, dizziness and a sense of suffocation.

Another annoying symptom which comes at this time is an inability to recall names, dates or other small facts. This is liable to make a woman lose confidence in herself. She becomes nervous, avoids meeting strangers and dreads to go out alone.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is especially adapted to help women at this time. It exercises a restorative influence, tones and strengthens the system, and assists nature in the long weeks and months covering this period. Let it help carry you through this time of life. It is a splendid medicine for the middle-aged woman. It is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs and contains no harmful drugs or narcotics.

HUGE SALE OF VALLEY COTTON

Six Thousand Bales from One Grower to One Buyer

Over Half a Million Dollars for Imperial Rancher

Spot Cash Deal Sets Record for Immense Industry

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CALEXICO, May 9.—Shipment began today in Imperial Valley's record cotton transaction, the biggest sale of cotton by one grower to one buyer in the history of the valley, and one of the biggest in that of the country.

The seller is A. M. Shenk, who has under lease from the Colorado River Land Company, 8500 acres, twelve miles southeast of Mexicali. His crop ran better than 6100 bales and, with the exception of a small quantity, was sold in one chunk to Bullis & Co., of Liverpool, for $553,000 spot cash.

The average price received by Mr. Shenk was 18 1-3 cents per pound for the whole crop, irrespective of grade. A peculiar feature of the big sale was that it was made on so strong a market that, if it had been consummated yesterday, the total paid would have been about $60,000 more than it was. Cotton stood at 20 cents flat yesterday.

The entire shipment will be made through Los Angeles Harbor and the movement is being expedited in every way possible.

WIN FIRST CASE

Consent For Oil Prospect Right Comes Under New Law

The first contest involving the right to prospect for oil under the provisions of the recently enacted leasing law in the local land district, has just been decided in favor of the Whitewater Oil Association, in the action brought by Walter J. Gehres and others, who asserted that the land claimed by the corporation had not been posted as required by law.

There were 1760 acres involved in the claim of the Whitewater company, but only about 1000 acres were claimed by the plaintiffs. The former filed on May 9, 1921, which, under the law would give them thirty days there after to make a preference claim. The plaintiffs did not file until May 14. The latter tried to prove that the Whitewater corporation had not staked the land, but Register Groves and Receiver Mitchell disagreed with that contention, and gave the Whitewater company the preference in the entire claim.

EXHIBIT DOG BITES

Health Commissioner Renews Appeal for Muzzles

The danger due to the running at large of unmuzzled dogs was graphically shown to the health and sanitation committee of the City Council yesterday afternoon when Health Commissioner Powers brought to the City Hall a number of persons who had been bitten by dogs. These persons included Mrs. Ethel Hoffman of 1207 East Sixteenth street, who was bitten on May 5 and is now under treatment. She displayed to the councilman the bites on her left leg and right hand which she suffered as she was attempting to protect her child from a vicious dog.

Dr. Powers is asking the city to amend the present law which provides that all dogs in the city shall be muzzled.

The committee is expected to approve of this statement, which will bring the city laws in conformity with the State and county regulations, and will apply to all dogs on the city streets including those which are on leashes. The health department has nine cases now under treatment of persons who have been bitten by dogs since April 1.

SO THIS IS ROSCOE?

Yes, and We Want Our Railroad Crossing Fixed

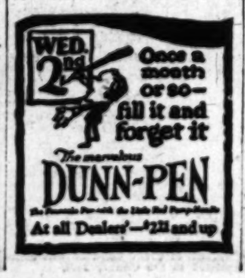
Ever hear of Roscoe? No?

You've missed something, then, said Irvine W. Biggar, who wrote a letter to the City Council yesterday notifying the city officials that Roscoe is a fast-growing community located at Vineland avenue and the San Fernando Road.

But Roscoe simply cannot grow as fast as it should, Mr. Biggar wrote, until the Vineland-avenue crossing over the Southern Pacific's tracks is put into shape, and he asked the Council to order this done, so as to shorten the distance between Roscoe and Hollywood and the city proper by more than two miles.

JURY GIVES WOMAN VERDICT FOR ACCIDENT

Mrs. Frances Bennish, who was injured when a bus of the Motor Transit Company overturned on the Whittier road, yesterday was awarded $2500 damages by a jury in Judge Myers's court. The bus company admitted liability for the accident and the jury was impaneled for the purpose of arriving at an equitable sum for damages.



MACHINE TO PICK COTTON IS SUCCESS

Suction Principle Applied to Apparatus is Effective in Imperial Valley

Visual evidence of the effectiveness of mechanical research as applied to cotton picking was offered yesterday at the Chamber of Commerce where pictures were shown of a demonstration near Calexico of a cotton-picking machine evolved by the Interstate Cotton Pickers' Company. Cotton growers of Imperial Valley on both sides of the California-Mexico line are enthusiastic over the machine, and have ordered several for next season's harvest.

The Schofield cotton picker, as the machine is called, is mounted on a truck which straddles a row of cotton. It has six suction lines, antennae-like pickers, the ends of which are applied to the bolls. The fiber is snaked off in a hurry and taken to a chamber, where it is cleaned of dirt, being deposited finally in baskets holding seventy-five pounds of seed cotton. To fit conditions in Imperial Valley, where things are done on a large scale, machines will be built to straddle two rows of cotton, and there will be eight suction lines. Each of the suction lines is attended by a man and there is a driver to each machine. The machine moves at speeds varying from one-twelfth of a mile an hour to one-quarter of a mile an hour in the field, but moves along as fast as eight miles an hour on the road.

The apparatus with six suction lines is said by F. M. Davidson, treasurer of the company, who is at the Alexandria, to pick from 4000 to 6000 pounds of cotton per day of nine hours. Furthermore, it is claimed for this machine that it picks a full grade of cotton better than the hand pickers, because much of the dirt is blown out.

Many machines with the suction principle have been invented, but this is the first one tried out with success in the Imperial Valley. Mr. Davidson says it is the first machine that ever actually picked a bale of cotton. It was perfected only eighteen months ago.

JAP COTTON MAGNATE IS VISITOR

Says Economic Situation in Nippon Depends Upon Rehabilitation of Europe

The man who runs a factory in Japan that consumed 20,000 bales of American cotton a month was in Los Angeles yesterday. He is F. Abe, director of the Toyo Boseki (Oriental Spinning Company) of Osaka, and he is on his way to inspect the plantations in the South and to study the spinning methods in New England and in England.

Mr. Abe at the Alexandria last night announced he had just formed the Gosho company, which will attend to all buying for the Toyo Boseki. The new company will have offices in New York and Galveston and has been capitalized at $25,000,000.

The Toyo Boseki, which is capitalized at $50,000,000 is the oldest and second largest spinning company in Japan. The American cotton is transformed into both thread and fabric. The company disposes of its entire output in China and India.

It is Mr. Abe's first trip to America and Europe. Of the economic situation in the Orient he had this to say:

"As you know, our situation is bad, as it is in the rest of the world. I feel no doubt that it will not be better until Europe is settled.

"We feel the economic dependency of Europe just as you do in America. It all depends on a rehabilitation of Europe. I think America should aid Europe and in so doing she will aid herself and all the rest of the world.

"Ah, the Chinese trouble may be settled—settled for a while. But it never will be settled generally until China has a strong man who will dominate the situation."

GREET IRISH DELEGATION AT MEETING

Countess Reviews History of Recent Developments in Emerald Isle

The Irish republican delegation was greeted last night at a mass meeting under auspices of the local committee of the American Association for Recognition of the Irish Republic. The delegation is headed by Countess Constance Markievics, whom the republicans call the Joan of Arc of Ireland. Other members are John J. O'Kelly, Irish journalist, and member of the governing board of the National University, and Miss Kathelean Barry, sister of Kevin Barry, the medical student, who lost his life in the recent revolt.

Countess Markievics was one of the early leaders in the Sinn Fein movement, and the first woman elected to the British House of Commons, according to the republican claims. She suffered imprisonment, and latterly has been a leader among the opponents of the Irish Free State pact. In her address here she reviewed the history of the recent developments. She declared there was no danger of Ireland becoming an ally of England's enemies once complete Irish independence was granted; that the quarrel was with the British government, not the English people. The delegation is at the Alexandria, and will leave today for Chicago.

LAKOTA (N. D.) May 9.—Men prominent in public life from all parts of North Dakota today attended the funeral of former United States Senator A. J. Gronna, who died last Thursday night at his home here.

The funeral services were simple and were held at the Gronna home.

CITY NEEDS NAVY BASE WAREHOUSE

Luckenbach Company is Seeking More Room to Move Submarines

That the Navy Department will soon be asked to seek other quarters for its submarine base now occupying a valuable warehouse at the harbor, was indicated by the Harbor Commission, which met yesterday at the harbor, following receipt from the Luckenbach Steamship Company of a request that they be given 800 additional feet of warehouse space at the outer harbor for their increased fleet of ships.

Commissioners McKee, Kible and Richards agreed in their discussion of the situation that rapidly increasing demands for more wharfage space at the outer harbor, make it imperative that the city take back as soon as possible the warehouse now occupied by the naval forces at the submarine base.

Just what plan will be followed out in aiding the Navy to find other quarters for their submarine plant was not decided at yesterday's meeting, but a committee composed of one member of the harbor board, one from the Chamber of Commerce at San Pedro and one from the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce is to be appointed to call upon Capt. W. R. Miller, commander of the base, and lay before him the necessity for vacating the warehouse and to offer him their aid in solving the problem.

It is possible, it was indicated at the meeting, that the city may build another warehouse on its outer harbor property for the temporary use of the naval forces, the warehouse to be used later for commercial purposes.

Actual work on the extension of Harbor Boulevard from the City Hall at San Pedro to the outer harbor, connecting with the submarine base and new immigration station, will soon begin, it was indicated yesterday at a meeting of the Board of Harbor Commissioners of Los Angeles Harbor.

The board authorized that bids for the excavation and grading for the boulevard site from Thirteenth to Seventeenth street, the excavation on Signal street, from the boulevard to a point 400 feet easterly and for the fill for the relocation of the railroad highline from Signal street to Twenty-second street be advertised for, the bids to be opened on the 26th inst.

IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Take Salts to flush Kidneys and neutralize irritating acids.

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble. —[Advertisement.

Eight Helps for Housecleaning Time

If some kind person should come into your house around spring housecleaning time, wash and pack away all the winter blankets; clean the motor rugs that show grease spots after the winter's use; take out the summer curtains, do them up as you would, beautifully finished; and wash your feather pillows to a wonderful new fluffiness—wouldn't you be grateful?

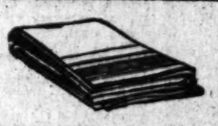
Our modern laundry methods are at your service to relieve you of these and other details of spring housecleaning. Bundle up your curtains, pillows, rugs and other heavier pieces today and send them to us.

Lace Curtains that Look Like New

We wash your lace curtains in fleecy suds and pure soft water. Our modern laundry methods enable us to return your curtains exactly their original size, with scallops even, and all beautifully finished.

How about those heavy Rag and Woolen Rugs

Are you going to struggle with the washing of those heavy rag and woolen rugs this spring? We can launder them for you. Save yourself, and send them to us.



Have your Blankets Washed before Storing

Of course, you will want to have your blankets washed. Why not let us do this laborious work for you? Our way of laundering them saves the nap, and keeps them soft and fleecy.

Eiderdown Quilts Laundered Expertly

Our modern washing methods are ideal for your eiderdown quilts, which you will naturally want cleaned before storing. Here is another bit of heavy work that you will find it economical to have us do for you.

Your Feather Pillows Made Light and Downy

Feather pillows washed by our specialized methods are soft and downy after their bath in rich suds and drying in clean warm air currents. Put new life in your old pillows by having us wash them our laundry way.

And those Motor Rugs

You can send your motor rugs to us also, to be washed free of the past season's grime and grease. We have special equipment for handling these extra weighty things.

Dress Up Your Car in Fresh Covers

This is the time for clean automobile covers. Before you place them on your car again for the season, send these cumbersome pieces to us to be freshly laundered.

Let Us Wash Your Mops

Everything else gets washed at housecleaning time, so don't forget that we wash heavy O'Cedar and woolen mops. Bundle them up and our drivers will call.

Why Not Have Streets That Will Stand It?

Nothing in your town has harder usage than your streets.

They are completely exposed to all the whims of the seasons—and to traffic as well.

Concrete Street pavement cannot blow away. Rain only makes it stronger. It can be built to carry any kind of traffic indefinitely, practically without repairs.

Concrete makes easy driving. Concrete makes driving safe. It is rigid, unyielding, skid-proof. Concrete Streets are as good one time of the year as another. Concrete pavement has the maintenance built into it.

These are some of the reasons for the rapidly growing popularity of Concrete Streets.

BRIDE RELATES THRILLING TIME

Divorce Suit Sounds Like "Best Seller" Chapter

Complaint Contains Dialogue Just as It Occurred

Young Wife Cites Instances of Asserted Cruelty

There was only one argument between Grace and Christopher Kenter during their short married life, but it was sufficient to cause a permanent separation and the filing of an action for divorce by the wife yesterday.

The separation occurred June 14, 1920, and was the culmination of several asserted acts of cruelty on the part of the husband that began on the evening of June 13, 1920. They were married March 23 of the same year.

The complaint, filed through Attorney H. L. Moller, reads like the "first quarrel" chapter of a "best seller." Departing from the usual legal phraseology, Mr. Moller permits his plaintiff and defendant to set forth their own cases in their own words.

"We attended a public entertainment on the night of June 13, when Christopher took the key of our apartment away from me.

"Give me that key and don't you ever come to that house again," the husband is asserted to have said.

"I will come home," replied the wife.

ORDERED TO LEAVE

The wife says that when she arrived he permitted her to enter, but refused to speak to her. He packed his effects, slammed the door to the front room and went to bed. She spent the night in the dining-room.

"You pack up your things and go home to your mother today and stay there. I don't want you." This, the wife says, her husband told her the next morning.

"I won't," she says she told him.

"You will," she says he said, "for I'll turn the gas and electricity off so you can't stay here any longer." All of which she avers he did before going to work.

At 4:30 that same afternoon he returned from work and said he was ill. She waited upon him. At 8 o'clock in the evening he began to abuse her because she permitted a neighbor's child to spend the night in their home.

"I'm not running a boarding-house," he said to her. "You can't permit anyone to remain here without my consent."

Whereupon, she says, he grabbed her by the neck, choked her and then threw her bodily out of the back door. She says she landed on her hands and knees.

"You'll have to sleep in the streets tonight," she says he shouted at her. "You can't come in this house."

She says she went around to the front of the house to comfort the little girl whom he had thrown out by the front door, and found her husband had changed his mind.

"You get in here," she says he commanded her.

She complied. During the night he told her:

"I would just as soon kill you as look at you. You can't go chasing around on me."

The next morning she complied with his request to "go to her mother." She has been there ever since.

MAYOR IS INVITED

Bid to "Days of '49" Celebration Sent by Airplane

Mayor Cryer was yesterday afternoon presented by Arthur S. Dudley, secretary of the Sacramento Chamber of Commerce, with an invitation from Gov. Stephens inviting the Mayor to attend the "Days of '49" celebration at Sacramento from May 23 to 28. Mr. Dudley ate breakfast in Sacramento, flew to Los Angeles with the invitation, ate lunch here and then started back to Sacramento, where he planned to arrive in time to dine. The Mayor sent back by Mr. Dudley an acceptance of the invitation and in turn invited the Governor to attend the Pageant of Progress to be held at Los Angeles in August.

ORDINANCE STANDS

Reminder of Bullock's Bridge Battle Heard in Council

A reminder of the Bullock's bridge battle of one year ago came before the City Council yesterday in the form of a proposed ordinance to prohibit the parking of vehicles at any time in St. Vincent Place, the blind alley that separates Bullock's Broadway store and the Hill-street annex. Councilmen Conaway and Mallard supported the proposed change as a safety measure so that fire apparatus could operate in the alley, but six Councilmen voted "No," and so the parking of vehicles under Bullock's bridges will continue to be permitted.

They were married Jan. 24, 1901, and separated the 8th inst. Mrs. Kraft asks suitable alimony and the custody of their one child, George Kraft, Jr.

BULLET .. FAILS .. TO .. RECONCILE

Long Beach Woman Sues Husband Whom She Shot

Mrs. Pearl F. Garth (right) and a Friend

MRS. PEARL FRANCES GARTH has learned that a bullet will not make a man mend his ways.

Last December on the streets of Long Beach Mrs. Garth fired a bullet at her husband, Robert Littleton Garth, prosperous oil stock salesman. She said she objected to being deserted for periods ranging from three weeks to two months and she showed her displeasure with a revolver.

The shooting failed in its lesson upon the husband for yesterday she took another means of ridding herself of the man she asserted caused her so much sorrow, by filing suit for divorce. The action was filed through Attorney Henry Haves.

"I'm so happy Robert and I are reconciled," sobbed Mrs. Garth as a jury in Judge Avery's court rendered a verdict of "not guilty" after her trial for assault to commit murder upon her husband.

After the acquittal Mrs. Garth and her husband returned to each other. Apparently a bullet carries no more with it, for the wife avers that on May 1, last, Garth deserted her once more after previously separating from her and returning eight times.

She also accused him of habitual intoxication and calling her names. They were married March 26, 1914.

The husband is now employed as a salesman for the McIntyre Brothers Oil and Gas Syndicate, Long Beach. Mrs. Garth secured a court order restraining the company from paying him his salary until her plea for $60 a week alimony is heard. She says he earns $1000 a month and asks one-half of the community property consisting of a three-carat diamond ring valued at $2000 and a $1000 automobile, now in the possession of the husband.

FILM STARS IN COURT OVER FAMOUS HORSE

TOM MIX SUED BY GEORGE WALSH FOR POSSESSION OF "JOE"

Joe, the famous equine cinema star, who always bears the hero at a neck-breaking pace in pursuit of the villain in Wild West melodramas staged in the Hollywood hills, is the center of a $35,000 suit filed yesterday by George Walsh against Tom Mix, cowboy actor.

Joe, the complaint explains, is a gelding, weighing 900 pounds, chestnut color with "white stockings" on his hind legs and a "war club" on his forehead.

Walsh asserts that Joe is his property and that Mix is keeping possession of him unlawfully. The suit is for claim and delivery and Walsh values the animal at $35,000. He not only seeks possession, but also the sum of $500 a week from May 15, 1921, as rental.

Walsh sets forth that in May, 1921, he departed for the East to film a picture and Mix requested that he leave the animal with him until his return. Walsh complied with the request and when he returned from New York, demanded possession of the animal. He asserts that Mix refused to give him up.

Joe is widely known among patrons of the "Wild West" pictures. He has been ridden by Mix in all of his later pictures. He has been especially trained in cinema work and is declared by Walsh to be doubly valuable to anyone making films of this character.

PIONEER OF STATE DIES SUDDENLY

C. W. Rogers Was Prominent in Early Development of Southern California

C. W. Rogers, prominently identified with land and water development in Southern California for the past thirty-five years, died at his home, 1526 Arapahoe street, early Sunday morning during an apoplectic stroke. He was 65 years of age. He retired from active business eight years ago.

Mr. Rogers was born near Cedar Creek, Ocean county, New Jersey, on a homestead granted the family by King James. His father, Judge David L. C. Rogers, was one of the political leaders of the State. He and his brothers, Ivens D. Rogers, now of San Diego, settled in New Mexico in the early eighties. He married Miss Dora I. Ferris of Galesburg, Ill., in 1886. He and his bride were scarcely settled in their new home when they were driven out by a band of Apaches under the notorious Chief Geronimo. Twenty of their neighbors were massacred by the Indians, and Mr. and Mrs. Rogers escaped a similar fate by hiding in the mountains.

The Rogers brothers came to California in 1887, locating in San Diego. Three years later Mr. Rogers became interested in opening up land for settlement in the neighborhood of Riverside. He was the owner of Jurupa Rancho of 20,000 acres and at one time controlled the 40,000-acre La Sierra Rancho.

He leaves his widow and brother, a sister, Mrs. Sarah J. Lewis, Cedar Creek, N. J., and four children, P. L. Rogers, 1526 Arapahoe street; Harry N. and Charles A. Rogers of San Francisco, and Mrs. Irving V. Augur of Eagle Rock City.

Funeral services will be conducted today at 10 a.m. from the chapel of Peck & Chase undertaking establishment, 1213 South Figueroa street. Burial will be at Rosedale Cemetery.

Plaintiff Asks $148,000 For Asserted Broken Contract

After ordering an accounting in the suit of the A. L. Hart Productions against the Special Pictures Corporation, Judge McLucas yesterday continued the case until Monday to hear testimony on the claim of $148,000 damages for purported failure to carry out a contract for the production of comedies.

The plaintiff assigned a contract to the defendants in which Chester Conklin and Louise Fazenda had featured, the defendant agreeing to distribute the pictures, collect the receipts and account to plaintiff for 40 per cent of the proceeds. It was charged that the defendant only produced three or four pictures and that they never paid any money under the contract. They had furnished, however approximately $18,000 in property and studio arrangements.

Mayor to Aid Kiddies Asking Right to Land

Mayor Cryer yesterday sent a telegram to Senator Shortridge at Washington urging that a special permit be obtained from the government to permit Barbara, Nancy and Clifford Bird to land here when they arrive Friday at Los Angeles Harbor from South Africa on board the steamer Venezuela. The children's parents died, and they are coming to make their home with their uncle, Wyndham Martyn of Santa Monica, who is waiting to receive them. Under the present immigration law, the number of immigrants permitted to land from various countries is restricted, and the quota allotted to South Africa is filled until June 15, and a special permit will be necessary to allow the children to land here before that date. Senator Shortridge has wired the Mayor that he will be glad to assist Mr. Martyn and the orphan children.

"OTHER WOMAN" CITED

Wife's Detective Gets Results, She Gets Decree

Claude C. Moreno sued Lena Moreno for divorce, but she filed a cross-complaint, and won the decree before Judge Hahn yesterday. Mr. Moreno charged his wife with nagging him.

Her story was that she became suspicious and to verify her suspicions she employed a detective. Her husband was traced to an apartment-house, and when the detective knocked at the door of the house, the woman fled from it by the back door, she testified.

Mr. Moreno was waiting in front of the house and she said that the woman turned the corner and they came face to face.

Fresno, Cal.—"After an attack of scarlet fever I was in a very anaemic condition. My appetite was poor and I had no interest in anything. My friends did not expect me to live as with my weakness I had a bad cough. I had heard my parents speak of Dr. Pierce's medicines, so I got a bottle of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and began to take it. Before I had used all of the first bottle I knew it was doing me good, for I felt a desire for food, my cough ceased and I began to have color and take an interest in life. I continued to take the Golden Medical Discovery' until I felt strong and well. Today I am enjoying the best of health." Mrs. Esther Wolfe, 2211 Tulare St.

As soon as you commence to take this "Discovery" you will begin to feel its bracing, appetizing effect. Buy it of your druggist in tablets or liquid. Write Dr. Pierce, President Invalids' Hotel, in Buffalo, N. Y., if you desire free medical advice.—[Advertisement]

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards' famous Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practising physician for 17 years and one of the old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets for the purpose of treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a vegetable, soothing vegetable laxative. No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They act on the bowels and liver to set matters right. They never force them to do a violent action.

If you have a "dirty mouth"—bad breath—a dull, "all-in" feeling — sick headache — a torpid liver — constipation, you'll get quick, sure and pleasant relief from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. 15c and 30c.—[Advertisement]

CANNING MANY LAUGHS

HAROLD LLOYD'S LATEST FILM LOOKS ELABORATE

By Edwin Schallert

With four companies constantly busy, considerable pep is being displayed at the Hal E. Roach studios. Each of the smaller units is keeping at top-notch speed on short reel productions, while Harold Lloyd is more than half through with his latest feature, which promises to be a big one.

Sets for the Lloyd company cover a large space on both a dark and an open-air stage, and five additional settings have lately been added. Enough film to make two reels has already been assembled, and is as yet untitled.

"Snub" Pollard is completing his second two-reeler, and will commence on the third next week. Pollard's first two-reeler, with the working title, "Uncle Will's Will," is now being edited. Since the first of the year he has shipped about a dozen one-reelers East.

Two of the Paul Parrott comedies have been sent East, and the rest are being edited and titled. Parrott will soon be making his debut generally on the screen.

The kiddie and animal comedies are the latest source of interest, two having been forwarded for distribution, following previews at Ocean Park. In these pictures among the youngsters who appear, are "Sunshine Sammy," Jackie Condon, Peggy Cartwright.

Chopin Recital

Those who hold the theory that there is an emotional side to politics would have found rather illuminating evidence on the subject in the lecture recital on Frederick Chopin, given by Dr. Alexis Kall, musical lecturer, with Alfred Mirovich, pianist, offering illustrations from the works of the composer last night at Ebell Club Auditorium. The program was the first of two to be given by Dr. Kall and Mr. Mirovich, and provided a wide interest, in view of the authority of the opinions expressed by the lecturer.

Dr. Kall showed how much of the music of Chopin was connected with patriotism of the master in describing the scenes of his inspiration. His talk reflected his wide acquaintance with Polish traditions, as well as the traditions of music, and he expressed with sentiment and feeling his views of the many moods of the composer and man.

Mr. Mirovich's interpretations evidence a fine native Slavic impulse. What particularly strikes the listener is the freedom of his renditions, the fact that they assume the character of improvising, which is the proper reaction that Chopin should inspire, for he himself often seemed to improvise rather than write. Vivid, indeed, was the dynamic interpretation of the Polonaise in A flat which brought sustained applause for Mr. Mirovich. Sometimes, perhaps, you feel that he could give a more obviously poetic cast to his playing of Chopin, but if he did believe personally he would lose in the unsentimental perspective which he has on the works. He played the Sonata in B flat minor, mazurkas, studies, the nocturne in D flat, the Prelude in A flat and the valse in A flat among other numbers.

Degree for De Mille

Cecil B. De Mille is now a master of arts. A message conveying the news of this honorary degree was received yesterday by him from the Pennsylvania Military College at Chester, Pa., where Mr. De Mille went to school in his youth. The degree was awarded by the trustees of the college "in recognition of the producer's distinguished services in the field of dramatic art," according to the telegram.

Mr. De Mille left the school at the outbreak of the Spanish-American War to enter the Army.

One Day Shorter

Elinor Glyn's picture, "Six Days," now has become "Five Days," the shortening of the name being to avoid confusion with another picture, "After Six Days," which is soon to be exhibited, according to announcement of the Goldwyn studios.

Well, what's a day more or less after "Three Weeks," anyhow?

Zoellners Return

The Zoellner Quartet members have returned from the concert tour which took them as far east as Washington, D. C. They report splendid success on the trip.

PLAYING IT BOTH WAYS

Hurried changing of screen make-up for the more natural hue of the stage is the daily task of several members of the casts playing in "His Father's Boots" and "A Slice of Life," the double bill being offered now at the Egan Theater by the Hollywood Community Players. Beside playing each night, most of these actors are busy during the day on some studio lot, and because of this a matinee for next Saturday afternoon could not be announced until today.

Popular Idol Is Engaged to Wed

Rodolph Valentino and Natacha Rambova,
Whose engagement was yesterday announced by Miss Rambova's father, Richard Hudnut.

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

DOUBTLESS there will be palpitations of feminine hearts from coast to coast since it has become known that Rudolph Valentino, film idol, is to be married. His fiancee is no less famous a person than the dancer-artist known as Natacha Rambova, art director for Mme. Nazimova, and formerly premiere danseuse with Theodore Kosloff.

Announcement of the fact was made yesterday. News of the engagement unearths the fact that Miss Rambova's real name is Winifred Hudnut. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hudnut, Mr. Hudnut being the famous millionaire manufacturer of perfumes.

Mr. Hudnut, at present in New York, en route to his chateau at Juan Le Pins, near Nice, France, made the following statement concerning the match:

"I am greatly pleased to confirm the announcement of the engagement of my daughter to Mr. Rodolph Valentino. Both Mrs. Hudnut and I respect and admire him, and the fact that they are to be married makes us very happy. He is a man of great personal charm and comes from an excellent Italian family, and has shown conspicuous ability in making his way to success in this, a foreign country, where at the start he was absolutely unknown."

Mr. Valentino was out of town when the New York wire came and could not be reached for a statement. He has just completed "Blood and Sand" at the Lasky studio. He is at present appearing here on the screen in "Beyond the Rocks" at Grauman's Rialto Theater and in "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," his first notable success, at the Alhambra.

The pair met more than a year ago on Mme. Nazimova's set. Valentino was playing Armand in "Camille." It was a case of love at first sight, apparently, as both young people are artists and have much in common.

When Mr. Valentino built a handsome home in Whitley Heights, Hollywood, a few months ago, rumor was rife to the effect that he was intending to be married, and rumor again said the lady was Mlle. Rambova. Valentino at that time had just been divorced from his former wife, Jean Acker.

It is rumored that Mr. Valentino and the future Mrs. Valentino are planning to spend their honeymoon abroad next spring, and will be guests at their parents' chateau after an automobile tour of Italy where Mr. Valentino and his bride will visit his family after Valentino's absence of many years.

RAOUL WALSH SIGNS GOLDWYN CONTRACT

A big new shuffle and deal of face-card directors is going on these days, with Goldwyn drawing a number of trumps. The latest announcement is to the effect that R. A. Walsh has signed with Goldwyn to produce the R. A. Walsh productions at the Goldwyn studios in connection with that organization.

Mr. Walsh, who is now in New York, will return to the Coast this month, according to the announcements. His first picture will be a romance of the South Seas, tentatively known as "Captain Blackbird." This is an original photoplay by Carey Wilson, associate editor of the Goldwyn scenario department. J. G. Hawks has adapted the story to the screen and Paul Bern will act as editor.

"Captain Blackbird" is based on experiences which the author actually encountered when she spent several months in the South Seas, which should give it added interest. In the picture in a star role will appear Miriam Cooper, Walsh's wife, according to present plans, and an all-star cast will play the other parts.

The announcement of Walsh's new affiliation is particularly interesting because the Goldwyn company has just made a contract with Marshall Neilan and elected him to the board of directors—arranged with Maurice Tourneur to film "The Christian" in England—made a new contract with Rupert Hughes to write, direct and edit his own stories, in addition to giving Goldwyn first call on all his fiction, and has also contracted with Allen Holubar to produce "Broken Chains," the $10,000 prize scenario.

Color for Salome

Color photography in the making of picture plays seems to be getting a foothold. Lady Diana Manners's picture, now playing in New York, done in Prizma colors, has proven to be a sensation.

Now comes William Fox, and announces that he is to make a film version of "Salome" in colored photography with an all-star cast. The picture will be made at the West Coast studios.

Bert Lytell Busy

Bert Lytell, it appears, will hang his hat up at the Lasky Studio for some time to come. From last advices Mr. Lytell is to play the Jack Barrymore role in Willard Mack's "Kick In," when the play is turned into a celluloid drama. George Fitzmaurice is to direct.

One of the best stories which Lytell heard while in New York, he says, was told by Willie Collier at a Lambs luncheon. That famous raconteur, making a speech about Harry Lauder, stated:

"Say all you like about Harry Lauder being close. You never can tell. I hear that he has just donated $10,000 to the widow of America's unknown hero."

PARENTS OBJECTED

Estelle Taylor, who plays the feminine lead opposite Tyrone Power in "Footfalls," the picture which will be shown at Miller's Theater on Sunday, following the record engagement of Strongheart in "The Silent Call," despaired of overcoming the prejudices of her Methodist relatives against the stage when her ambition in that direction first developed. Submissively she set herself to learn stenography. A nervous breakdown gave her an opportunity to persuade her parents to allow her to attend a dramatic school in New York ostensibly for the ultimate purpose of teaching private theatricals to children in her native city, Wilmington, Del. The young brunette beauty never returned there to work. She went into motion pictures and her success is now history. She has lately been chosen from many applications to portray the role of the vampire in the new version of "A Fool There Was," which is just being completed.

BOOKS OWEN MOORE FILM

"Reported Missing" has been booked by Mischa Guterson as his opening attraction at Tally's Broadway, starting Monday. Made for purposes of entertainment only to those theatergoers who are tired of sex problems and heavy themes, its mixture of comedy, burlesque, melodrama and stunts should be a refreshing change, it is asserted. Owen Moore, who is featured in the production, plays the role of a wealthy young shipping magnate who has more money than brains.

Pauline Garon, a newcomer to the screen, but a well-known player before the New York footlights, has the leading role opposite the star. The cast also includes Nita Naldi, Tom Wilson, Togo Yamamoto, Robert Cain and others.

BARTHELMESS STARS AGAIN

"Sonny," Barthelmess's third starring picture, being completed, Inspiration Pictures announces that the young screen artist will be starred in George Washington Ogden's story, "The Bond Boy," to be released through Associated First National. This is an intensely dramatic story, dealing with the life of a boy who is bound out illegally by his mother to an unscrupulous villain, who has a pretty young wife. A murder mystery is one of the features of the story, the boy accepting responsibility for the crime in order to protect another. Henry King, who made "Tol'able David," "The Seventh Day" and "Sonny," will again be Mr. Barthelmess's director.

GLEE CLUB OPERETTA

"The Lost Necklace," a Spanish operetta in one act by Charles Vincent, is to be given by the Girls' Glee Club of the University of Southern California under the direction of Prof. Horatio Cogswell at Bovard Hall this evening. Choruses of Spanish girls and gypsies will be sung by members of the Glee Club. The leading roles will be taken by Isabel Smith, Rachel Graves Smith and Bertha Lloyd. Ethel Christy, Sarah Benham and Madge Wightman will be featured as dancers.

LIBERAL REALISM

Fighting Star Says Dazed Expression Not Art

Those who like realism in motion-pictures will get a liberal allowance of it in the fight scene between the hero and a Sicilian bandit in the new Rex Beach production, "Fair Lady," in which Betty Blythe is starred. This is to open at the California next Sunday.

In this scene Robert Elliott, who stands six feet one inch tall, and Walter James, who comes up to the six-feet three-inch mark and weighs 225 pounds, mix it up in a scrimmage that is considerably more action than acting.

At the finish of the fight, Walter James landed a blow that sent Elliott staggering into a pile of boxes and Elliott himself says that the dazed look on his face was not mere artistry.

"I am not looking for any undue credit," says Elliott, "and I want fans to know that the far-away look in my eyes at the close of that scene was the real thing."

CLASSIC DRAMA

Excerpts from Shakespeare at Dobinson Recital

Scenes from Shakespeare and other classic plays were given an effectual presentation in dramatic recital by pupils of Florence Dobinson at the Rex Arms Apartments last night. The program featured Miss Helen Sheehan, and was in honor of Mary Alpaugh.

Practically all the excerpts were presented in costume. Miss Alpaugh, Miss Sheehan and Norman Moore gave, with excellent diction and understanding of its dramatic significance, the opening scene from "Ingomar." William Harvey Stephens read very effectively a scene from "Julius Caesar."

Other excerpts included the "To Be or Not to Be" and the "Rogue and Peasant" soliloquys from "Hamlet," respectively recited by Mr. Stephens and Mr. Moore, and the mad scene of Ophelia by Miss Alpaugh.

Two short comedies were also played. Miss Viola Wasterlain was heard in violin solo, and a pupil of Mme. Matildita appeared in two dances.

PRIZE PLAY HAS PASADENA PREMIERE

There was a real premiere at the Pasadena Community Playhouse last night, when the first curtain on any stage went up on "No Other Way," by Anne Murray. This is the play selected by Henrietta Crosman, Dr. Margaret S. Carhart and Prof. G. R. MacMinn as the best one submitted in this year's contest conducted by Pasadena Center of the Drama League of America. Fifty-six plays were entered, from all parts of the country.

In honor of the occasion, this was Drama-League night in the Community Playhouse. Gilmor Brown supervised the production, assisted by Edna Sterling and Ruth A. Bolgiano. The cast was headed by Virginia Lykins and George Bratt. Others taking part were Samuel S. Hinds, Mrs. A. H. Palmer, Margaret Fitch McCarthy, C. E. Judson, Mrs. F. C. Huxley and Bobby Helnar.

"No Other Way" is distinctly modern in theme and treatment, dealing with a phase of American life that presents a serious problem in many families today. As the author is a member of the Los Angeles Playcrafters, that organization will attend in a body tonight, when the final performance will be given of "No Other Way."

COMEDY IN THIRD WEEK

Gaining each week in popularity, "The Nervous Wreck," with Edward Everett Horton and Mary Newcomb in the leading roles, is packing them in at the Majestic Theater, where it is now playing its third week. This new Owen Davis four-act comedy, being produced here for the first time on any stage by arrangement with Sam H. Harris, will open in New York soon after its local run. Sam Forrest, general manager for Producer Harris, will reach Los Angeles in time to see the closing week of the Majestic presentation, and remain for the opening of "In Love with Love," another play secured through Mr. Harris, which will follow Davis's comedy.

OUTSTANDING SUCCESS

"One of the outstanding cinema successes of the year," is the phrase applied to "Smilin' Through," Norma Talmadge's current First National release, now playing at the Kinema Theater, because of the extraordinary reception it has got during the few weeks it has been released.

It has elicited editorial praise from two large newspapers. Locally, it has gained unqualified recommendation.

McCORMICK VACATIONS

After two years of strenuous work John E. McCormick, western representative of First National Pictures, Inc., is taking a vacation. Without revealing his destination McCormick last Saturday packed his grip, said good-bye to the office force and did a fadeout cinematographically speaking.) He will return to work the middle of next week.

EARLE WILLIAMS LEAD

Patsy Ruth Miller has been lent to Vitagraph by Goldwyn as leading woman for Earle Williams in the picturization of a story by O. Henry, which started production this week. Miss Miller, it is said, possessed the Spanish type particularly suited to the story.

SAYS SHE SAW BURCH ON PIKE

Woman Testifying from Sick Bed Aids Alibi

Positive She Saw Defendant on Fatal Night

Says He Retrieved Dime She Had Dropped

she was at the County Jail with Mr. Kittrelle. Burch came in and began talking to some one stationed near the door. The woman looked at him for a moment, and then crossed the jail corridor.

"Have you ever seen me before?" she demanded.

Burch looked at her and almost instantly said, "Why, yes! I saw you in Long Beach."

Then Mrs. Elderton asked him to show her his hand. He raised his right hand. She looked at it. Then she asked him to show his left one. He raised that.

"This is the man, all right," Mrs. Elderton said. She stated that she had noticed that night at Long Beach that his left hand was drawn as if by rheumatism. She said it was out of proportion, that it was more slender than a normal hand would be.

Mr. Keys then began his cross-examination.

NO CROSS-EXAMINATION

"You are no more sick than I am," was one of the first of his exclamations. Frequently throughout her examination he made this declaration. He did not cross-examine her on her testimony as much as he did on the condition of her health. Finally he turned to Mr. Schenck.

"I am not going to permit this woman's testimony to be read in court. She will have to be there to testify. I don't think she is sick," he stated. He had agreed earlier in the day that her deposition would be accepted in court if she could not be present.

Mr. Keyes then left the room. As he passed out he was met by a group of newspaper men. His comment on the situation was summed up in one word: "Bunk!"

An examination of Burch's left hand disclosed the fact, hitherto unpublished, that it is considerably drawn. Asked concerning this, the young man explained that when he was 12 years old he had accidently shot himself. The bullet entered the fleshy part of the hand back of the little finger and lodged in the wrist. For a time it was thought necessary to amputate the hand, but finally, after the bullet was extracted, it healed.

In her statement Mrs. Elderton said that she had told Mrs. Clara C. Holland, a close friend, of seeing Burch, and Mrs. Holland urged her to tell of the incident. She also told the woman with whom she lives, Mrs. Anna Bennett, and was advised by her to tell the authorities.

During the morning court session yesterday, Oscar E. Brann, the disabled veteran, was again placed on the stand. Mr. Brann had stated on the day previous that it was he and not Burch that Charles S. Sunmar saw and swore at, at the mouth of Santa Monica Canyon on the night of the murder. Yesterday Mr. Brann was subjected to the most grilling cross-examination yet inflicted by Mr. Keyes during the trial. Every point of his story was attacked by the prosecution, but it stood up under fire.

TESTIMONY NOT SHAKEN

The point Mr. Keyes attempted to trip Brann on was his failure to report the incident to the authorities at the time of the first trial. Mr. Brann stated that he was in the government hospital at the time and was waiting to have his arm amputated.

Another high spot of the trial yesterday came when Attorney Kittrelle compared the tire taken from the wheel of the car Burch had on the night of the slaying with two tires of different makes. It was apparent that the impressions made by any of the three on the roadway would be similar.

BUSINESS MEN CHEAT DEATH

been forced to give up their fight for life from utter exhaustion.

Finally the larger boat steamed into position and the fishermen-adventurers were transferred to the deck of the George W.

Another hard fight against the heavy seas ensued and it was after dark before a landing was made at San Pedro. The men were hurried to Hotel Virginia at Long Beach where they spent the night. All of the party suffered from exposure and fatigue but no serious results are expected.

URGES BILL SUPPORT

Advertising Club is Asked to Back Dennison Act

Members of the Advertising Club were urged yesterday by Corporation Commissioner Daugherty to ask California Congressmen and Senators to support the Dennison bill, which has passed the House, and which proposes to forbid interstate traffic in unsafe or spurious securities.

Commissioner Daugherty asserted that passage of the Dennison Act will enable his department to increase its protective service for California investors. He said the bill is carefully drawn to avoid interference with legitimate business.

The bill will not add red tape or create any new jobs, Mr. Daugherty said. Should the proposed measure fail to become law, according to the corporation commissioner, it will be possible for corporations now forbidden to operate in California to incorporate in other States and sell their worthless securities by mail.

COURT AWARDS MAN $150 FOR SLANDER

Judge McLucas yesterday awarded U. S. Grant Hinton $150 damages against Joseph Jackson for calling him a crook. The purported slander grew out of an altercation March 3, last. Mr. Hinton sued for $30,000 damages.

WHAT'S THE USE? CALL HIM "SAY"

Conviction of Arsonist With Impossible Cognomen Upheld by Court

Presiding Judge Willis received a remittitur from the Second Appellate Court yesterday affirming his judgment in the case of Lieutenuleeeeeeee Harrizinsteinni, convicted of setting fire to a building which he had insured, together with the furniture, for $2000.

"I ought to have some notice on that affirmation," said Judge Willis. "When the defendant and his name got into the court there was no room for anybody else. I never did pronounce it."

As for Bailiff Martin Aguirre, he always called the defendant "Say."

Governor Acts to Aid Probers of Vice Here

Gov. Stephens has directed the attorney-general of California to co-operate with the Citizens' Anti-Crime Committee in an investigation to determine whether the law-enforcing agencies of Los Angeles county are properly performing their duties. A letter to this effect, written by the chief executive, was read yesterday at a meeting of the committee.

The letter was in reply to a resolution sent the governor several days ago to ask the opening of such an investigation. Immediate impaneling of a grand jury was demanded at the same time.

Meanwhile the committee has gone ahead with the work of gathering evidence to present before the attorney-general. This committee, still in the process of being formed, is to be composed of one representative from each organized group of men and women in the city. At a recent meeting the Citizens' Law Enforcement League voted unanimously to co-operate with the anti-crime organization in its present work. Mrs. Dora A. Stearns, president of the Women's City Club, is chairman.

Organize Firm for Coastwise Shipping Trade

Announcement was made yesterday of the formation of the Watson Navigation Company which will operate a freight service between San Francisco and Latin-American ports on the west coast. The headquarters of the company, however, will be here and Los Angeles Harbor will be one of the chief ports of call.

The company will begin operations with one steamship of sizable tonnage. The head of the concern is F. A. Watson of Los Angeles and with him is associated H. S. Backus, also of Los Angeles, who has had considerable steamship experience. Other directors of the company are Susanna W. Watson of Los Angeles; H. R. Terza of Redlands and F. F. Terza of Sierra Madre. Kemp, Mitchell & Silverberg of Los Angeles are attorneys for the company.

FOUR CONTENDERS FOR CITY PROSECUTOR JOB

MAYOR CRYER IS BOMBARDED WITH APPLICATIONS FOR APPOINTMENT

Asst. City Prosecutor McConnell, Dep. City Prosecutor Friedlander, and Attorneys J. Marion Wright and Walter Little were the leading candidates yesterday for the place of City Prosecutor, which will become vacant May 15 when the resignation of Erwin W. Widney becomes effective. Mr. Widney has accepted an appointment as Deputy Attorney-General.

Since Mr. Widney resigned, Mayor Cryer has been bombarded with applications for the job, which pays a salary of $300 a month. Private Secretary Kinney yesterday conferred with Mr. McConnell and Mr. Friedlander, for both of whom the Mayor has high regard, to ascertain if either of them would withdraw but both left their hats in the ring and said that the decision was up to the Mayor, and whatever suited him would suit them.

Asst. City Prosecutor McConnell has a large number of friends who have urged to the Mayor that Mr. McConnell is next in line for the appointment and should receive the place.

BOOSTING EXPOSITION

Participation by California in Oregon Exhibit Sought

A representative of Julius L. Meier, prominent business man of Portland Or., is in Los Angeles in the interest of the great Portland celebration of 1925. He is seeking to obtain the participation of Southern California business interests in the Atlantic-Pacific highways electrical exposition, one of the biggest things planned on the Pacific Coast.

Mr. Meier is now in Europe interesting foreign countries in the exposition. The city of Portland will presently vote on a bond issue of $2,000,000 and the merchants of that city and throughout Oregon will subscribe liberally toward the exposition fund.

ATTORNEY TO BEGIN NEW DUTIES TODAY

A. D. Orme, appointed as a Deputy District Attorney by Dist.-Atty. Woolwine for an emergency, today will begin his duties in the justice court, it was stated yesterday. Mr. Orme was formerly a first lieutenant in the Twenty-seventh Infantry and was stationed at Habarovsk, Siberia, returning to Los Angeles to the practice of law in 1919.
